of the latter's aggressive policy in rate matters against the Canadian and American lines, and its attempted in-roads. The public fears a general boycott of the Canadian Pacific. misery in Ireland was a scandal to the government. Mr. Dillon added that the distress was aggravated by evictions of the starving, and he called upon the government for immediate, comprehensive proposals for the relief of the sufferers. After Messrs. Plunkett, Redmond and Healy had spoken, Mr. Gerald Balfour chief secretary for Ireland, denied that the government had been slow to recognize the distress in Ireland. He fully acknowledged the situation was grave, and called for exceptional measures, and defended the relief measures adopted.

ZOLA'S MOCK TRIAL. Paris, Jan. 10.-In spite of the special precautions taken to prevent them, there was a repetition of the scenes previously witnessed, when the trial of M. Emile Zola and M. Perreux, was continued in the assize court of the Seine. When General Boisdeffre was called he refused emphatically to testify, under the plea of professional and state secrecy.

M. Delagorgue, the presiding judge, consented that Madame Dreyfus should be allowed to testify, on the condition that her evidence was restricted to the Esterhazy case. Over 200 barristers, in their robes gathered at the public entrance and indulged in horse play. When the presiding judge ordered them not to obstruct the passage, the barristers made a demonstration against the judge. Thereupon the commandant of the Republican Guards sent a detachment of troops to quell the disturbance. The intervention of the military was ill received and led to a violent affray. The barristers rushed upon the guards and struck them. One of the young lawyers was arrested, but after quiet was restored he was no longer de-Gen. Gonse refused to testify, Salisbury Condemns the Old-Time Tory Jingo Policy.

Considers That France, Has Peen Unfair to Britain.

London, Feb. 10 .- Lord Salisbury, in his speech in the House of Lords, said the Earl of Kimberley, in his speech, had repeatedly warned the government against the dangers of excessive acquisitions. Lord Salisbury declared he heartily concurred with the noble earl, and added: "I believe there is danger in our public opinion of a reaction to the doctrine of 30 or 40 years ago, when it was thought that it was our duty to fight everybody and take every-thing. I think that a very dangerous doctrine, not merely because we would thereby excite other nations against us and the reputation we now enjoy in Europe is not by any means pleasant or advantageous—but because there is a much more serious danger of overtaxing our strength. It is courage and wisdom to exert that strength to its attainable limit, but madness and ruin to pass it. It is of extreme importance that we do not allow party feelings to prevent the discovering and following of the narrow lines that separate undue concession and undue terror from the rashness which more than once in history has been the ruin of

FRANCE ACTED UNFAIRLY.

Lord Salisbury admitted that France had got the better of England as report and got the better of England as report an of further dragging the question, and tectorate to annexation, and with the latter the British treaties fell. Lord Salisbury repudiated responsibility for this condition of affairs, declaring that if there was any responsibility it belonged to the Gladstone government for allowing the French to invade Madagascar. Lord Salisbury added: "The real truth is we have ground for discontent with the treatment we have received at the hands of the French government. We have protested against it very strongly. We conceive that the adverse tariff now being inflicted upon us is one which the French government, according to ordinary rules of international comity, is not entitled to enforce. I do not know whether the Earl of Kimberley blames me for not having gone a step further. I do not think he does, but I do not conceal in MADAME DREYFUS' TESTIMONY. the least my impression of the manner in which the French government has set aside its clear pleages as purpose of the expedition to Mada-

CHINA MUST PAY.

Japan Wants the War Indemnity Paid Up-Loan Negotiations Fall Through.

London, Feb. 10.-The Pekin corresextension of the time for payment of the Chinese indemnity. "Though no official statement has been issued, the negotiations of a loan from British sources are regarded as having failed.

"M. Dubail, the French charge d'affaires, has formulated some reasonable demands upon the Tsung Li Yamen. Among other things he insists upon the payment of indemnity to the family of a Frenchman kidnapped in Tonquin, as alleged by the Chinese, by brigands, and subsequently liberated. Eight days have been given for a favorable reply, in default thereof a French action in the country will become necessary. The reply must necessarily be unfavorable, and the Chinese are helplessly awaiting According to a special dispatch from Paris the Chinese government has agreed to pay an indemnity of £4,000 to M. Lyaudet, the Frenchman kidnapped in 1895. Pekin, Feb. 10.—The idea of a loan on either British or Russian guarantee has been definitely abandoned. The failure of the British negotiations with such favorable terms seems due to diplomatic bungling, and it is the opinion here that diplomacy is urgently needed. Russia refuses to declare her intentions regarding Port Arthur. If the Russian occupation is to be permanent, Great Britain ought to occupy Talien Wan or some other northern port, Chusan being too far south, or to withdraw altogether from competition with Russia.

Will the Dominion General Elec tion Day Become a Public Holiday?

Friction in the Conservative Ranks Causes Sir Charles Tupper to Offer His Resignation.

Ottawa, Feb. 10.—There were two reasons why the house adjourned at six o'clock this afternoon; the first, that the premier might preside at and the members might attend Mr. Ogilvie's lecture on the Klondike at the Russell Theater, and the second, because Sir Richard Cartwright had invited the Liberal old guard to dinner. In the three-hour sitting that took place public legislation of importance was initiated by private members and some progress was made with the debate on the address.

Mr. Davin, who is more remarkable for the frequency and length of his speeches than for anything else in parliament, except it be now and then a burst of eloquence or a flash of wit, consumed all the time available for the debate in a general criticism of the government, but saying nothing new. Mr. Leduc, the Liberal member for Nicolet, who carried his county by about 300 majority, was introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Bernier and took his seat. Mr. McMullen brought in a bill to appoint civil service supervisors.

Mr. Britton brought in a bill to amend the criminal code. Among other things it provides that section 748, allowing the minister of justice to grant a new trial in criminal cases be

Dr. Reid brought in a bill to appoint a railway commission. Mr. Taylor brought in a bill to deal with alien labor. Mr. Penny (Liberal member for Montreal) introduced a bill making the federal election day a public holiday. Sir Charles Tupper asked that in the Yukon Railway agreement a clause be provided prohibiting the transfer of the railway to a foreign company, in order to insure the preservation of its character as an all-Canadian route. The premier promised to consider the suggestion. NOTES.

There is much friction in the Conservative ranks. At the caucus, Sir Charles Tupper offered to get out if that were asked for by his followers. In the senate yesterday, Senator Boulton maintained that the only all-Canadian route to the Klondike was the Edmonton route. Sir Richard Cartwright gave a dinner last night to the old guard of the Ontario Liberals. Among those invited were Messrs. McMullen, McMillan,

Somerville, Charlton, Cameron, Lister, Casey, Britton, Hurley, Landerkin, Mc-Gregor, Beith and Semple. Major Cartwright is here to take up his duties as assistant adjutant-Representatives of the Standard Oil Company have been purchasing box lumber very heavily, and ten cars a day are going forward, despite the heavy duty against Canadian lumber in the States. For some time a balloon intended for Klondike voyaging has been in course of construction in Ottawa. It is almost completed, and will be given a trial at an early date.
