

Did you ever receive a registered letter and fail—or forget—to open it?

If so, you are probably one of the people who never read the want ads.

In olden times, people—hopeful of improved fortunes—would say: "Wait until my ship comes in."

Your ship may be in to-day. Look for it among the want advertisements.