HEALTH REPORT MUCH BETTER

Decided Decrease in Contagious and Notifiable Diseases in Saint John

Tuberculosis Monthly Shows Large Decline—Reports Made to Health Board

Deaths from contagious diseases in the city and county of Saint John for the year ending Oct. 31, 1925, were 43 as compared with 130 in the previous year, cases of notifiable diseases reported to the sub-district board were 389 this year as compared with 773 in the previous year.

These very gratifying reductions were reported at the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon when John Kelly, chairman, presided and Charles A. Emerson, the newly appointed member, took his seat for the first time.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

T. M. Burns, secretary, submitted the annual report on notifiable diseases. The report showed that in the previous year there were 117 diphtheria cases with 12 deaths, this year 34 cases and no deaths; last year 130 cases of scarlet fever with 4 deaths, this year 31 cases and two deaths; last year 37 typhoid cases and one death, this year 28 cases and no deaths; last year 258 cases of measles with 13 deaths, this year 55 cases of measles and no deaths; last year 35 cases of chickenpox and this year 10 cases; last year 16 cases of whooping cough reported and 10 deaths, and this year nine cases and three deaths; last year 35 cases of mumps reported and this year 17 cases; last year one case of infantile paralysis and one death and this year none; last year 140 cases of tuberculosis and 56 deaths; this year 123 cases and 37 deaths; last year one case of cerebrospinal meningitis and no deaths; this year one case and one death; last year three cases of encephalitis and this year none.

With reference to whooping cough and mumps it was pointed out that these are not quarantine diseases and the great majority are not reported.

In regard to the tuberculosis cases the fact that there was so little falling off in the number was due to more searching work in looking out contacts. The drop in tuberculosis deaths from 86 to 37, a cut of more than 50 per cent, was held to be a tribute to intensive work.

LICENSE CANCELLED.

The board cancelled the license of one milk vendor found selling raw milk. Department reports submitted were very satisfactory.

Dr. T. Fred Johnston, dairy and food inspector, reported inspecting slaughterhouses, city market, milk trains and milk pasteurization plants as well as the premises of 33 milk producers in Kings county and taking 434 sediment tests of milk. He had had 27 of the eight quart cans of milk dumped as unfit for consumption and had shut off shipments from two producers.

V. O. N. REPORT.

The V. O. N. child welfare report showed 485 home visits had been made and 824 babies supervised while the attendance at clinics was 242 and 185 children in kindergartens were inspected.

The report of tuberculosis work submitted by Miss Alice P. Hegan showed 868 cases had been registered during the month, of which 18 were new and nine were former cases readmitted. During the month 88 were discharged, 10 had left the city and 21 were non-

LEAK IN SHIP IS PLUGGED BY COAL

Improvised Patch Keeps Vessel Afloat After Seas Crash Ribs

LONDON, Nov. 3.—How a ship "cracked" in heavy Atlantic seas and was kept afloat until port was reached by the ingenuity of the master and crew, is being told in Grimsby.

During heavy weather in the North Atlantic the Grimsby trawler Deansyde commenced to leak. Examination showed that the ribs of the vessel's port side had fractured.

The steel plates in the hull were bending and cracking under every blow of the seas, threatening to collapse and bring instant destruction upon the vessel and crew.

All hands set to work to chop up deckboards, and with these the weakened plates were shored up. Coal was then conveyed to the bunkers and packed between the bulkhead and ship's side, being hammered until it was a solid mass.

This improvised patch of coal checked the rush of water, and with the pumps working at full pressure the vessel was prevented from foundering and reached port in a sinking condition.

tubercular and one had died. At the ten clinics held 74 cases attended and 15 were X-rayed and 16 fluoroscopes were taken. The nurses made 455 home visits. Free milk was given two patients and free medicines given nine patients.

UNSATISFACTORY, SHE SAYS.

Mrs. M. Furlong Coleman, food inspector, reported having made 410 visits and issued three milk permits. She drew attention to the unsatisfactory conditions as regards refrigerators in some of the restaurants of the city.

After 12 years' suffering with constipation, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought lasting relief

This woman feels ten years younger. No more headaches or medicine.

Think what it means to be everlastingly free from the dull, throbbing headaches, sallow skin and perpetual tiredness which are constipation's toll. But let Mrs. Bevis tell you her inspiring story:

Words can't express my gratitude for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. For 12 years I suffered with constipation, always taking medicine, had dull headaches and never felt well. For the past 13 months I've eaten ALL-BRAN and haven't taken a drop of medicine. I've gained 10 weight, my health is so improved I feel 10 years younger.

(Signed) Mrs. F. S. Bevis. Address on request.

CAMOUFLAGED AUTO TO HUNT BIG GAME

Wealthy Indian Prince Buys Car at Cost of $35,000

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A camouflaged automobile designed especially for tiger and big game hunting, and costing $35,000 has just been delivered in London to the Maharajah of Patiala.

"The Magnificent Maharajah," as he has been called since he swept into London some weeks ago and startled all England with the barbaric splendor of his appearance and his expenditures, will use the machine for tiger hunting in his Indian state.

Among the items of special equipment for the car are a searchlight for pursuing game at night; gun rests on the side of the car so designed that the guns can be brought into instant use and an exhaust "whistle" to frighten off tigers from springing on the car from behind from an overhanging branch. The body has been camouflaged for effective concealment in jungle hiding places.

Tiger hunting from an automobile, according to the Maharajah, is one of the most exciting sports in the world.

Burglar Enraged As Court Says Prison

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Henry Battaglia, 19, alias Ballow, became incensed when Judge Rosalsky sentenced him to from two years and six months to five years in Sing Sing on an old burglary charge. Battaglia was acquitted by a jury before Judge Rosalsky last week on a robbery charge in the drive to decrease crimes of violence.

Battaglia was hopeful that the acquittal would not impair his parole on his plea of guilty to the charge in 1923, but his face flushed with anger when the Court indicated that he would have to serve the prison term.

"You have had your chance to reform," Judge Rosalsky said, "but you didn't profit by it. I snatched you from the prison doors in 1923. I gave you a chance, but now you must go to Sing Sing."

"You didn't give me a chance," broke in Battaglia. "You gave me the dirtiest deal I ever got."

The DOOR to the FUTURE

TO-DAY there are prophets—more than at any time in the world's history.

They are found in big business institutions, for big institutions are built on the faith and vision of far-seeing men. While other men around them work in 1925, these business prophets work, by habit of thought and training, in the future—five, ten, yes, twenty or twenty-five years ahead of the times.

They are the men who are planning new applications of science and industry: perfecting new processes, new products, new appliances—not for today, but for the time when public service will demand them.

In the research department of the Northern Electric Company there is a door through which the men of this engineering organization are always trying to peer.

It is the door to the Future Electrical Age.

Our products of today are the result of their efforts in peering through that door. Products which will appear on the market perhaps tomorrow, perhaps five or ten years hence—these have already crossed the vision of the prophets who peered through that magic door and saw the needs of this and future generations.
