LATE LOCALS

DIDA, the mysterious, mystifying creation of a woman out of nothing.

A pair of spectacles, found on King street, may be had at the central police station.

William Young's space on page seven contains something of interest to shoe buyers, using size 2, 3 or 3. Just read it.

Rev. J. McDermott, of Sussex, will hold his annual picnic this year on the 14th inst. at Millstream. A large crowd always goes from the city each year to attend it and no doubt this picnic will be no exception.

Policeman Ira D. Perry has reported Thomas Brady, Daniel Conroy, John O'gan and Wm. Fairweather, for fighting together on the corner of Germain and Britain streets, at five o'clock Saturday evening.

August is the month when the ambitious housekeeper may purchase furniture at big price reductions. Chas. S. Everett is holding his annual sale and judging from prices on the large tags some big bargains can be had.

The St. John Business College received yesterday two applications for entrance into the bookkeeping course, for which Messrs. Kerr have some difficulty in making suitable recommendations. One is from Nova Scotia, the other from Montana. This is a good opportunity for old graduates.

A portion of the ceiling in the rear committee room of the city building, fell yesterday afternoon. Janitor Coughlin had just left the room when the crash came, so his escape from injury is looked upon as being very fortunate. The room will be closed while repairs are being made.

John Waller, Jr., ex-Chief of Police of Truro, has been appointed to the vacancy on the I. C. R. police staff and will be in charge at Truro station. He began his duties on Monday morning. For a number of years he was chief of Truro's police and gave first-class satisfaction.

C. W. Spencer, general manager of Macdonald & Mann's western lines states that the last spike in the Halifax & South Western will be driven about the 20th of this month, and that a regular service will be established between Halifax and Westmouth not later than the first of November.

Few women dramatists have scored lasting success, but Lottie Blair Parker's two big successes, "Way Down East," which has been seen here on several occasions, and "Under Southern Skies," which is underlined for an early presentation in our city have placed her in the front rank of American playwrights.

The Elane arrived this morning at 10:30 o'clock and with her the largest freight of the season. A particularly large supply of green goods came down the river this morning and potatoes and berries were very plentiful. The former have now dropped to 75 cents per bushel.

A moonlight excursion was held on the river last night, but owing to the fog, the Victoria, which carried the excursionists, had to dock at Kingville. Some of those who returned to Indianstown until this morning, started to journey homeward on foot. About 11:30, however, she arrived in the city.

The funeral of the late Edward Mulholland took place this morning from his late residence, 229 Princess street, and was very largely attended. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. F. J. Lockery. Relatives of the deceased acted as pallbearers, and interment took place in the new Catholic cemetery.

Manager Gorbell of the Seaman's Mission received a letter enquiring about the whereabouts of one Daniel Savage. The letter was from Mrs. Savage, who had not received word from her son since February last when he was ill at the hospital. Mr. Gorbell ascertained that Savage is working out of the city and noted his mother to that effect. As soon as he locates him Mr. Gorbell will inform Savage about his mother's anxiety.

A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Kingston, Kings Co., when Edna Louisa, only daughter of Joseph E. Ewing, was united in marriage to William Sheldrake, of Wickham, Queens Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. S. Wainwright. Only the immediate relatives were present, owing to the recent death of the bride's sister. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. The happy couple left via I. C. R. for St. John, where they will take the Crystal Stream for their future home at Wickham.

NEW OFFICERS

The Northwestern Land and Investment Company have removed their offices in the Canada Life Building to larger and more commodious quarters in the same building.

The new offices are situated on the fourth floor, numbers 41 and 42. The extra room acquired will give the company greater facilities for handling their rapidly growing business in connection with Western Canada real estate.

Mr. R. D. Lewis, the local manager, stated to the Times that local and provincial people have been ready purchasers of Saskatchewan and Winnipeg building lots, his only regret was that these properties would probably be withdrawn from sale shortly, owing to the big demand for railway and manufacturing sites. Mr. Lewis mentioned that he would be pleased to meet intending investors or any parties interested in western property at the office of the company, Canada Life Building, as there is an exhibition probably the best collection of maps, charts, and surveys' plans to be found in any real estate office east of Winnipeg.

TUG ADMIRAL ON THE ROCKS

Was Taken Off but is Full of Water at her Wharf.

The tug Admiral, owned by Parker Glasier, of D. D. Glasier & Son, went on the rocks below Deep Cove this morning. About six o'clock the fog was very dense, when Capt. Knox, of the Admiral, was towing a raft of logs past Cushing's mill. The tug was proceeding very slowly, as the captain and mate realized the danger they were in if they went rapidly. The logs close to the shore, and being deceived by the current, the bow of the tug struck the rocks and in fifteen minutes the tug had filled.

As soon as the accident occurred, the captain headed the boat for her wharf, but she filled so rapidly that when half way across the river the boats had to be resorted to. The whistle was blown, and the tug Captain responded and went over to her wharf, where she is now lying.

Ceats, covers, wood, etc., floated from the tug into the river and the boat settled below the surface. The stern of her, however, remained afloat, but the bow is well down.

Parker Glasier is at Fredericton and Fred Myles, agent of the firm of D. D. Glasier & Son, procured the services of the firm of Robert Roberts, who sent up three scores to assist in raising the Admiral from her predicament. A fourth score was also procured.

It is expected that the tug will be taken down through the falls tomorrow morning, and that inside of a week she will be made ready for the river.

At noon she was lying almost submerged at her wharf and the crews were at work endeavoring to get the water out of her.

WILL TALK WITH MR. EMMERSON

About the Granite Pavement Wanted on the Mill Street Mud Hole.

This afternoon Hon. Mr. Emerson will meet the mayor, Ald. McColtrick and others to talk over the improvement which the city has asked for. In connection with the I. C. R. property at Mill street.

The memorial recently sent to Mr. Emerson sets forth that on the north side of the street, where freight cars are unloaded the ground is soft and muddy from the traffic of heavy teams, and that the mud and dirt are carried by the wheels of the vehicles onto the street and sidewalks, making it very objectionable. The same state of affairs exists at the Paradise Row entrance to the freight sheds.

The city asks that the railway be made to pay for the improvement of the street, and that the freight cars be unloaded from the east side of Mill street, and that the ground be drained by catch basins.

They ask also that two extra electric lights be placed on the street, and that a preventive against accidents.

Hon. Mr. Emerson, who was asked by a Times man about these matters, said that they were being considered by the department, but at present he could not say what would be done. He had intended, he said, to have met the committee this morning, but considerable of his time had been taken up by a driver to the Legislature, and the matter would have to be left until this afternoon.

IN THE ABOY OF JUSTICE

Five weary-looking subjects of King Alcohol gave an account of their misdeeds at this morning's session of the police court, and to each was meted out the reward of justice.

Horace Milliken was charged with being drunk on St. John street, and wanted to say that he "wasn't drunk." His case slipped, and the policeman "van him in." He was hustled to catch the boat, and his game he played him false. He had been drinking nothing, he said, and could not afford to drink. He could not recollect having been seen on the ground on several previous occasions. He informed the court that he was living at Bay Shore and was allowed to go.

Chas. McInnes was fined $4 or ten days.

John Magee was fined $8 or two months for drunkenness.

It was all up with the big Swede when Chas. O'burg was run in last night by Policeman Ross. He had made too free with the cup of joy but was still able to do a sprint and take refuge in the tall weeds in the midst of which his shifty pate was discovered by the wary official.

He told the officer he was going on the harvest excursion and in spite of warning had come to grief. O'burg had to have an interpreter in court and through him it was learned he had money for his ticket, but not much more. He was liberated on condition that he go west tonight.

On learning the decision of the court O'burg's face was all smiles, and with an elaborate bow to his honor, he said: "Thank ya," and walked out of the court amid the laughter of the spectators.

EXCURSION OF THE HARVESTERS

The annual harvesters' excursions of the C. P. R. will commence tonight, and it is estimated that about 3,000 stalwart boys will leave this evening for the golden west, there to assist in harvesting the immense wheat crops.

Seventy colonists cars will be utilized by the C. P. R. for carrying the farm laborers, and private detectives will accompany each train to preserve order. There will be five trains in all.

The first train is expected to get away between 6:30 and 7:30 this evening, and will take the men from St. John and vicinity and those which arrive on the D. A. R. steamer this afternoon.

A special train, consisting of ten colonist cars, will leave Point du Chene about 8 o'clock on the arrival of the steamer from P. E. Island. It is expected that about 600 men will go from the island.

Two trains will carry the Nova Scotia contingent, and one will leave Cape Breton in the early morning.

They will all pass through St. John during the night or tomorrow.
