- Decrease in World's Supply.

CHICAGO, June 30.—Uneasiness

wer continued complaints of too much neisture in the spring crop belt rallied the wheat market today, after prices had fallen to the lowest level this seasen. The close was steady at the same at last night to a shade advance. Corn finished 5-80 to %c off to 1-16c up;

ots down 1-8c to 1/2c and 1/2c, and provisions varying from 10c *lecline

Opinions were widely circulated that

Opinions were widely circulated that the only thing saving the spring wheat crop from serious damage was the fact that the atmosphere northwest remained cloudy and cool.

Would Be Alarming.

It was said that if hot weather came before the surplus water in the fields ran off the consequences would be alarming. There were reports that great stretches of the country were in semi-submerged condition. A specific instance named was the district from Fergus Falls, Minn., to Argusville, a distance of fully 100 miles.

Bearish feeling, which at first ruled the pit, started with the receipt of lower cables, and was intensified by the slackness of export demand and by hedging sales, against the new winter crop. A big decrease in the world's available supply aide'l the subsequent reaction.

world's available supply aide'l the subsequent reaction.

Corn Market Depressed.

Rain southwest had a depressing influence on corn values. Later, however, the market recovered somewhat, having been affected by renewed attention to drought and damage south of the Ohio River and elsewhere.

Oats sagged on account of liberal offerings from first harsis. Lively cash demand failed as an offset, and so also did rust in Nebraska and excessive rain in northwest.

Buying on the part of investors and packers gave the provision market a net advance for most deliveries, notwithstanding a good deal of selling early. Strength in hog prices, together with reports of improved cash enquiry afforded a basis on which to purchase. LONDON, June 30.—Commenting in its financial columns on the bellef expressed in some quarters that the third preference stock of the Grand Trunk Raliway will go dividendless this year. The Dally News says that this belief is based on the monthly revenue statements, and the knowledge that charges would be heavier. There is nothing inspiring, comments The Daily News, about the position as disclosed by the statements, and it is a question as to whether the revenue statements are of value as an index to the real position of the company. The Northern Ohio Traction earnings for May show a gross increase of $43,045, a net increase of $18,938. The surplus after charges shows an increase of $13,-487.
For the five months to May, inclusive, the gross increase is $188,200, the net increase $88,194, and the surplus after charges shows an increase of $62,869.

CURRENT COUPONS CANNOT BE PAID LONDON, June 20.—The Southern Alberta land debenture holders met Sir William Plender, who has taken official charge, and who told them that he was hopeful of obtaining assistance from the Canadian Government, provided debenture holders agreed to the borrowing of 277,000 to preserve the works and continue the contracts.

In the course of the discussion it was stated that the company had lent 221,000 to the Chaplin-Grenfell Company, whose suspension made it impossible to get the withdrawal of a penny of that amount. Sir William Plender stated that there was no possibility whatever of the WITHDRAWS FROM FIRM. Announcement is made by Brent, Noxon and Co., that William C. Noxon has withdrawn from the firm, Donald I. McLeod and Harold Brent are new members of the firm, forming a new partnership. Business will be conducted under the same name.
