THIRTIETH HOLDS THE GOWAN

March Through Streets Leaves Fine Impression-Gen. Otter Visits-

The "Cook's Parade."

Yesterday was a busy day for the infantry regiments at the camp. At an early hour in the morning the Twenty-Thirtieth, Thirty-Second and in doing this." the Thirty-Third regiments, with their brass and bugle hands, marched through the city streets, and thence to the cove service ranges, where they spent the day competing for the Layrn and the Gowan cups. The universal opinion of the men and officers is that more beneficial results from the andpoint of instruction and practice. ere gained at yesterday's competition than at any other event during the amp. Not only were the scores thich were made good, but the marchng and form throughout the long parboth to and from the ranges were sceedingly good. Many citizens who itnessed the parade had their eyes ned and now think a great l more of the country regiments an they did before.

The Layborn Cup. At the ranges the first event was the mpetition for the Layborn cup, under following rules: Each regiment will had been approved by the majority of down at 400 yards, one space inrval, and receive the command Ready" from the commanding onicer, from the commanding officer, appearing, "Commence" will be the order and firing continued while tarets are in sight.
