BIG THINGS AT WASHINGTON.

National politics are almost as interesting in the United States as in Great Britain; the people are having a turn at last and "the old gang" in the Republican party is now not only discredited, but likely to be forced to retire. Let us state a few incidents: President Taft finds his standing in the country considerably discredited by reason of his connection with the party machine. For instance, Speaker Cannon and "canonism," another term for car rule of the house of representatives by one man, are both doomed. Cannon can never be Speaker again, and if he doesn't now declare that he has no intention of seeking another term, there are quite a number of Republican representatives who have soon to go back for re-election, who say they will surely be defeated if they have to stand for Cannon. These men are called "insurgents." The senate has its body of "insurgents" against the corporation champion, Senator Aldrich.

President Taft also suffered by reason of the dismissal of the chief forester, Mr. Pinchot; not that the president could do otherwise than dismiss Mr. Pinchot under the circumstances; but it happens that Mr. Pinchot was one of the most devoted men in the public service, and he enjoys (and even more so since his removal) the confidence of the entire people. As for his antagonist, Secretary Ballinger, who remains in office, The Chicago Record-Herald says that he ought to retire in the interest of his party and await the investigation that is to be ordered.

Through no direct fault of his own the president is associated with Cannon, with Ballinger, with Aldrich, and these three men are more or less in touch (Aldrich very much in touch) with the trusts, the corporations, and the national-resources-grabbers, to remove or regulate which Mr. Taft has a number of policies. In the meantime these big issues raised by Mr. Taft have to take a second place while internal disputes in the Republican party keep the stage. Some of the New York papers think that the corporations have arranged for these minor issues in order that the greater ones may be neglected.

It looks at this moment as if the Republican party might be on the eve of going to pieces. Certainly the west and centre of the Union, and it is here where the strength of the Republican party lies, is very much disaffected. It is a long while now since there has been such a rebellion against party tyranny as is now shown by the insurgents both in the senate and in the house of representatives. Large however, as is the body of insurgents in congress, they are nothing in comparison with the feeling of dissent or insurgency that prevails in the country.

And over all looms up the shadow of Colonel Roosevelt coming back to office at the next presidential election. Concurrent with this suddenly threatened disruption of the Republican party is the rebellion of the millions of consumers in the United States against the increased cost of all the necessities of life, so that a widespread reduction in the standard of living awaits all the wage-earners and their dependents throughout the republic.

Another marked concurrence is the concentration of the control of the railways, the banks, insurance companies, trust companies, trusts, financial interests, electric and gas corporations, etc., etc., in the hands of a few enormously wealthy men of the Morgan-Rockefeller stamp.

The greatest social uprising ever known to this continent seems to be at hand. And the same set of facts, not so prominent, however, are coming into view in Canada.

WANTED A POLITICAL EVANGELIST. The World does not know how much truth there may be in the report of the retirement of Mr. MacKay from the leadership of the opposition in the Ontario Legislature. But we know this; there is room in the legislature and in the province for a man who will go out and call together again the Liberals with a new note of devotion to public welfare and to progressive measures. Such a man cannot afford to take salary from anyone, least of all from "the rich friends" of the party. He must go into the fight with his own scrip and staff, or without either, to be textual. He must go into every constituency and preach the doctrine of public rights as against corporate arrogance. He must study the great municipal problems that are up here and have been up in other states. He must know something of the new movement for the conservation of natural resources. The Liberals have much need for such a man. Mr. J. A. Macdonald might be that man if he had the self-

MAN'S HEART SHIFTED

TORONTO, Ont.—Frank Thomas, 23 Hillboro-street, came to St. Michael's Hospital, suffering with severe pains in the region of the heart. Upon examination, the physicians found that his heart had moved from its normal place on the left side, to the right side next to the lung. The physicians said that the heart was forced out of position by the pressure of gas formed by acute indigestion. You see, indigestion is not a "little thing" to be lightly dismissed. It is not only annoying, unpleasant and painful, but it may become exceedingly dangerous. "Fruit-a-lives," the wonderful fruit juice tablets, absolutely cures indigestion and dyspepsia. "Fruit-a-lives" acts directly on the stomach, increases the stomach muscles, insures sound digestion, and by regulating bowels and kidneys, keeps the stomach sweet and clean. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c.—at dealers or from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

denying spirit and the zeal that meant self-sacrifice. Perhaps he had just according to Mr. Macdonald, however, these men are only to be seen in England at the present time. For instance what a power one such man would be rising in his place in the Ontario Legislature to demand a remedy for the street railway grievances that now sour the lives of the 350,000 people of Toronto. How he could stimulate late into action the Ten Men, referred to in another column of this page.

THE TEN MEN. Toronto has a street railway grievance of no ordinary kind. Never were a people worse treated by a company in control of a great public service. Recall some of the incidents of street-car travel in this city yesterday. And yet the cure of these conditions is in the legislature of Ontario. Toronto has ten men in that legislature: Hon. J. J. Foy, attorney-general, custodian in chief of the municipal law of the province. Hon. Dr. Pyne. Hon. Thomas Crawford, speaker. W. K. McNaught, of the hydro-electric commission. Thomas Whiteside. George Goodierman. W. D. McPherson. John Shaw (ex-mayor of Toronto). Dr. Godfrey of West York. Alex. McCowan of East York. These two last mentioned are the representatives in the house of all representatives in clear round the recent annexes, clear round the city. Their constituents street railway sufferers from present, overcrowded conditions; lack of cars, overcrowded cars, double fares, loss of time by slow service.

These ten men know what the conditions are, they are all in office to serve their constituents, they can by their energy and devotion remedy the grievance that prevails, easily persuade the legislature to cure these street railway evils. Sir James Whiteside will listen, must listen to them. Why are they silent? They do not need to wait for the city council to act. They are the ten men that must act. The city council may be chloroformed.

Did they not take office from the people for the very purpose of serving them? Be men, you Ten Men. Any one of you can introduce a bill for the better regulation of street railways. Why do you hesitate?

START THE TUBES, MR. SPENCE. Who is the alderman or controller that is actually going to take up the cause of the citizens of Toronto in connection with the street railway service? Where is Controller Spence? What does he propose? Where are Aldermen Anderson and Baird? Both lawyers are representing West Toronto, where the people are suffering untold discomforts for lack of service. Where are the aldermen who represent the east end, where the people have to pay two fares? Where are the aldermen that represent upper Yonge-street and Deer Park? Somebody must make a move. The public have a pretty good idea that there is some influence at the city hall sufficiently powerful to chloroform a movement for better service unless there is strong leadership of some particular alderman or controller. The street railway is certainly most anxious to head off any legislation at the forthcoming session in Queen's Park. What does The Globe newspaper propose; has it any reasonable suggestion; and where is The Telegram and its suggestions?

Can anybody tell us of a better scheme for the immediate relief than that of tubes, and if that is so why not begin the construction of them immediately? In eighteen months or less, we could have a tube up to North Toronto and when one is got it would not take long to get the others in; and as for the financing of this proposition that is the easiest matter. There are men who will build the tubes and take all the risk until the service is turned over to the city. What alderman, or controller then has the courage to come out and lead in the movement?

Dr. Gulick Seriously Ill. Mr. Mackie, secretary of the Canadian Club, has received word that Dr. Gulick, of New York, who was expected to address the club on Monday next, is seriously ill. The subject of playgrounds will, however, be discussed by Chief Inspector Hughes and C. A. B. Brown.

Before Falconbridge, C.J. Plaintiff, H. H. Hays, for plaintiff, moved for judgment, on motion by way of speaking to minutes of consent judgment. A. H. F. Leroy, K.C., for defendant. The statement of claim says plaintiff was compelled to leave said lands and the goods, stock and implements thereon. The minutes of consent judgment say that plaintiff is to "release all claims on farm and chattels upon new agreement being executed." No exception was made in favor of plaintiff as to the chattels now claimed by him, and his present contention cannot prevail. He should be glad, however, to be advised later on that this son has allowed his father to take some of this wretched household stuff, all of which the father takes as purchased before the son came to live with him and some of it before the son was born.

On same date the bank took possession of the 29 cases of matches then in the warehouse. They also proceeded to realize on the book debts, the they have not realized on the matches.
