The president and board of governors of the American Club were the hosts last night of a very enjoyable musicale and Cinderella dance in their spacious club in Wellington street, where the beautifully lighted rooms were filled with the most lovely pictures, the walls draped with the Union Jack and the American flag between the marble pilars, with tall palms and scarlet and white tulips in every available place. A buffet supper was served in the large dining-room upstairs at small tables, all the club servants being in white, scarlet and white tulips and palms decorating the tables. Those contribuiting to the program were: Miss Harris, Miss Smith, Miss Johnston, Miss Mackay, Mr. Elder, and a large orchestra. All the men from the Exhibition camp were in khakl, and the nurses in the bright blue uniforms, with brass buttons, made a very striking and unusual effect, mixed with the conventional evening dress of the other guests. Those receiving were the president and Mrs.

Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Connaught, attended by her lady mwaiting, Miss Dorothy York, Lord Richard Nevill and Captain P. Legh, A.D.C., was present in the ballroom of the Chateau Laurier on the occasion of the meeting of the Queen Mary's Needlework Guild, when several dainty little garments made by Her Majesty were on view. Lady Williams-Taylor, president of the guild, presided and interesting reports were read. H. R. H., gave a short address highly commending the various works being done by Canadian women. She spoke in the highest terms of the Empire, etc., but considered the time inopportune at present to commence any new work in Ottawa, as the existing societies aiready covered the ground.

Mrs. Arnoid Ivey gave a very smart tea Tuesday afternoon for Miss Evelyn Taylor, who was looking very pretty in sand-colored rajah, trimmed with turquoise blue, and a French hat of tan and violet with pink roses, and a corsage bouquet of violets and pink roses, given her by the hostess, who was wearing a handsome gown of black satin and jet with midnight blue and diamond ornaments. Mrs. Charles Lowndes was in charge of the tea table, Miss Margaret Ivey and two of her young friends assisting. The table covered with a beautiful lace cloth, was centred with a silver high-heeled slipper, 22 inches long, filled with exquisite sweet peas in shades of pink, mauve and white, surrounded with silver vases of lilles. Mrs. Ivey only invited Miss Taylor's friends and some of the April brides.

H OUSEKEEPING is the biggest business in the world. To it, directly or indirectly, all other businesses are tributary, subsidiary. Surely such a business (and all the more so because it is almost purely consumptive) should be efficiently conducted-conducted according to the scientific principal employed in lesser businesses, such as, for instance, the modern factory. There has probably been far more waste of energy and time in home management

With the object of graphically and concretely answering that question, the co-operation of the various leading women's clubs, associations and leagues has been enlisted as has also the co-operation of the departments of household science and of architec-ture of the university, and of the de-partments of public health of the partments of public health of the pro-partments of public health of the pro-vincial and municipal governments, and of numerous other organizations interested in the promotion of the art and science of good housekeeping.

The interesting and illuminating suggestions and contributions are being collated and arranged in correlated exhibits for the Ideal Home Show which will be held in the Arena Gardens from the 12th to the 17th of April. What is the ideal home, and of what does it consist? The best that the art and science of the Dominion has to suggest by way of an answer will be shown at the Ideal Home Show. There practically every point of every phase of good housekeeping will be graphically depicted.

One of the most interesting of the "efficiency" exhibit on display will

The other will be a revelation in that it will show how nearly the "ideal" can be approximated with a modest outlay.

Some idea of the comprehensiveness of the Ideal Home Show is suggested by the following divisions of the exhibits: (1) Construction and sanitation; (2) Furnishing and decoration; (3) Heating and lighting; (4) Hygiene and cleaning; (5) Music and recreation; (6) Food and cookery; (7) The garden.

at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To half a pin f water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound, and ½ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieves itching and scalp humors and is excelent for dandruff and falling hair."

THE FIELD OF ART

BY IRENE B. WRENSHALL. N A despatch to The Times it is stated that in the now deserted studio of the German sculptor, Eenzel, in the Boulevard Argo, Paris, the official receiver has made an extraordinary find, this being no fewer than thirty-eight busts of the kaiser. Benzil is the sculptor who two years ago questioned the right of the salon jury to refuse the kaiser's bust in view of the tension in Franco-German relations.

It is believed here that the thirtyeight busts were intended to take the place of the busts of the republic in the markets, public buildings, Hotel de Ville, etc., when the kaiser should make his triumphal entry into Paris.
