

THREE-DAY CARD IS PROPOSED BY EXECUTIVE

burgh on New Year's Day. Whether Gorman and Thunberg will compete there is a matter to be decided. In all probability, they will along with several promising junior skaters, including Willie Logan, winner of the Maritime and Provincial meets last winter, and young Ed Snodgrass, who cleaned up the policemen's meet, and others. Both these youngsters will compete in senior events in this year are looking forward to a successful season.

DATES SET.

It was decided by the committee that the dates for the championships would be on Jan. 19, 20 and 21, and D. J. Corr reported that all matters with the bringing of Clas Thunberg, of Finland, champion amateur speed skater of the world, to Saint John would be completed with the Finnish consul at Montreal on Friday.

While Saint John has successfully conducted national and international amateur championships during the past few years, it is well realized by members of the association that the coming meet is the greatest in the history of the North American continent and a greater amount of work must be accomplished than in previous ones.

Saint John is looked on favorably by the International Skating Union of America as a wonderful city to handle large skating meets because of the wonderful manner in which every previous undertaking had been carried out, and officials of the union from Canada and the United States who had occasion to visit this city and act as officials at other meets were outspoken in their highest praise on the manner that every detail was carried out.

Another feature that must not be overlooked is that a world's title meet will bring to Saint John, the fastest amateur skaters in America and Canada, all anxious to remove the championship crown from Thunberg. They will arrive here trained to the minute and each and every one will do his best so that he will not only be proclaimed by the city or club he represents but his country as world's champion.

In addition to the world's champion meet, it was stated at the executive meeting yesterday that the Finn would also participate in indoor races which on this side of the Atlantic.

It was further decided that a committee will be immediately formed to look over the different sites in the city and report later their opinion which would be the best to obtain for the big meet. There will also be other committees appointed to look after different sections, viz., construction of grandstands, handling of tickets at said stands, programs and selling of tape, providing that the site requires the same, publicity committee, racing committee to organize program of events, entertainment, one for looking after local skaters, financial and transportation. These committees will have a chairman, a member of the executive and nine others will be selected on each committee. The names of chairmen and those on each committee will be announced at an early date by President A. P. Peterson, as they were not formed yesterday.

Harold Ellis was appointed chairman of a committee to obtain more members to the association.

New York Elks' Club Padlocked

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Elks' Club of New York has accepted a "padlock" for six months, closing the situation which had grown out of proceedings instituted by United States Attorney Buckner under the prohibition laws.

For the next half year the grill-room and bar of the club will be locked and sealed.

On October 26, "dry" agents seized nine kegs of alleged beer, after arresting the driver of a wagon from which they charged the beer had been unloaded near the club.

RICKARD SELECTS FIGHT CONTENDERS

Famous Promoter Picks Outstanding Opponents in All The Divisions

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Champions in every title division are given three contenders from whom to pick an opponent for a title fight under Tex Rickard's direction.

The veteran promoter, making public this list of logical contenders today, expects it to furnish a basis for championship fights in most of the divisions, in the ring of the new Madison Square Garden. But in at least two instances, the heavyweight and middleweight ranks, financial considerations involved are such as to preclude the likelihood of any title competition indoors. The money demands of both Jack Dempsey and Harry Greb, champions in these two classes, must recede before they can be considered for anything but bouts in the larger outdoor arenas.

In naming the leading rivals of Dempsey, regardless of the prospect of bringing the champion to indoor or outdoor terms, Rickard lists Harry Wills and Gene Tunney, as the foremost United States contenders, and selects Paulino Uscudun, Spanish heavyweight champion, for the third entry. In the light heavyweight class, now ruled by Paul Benvenuti, Rickard has named Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., as the ranking contender, with Mike McTigue and Young Stribling as second and third choice. Rickard also names Dave Shide the unique distinction of ranking as foremost contender in both the middleweight class, against Greb, and the welterweight division, against Mickey Walker. Frank Moody and Jimmy Slattery are selected as Greb's outstanding foes, while Walker's other main rivals are considered to be Tommy Milligan, European champion, and Benny Leonard, retired lightweight king.

In the lightweight division, in which Jimmy Goodrich is king, Rickard has named Sammy Mandell, Sid Terris and Luis Vientini as contenders. For the feather champion Louis Kid Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., who meets his outstanding challenger, Babe Herman, here December 19, Rickard has named Johnny Dundee and Danny Kramer as other outstanding rivals.

OLD SQUAW DROWNS

Woman Described as "Between 90 and 100 Years Old" Was Trapper

QUEBEC, Nov. 18.—The tragedy of an aged Indian woman, who hunted and trapped alone, and of her perishing beneath six inches of ice during a violent snowstorm last week, was revealed at an inquest conducted by acting Coroner Vallee, upon the remains of Mme. Louis Clement, who was found drowned last Thursday at Lake Kiasissing, 23 miles from Lake Edward.

According to two Indians named Bolly and Dubois, they saw a canoe turn over on the ice, but, as a violent snowstorm was raging and the craft appeared to be empty, they went to the spot the following day only, when they discovered the aged woman under the canoe.

In the boat they found two mink skins and several other furs. As there appeared to have been no robbery, a verdict of death by drowning was returned, with her age being recorded as "between 90 and 100 years."

U. S. Sent Samples Of New Element

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Two little pinches of white powder, sealed in tiny glass flasks, brought to the bureau of standards and to American science a message whose purport only time and patient research can disclose. They were samples of the newly discovered element, hassium, the gift of Dr. Neils Bohr of Denmark. Scientists long have suspected that such a substance existed, but not until recently was a way found to extract it from other elements.

Hassium is believed to be more plentiful than tin in the earth's crust. The uses to which it can be put are yet to be discovered.

"The Coast of Folly" is the finest of all the stories by Coningsby Dawson, author of "The Kingdom Round the Corner." Pram Parade Gives Garbage Men Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Twenty-five babies in battalion front in their carriages, aided by 25 mothers, fought a battle on the Elbert estate, near North Beach, in Long Island City, with half a dozen ash and garbage truck drivers of the Department of Street Cleaning.

Their protests to the department against dumping garbage there having failed, the women lined up their baby carriages, containing lusty babies, across the main entrance to the estate.

They were arguing with the drivers of the trucks when their husbands, not brilliant enough to appreciate the success of the strategy, started throwing mud. The drivers threw back garbage and there was a sharp battle in which the general staff of babies and wives did not participate, after the manner of general staffs.

Finally the drivers drove away, only to find a side entrance and obtain their objective. Later William Stevenson,

'THE ARK RESTORED' SUBJECT OF THEME

"The Ark Restored" was the theme of the address given by Evangelist John H. Wells in the Coburg street Christian church last night. The Ark of the Covenant, he said, was where God promised to meet men and was the prototype of the church, representing divine authority. It had been said this was an age of religious Bolshevism, and the people thought that it did not matter what they believed as long as they did what was right. The Evangelist held that it was necessary to have authority in religion.

He spoke of the Ark as the seat of God's power, and said today too many people were afraid to trust God. Tonight Mr. Wells' subject will be "Easter-tide."
