Year-end sales lead all other occasions, and Saturday will be the climax. These sales encompass opportunities for our patrons to put their wardrobe and household expenditures to the best use in months. The great holiday bombardment has left stocks shattered, which odds and ends must be cleared to make way for the oceans of white goods waiting for the great January sale. Many sale lots will be found in too small quantities to advertise—the smaller the lot the smaller the price, and the very thing that may interest you most may not be in the advertised list. Make an early start Saturday.
