On Irish Stew

Irish Stew.

Put in a stewpan twelve peeled potatoes, sliced the thickness of a penny, four lines of butter, salt and pepper to taste.

Mrs. Edwards comes from Ireland—what she doesn't know about Irish stew is worth knowing at all. You can make Irish Stew as well as Mrs. Edwards does, if you follow the simple recipe above.

EDWARDS' SOUPS

But you MUST boil them for half-an-hour—worth it. Edwards' Soup is good as a soup by itself, it is good as a strengthening of other soups, good as a thickener of gravies, good for babies, good for invalids and good for the aged.

THE COLORED WIG

New York Snap at The Latest Fad

THE DEMAND SPREADING

They Cost All the Way From $15 to $100—London Society Women Wearing Them at Country House Parties

(New York Herald) Soon after the news of its appearance in London had been flashed by cable under the sea, the colored wig was accepted by New York Men and women of society and the stage have taken advantage of the bizarre opportunities which it offers, and wig makers and designers of coiffures are busy preparing to meet the demand for brilliant head coverings which promise to be a feature of entertainments during the remainder of the season.

An order for a colored wig for a fancy dress ball Washington, has been given to William Hepper, wigmaker, of this city, and he has between twenty-five and thirty similar orders from men and women of society in New York.

Mrs. Herbert C. Harriman and Alfred C. Bossam appeared at the Society of Beaux Arts Architects in the Hotel on Friday night wearing wigs of a vivid carmine, and everybody admitted that the effect was highly decorative.

Mr. Bossam believes the majority of men will embrace the new departure, and at last to get away from the sombre tones that society has hitherto decreed they must wear.

"Men are at last to have an opportunity to wear colors," he said. "They never had the opportunity before. I was discussing this thing today with Dr. Witt Lockman, who is a member of the National Portrait Association and he agreed with me that the colored wig would achieve great favor. Many men with whom I have talked have expressed a desire to wear wigs of various colors, if only enough other men will take up the style. The result of this discussion, I think, will be apparent when the next few costume dances are given.

The colored wigs must be selected and worn with an eye to the coloring, profile and costume of the wearer. Mr. Hepper says. Unless they blend perfectly or make a pleasing contrast the effect is likely to be so inconspicuous as to be ridiculous.

"The color of the wig and costume must merge or else the effect will be startling and pronounced," he said. "The wigs never will be popular in the daytime, because the effect is under the soft glow of lights, is almost hidden. While I am receiving numerous orders from customers all over the country, I do not believe the fashion will be forced to a quick death, because the wigs are too expensive to be discarded from $15 to $100, with the latter figure probably the first colored wig to appear in the streets of New York was worn on Saturday morning by a woman who is at the Claridge Hotel, and she struck with a red wig which she examined at the Hotel, and she insisted on wearing it to the hotel, several blocks away. Crowds in Broadway halted and stared, and certain red heads save a small group of urchins who hurried on the wig wearer with shouts of laughter.

Miss DeWolfe Approves Miss Elsie De Wolfe yesterday said she highly approved of the fashion and that its artist possibilities were great.

"The fashion is most becoming for costume parties," she said, "but I do not think that it will ever be popular for general wear. American women are too conservative to wear vividly hued hair in the street. Abroad the fashion is not so new, although it has only recently seemed to meet popular favor. Colored wigs were worn at the dinner given by Mrs. George Keppler last week and she was wearing a red wig which she donned accurately a week ago for the introduction of her daughter to society. A group of widely known women agreed to wear hair of various hues. Within twenty-four hours orders for colored wigs had been placed with New York wigmakers.

Desirable Hair Scarce Only with a full wig can the effect desired be obtained by hair dealers. The "transformation" or interlaced braids of hair, results in a discordance, and pow-tain hair is ruinous to it. To obtain hair of the quality necessary to make a soft, silky wig is the biggest difficulty since the wearing of false hair of ordinary shades went out of fashion some time ago.

Just who was the organizer of the new style it is hard to say, but Paul Point, of Paris, some time ago suggested and demonstrated the charming effect to be attained by wearing hair to match the costume or the style and contour of the wearer's face.

In theatrical circles the fashion has been adopted eagerly, and the press agent has welcomed the idea like a breeze. That is the reason why two actresses yesterday donned colored wigs and appeared at two of the leading hotels to the wonderment of the populace inside and out.

Miss Lipe wore purple hair to match her gown, while Miss Marlowe wore a green wig. They they Broadway after Broadway had a chance to see them and went in a taxi to the Ritz-Carlton at the tea hour to call on Miss Mary Garden. Miss Garden was "out" so after tea they went to the McAlpine Hotel and

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-Time Recipe That Anybody Can Apply To Use Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyn's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.—Agent Watson's Stores.

London, Feb. 27.—The "colored wig" of Mrs. George Keppler is still being talked of. Some of the details of the affair have already been cabled. It may be added that only a few of the men wore wigs. These were all white except in the case of Lord Alington, who boldly wore pink. The dinner was a fancy dress affair, which gave an excuse for experimenting with wigs, but the majority of the women were not in fancy dress, but simply in the very latest fashions.

Mrs. George Keppler's wig was of the new hue "Vasco Ross," which is pink tinged with lilac. She wore a dress with white lace paniers and a head-dress of lilac rose and black feather. Lady Penrhyn wore a green-blue wig, a color favored by the possessors of blue eyes. Reports from Paris say that some women have ventured out in the daytime with the new wig, but it is felt here that artificial lights are essential.

The general verdict after Mrs. Keppler's function was that the wigs were highly successful. They were not as fantastic as some that have been seen on the stage recently, but if they are properly selected they show up a good deal of a finely modeled face and the natural hair cannot do, and if a sufficient number of women agree to wear them on ordinary evening occasions so as to remove the reproach of deliberate affectation, the mode will be seen extensively.

Vasco, who introduced the wig mode in the first place, the first original wig in September among smart Parisiennes at Deauville. He continues: "The style is developing here rapidly. Society women for weeks past have been wearing wig at the country house parties in the London house parties. The wigs are very expensive and must cost at least twenty guineas ($100). Good hair can be used to get a good effect. The popular shades at the moment are three shades of rose, blue, purple, mauve and certain shades of green, but green does not suit English women. The color of the eyes is important. Sage blue goes well with some and hazel eyes with others. Brown eyes stand purple or golden browns. The hair, which is usually dressed in waves and high, should be a whisker effect on either cheek, which was a fashion of the early nineteenth century. A few curls rest on the forehead. The rest of the coiffure is swathed to the good advantage to a slight at the back and only slightly waved."

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" Can't Harm Stomach, Liver and Bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When a child is fretful, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "Fruit Laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

Daily Hints For the Cook

Cranberry Turnovers

Make a rich pie crust, roll out thin, cut in squares or rounds, put about 10 cranberries, 2 teaspoons sugar and a small piece of butter on each, then turn over and press edges together, and gather all at top, and press together. These are deliciously juicy.

Cheese Croquettes

Three tablespoons butter, 1-4 cup flour, 2-8 cup milk, yolks of 2 eggs, 1 cup mild cheese cut in very small cubes, 1-2 cup grated cheese, salt and pepper, few grains cayenne. Make a thick white sauce, using butter, flour and milk; add yolks of eggs without first heating, and stir well mixed; then add grated cheese. As soon as cheese melts remove from fire, fold in cheese cubes and season with salt, pepper and cayenne. Spread in a shallow pan and turn on a board, cut in small squares or strips, dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs again. Fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Serve for a cheese course.

DISCARDED NECKLACE FOUND WORTH $300

Holyoke, Feb. 27.—A necklace which Mrs. Wasij Burko recently found in the rag room of a paper mill here has been found to contain diamonds worth $300. Mrs. Burko, who was offered fifteen cents for the necklace by a forewoman, wore it a few days, but then discarded it in favor of a chain and locket costing $2.00. She gave the necklace to her husband, who made a tour of the stores here to see what he could get for it, when the police heard of the incident and verified the story of its discovery. There is no clew to the identity of the former owner.

THE SECRET OF GOOD DIGESTION

In perfect health, with regular and healthful action of the liver and kidneys, you need not know there is such a thing as digestion or indigestion. Unfortunately, however, modern life is artificial, and not many people avoid suffering more or less from troubles of this nature.

The great secret lies in keeping the liver and kidneys in health and vigor, for then the food is passed quickly along the alimentary canal, the nutritive portion being assimilated in the blood stream and the poisoned waste materials are passed out of the body. When the liver and kidneys get wrong you will obtain relief most promptly and effectively by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. If chronic indigestion is to be cured it must be by eliminating the action of these filtering and excretory organs. To persons who have thought only of the stomach as being the offending organ, this is a new and strange, but any competent physician will tell you this is correct.

PROHIBIT TANGO AND SLIT SKIRTS OBJECT OF MARYLAND BILL

Baltimore, Feb. 27.—A bill prohibiting slit skirts, high-heeled shoes for women and dancing of the Tango, bunny hug, loop the loop or turkey trot, has been introduced in the Maryland legislature by Delegate Francis Snowden.

Violation of any of the provisions of the proposed bill will carry with it a fine of $5 for the first offence and $25 or imprisonment, or both for the second. Some of the provisions are: "Whereas, it is very dangerous and bad for the health of women and children to wear shoes with high heels and, "Whereas, hobble and slit skirts are unbecoming to the modesty of the public and,

"Whereas such dances as the bunny hug, turkey trot, tango and loop the loop are undignified and make against the morals of both men and women and against the peace, dignity and laws of this state.

THE SUBURBAN POET.

The latest exploit of Mr. Gatluis is to arouse poetic fervor along the line. Hence these scalding lines, which floated in the Times office yesterday from a way station this side of Hampton:

The other day in St. John Gatluis came to see The reason why suburbanites in schedule can't agree. It's plain to see, roared gentlemen, Why we should balk and kick That suburban train from Hampton Certainly makes us sick.

We come to work in St. John But we live quite far away, And we can't go home to dinner In the middle of the day. But we find if we want supper In a reasonable time, We'll have to catch the Sussex, Or we'll have to spend some dime.

Now they must be scarce of engines, For it fills me full of pain, To go rolling into St. John On the rear of a freight train. A friend got me on Rathesay, He came to me and said, Where is the "Con," and I replied In the cattle car ahead.

I see by St. John newspapers That the fast freight comes so late They've changed the name regretfully To the slow suburban freight. Our train rolls into St. John Just two hours behind the time And the foreman asked his workmen Where was the washout on the line.

Now all my friends, suburbanites, Bring lots of shoes in stock For if you over run your time You sure will have to walk. This thing has happened lately To twice or more of us: The one on whom we place the blame Is our friend Gatluis.

THE SKIN TROUBLES OF CHILDHOOD

Changing and skin irritation, whether from changing temperature, rough winds, strong soap or the action of the clothing, naturally develop into eczema, spread over the body and defy ordinary treatments.

Most doctors do not give much attention to skin diseases, and, consequently, it is necessary for parents to select some treatment which has proven a cure for such ailments. If records of cures count for anything, then you can turn to Dr. Chase's Ointment with fullest assurance that in this you will have the means of controlling itching skin diseases.

By affording prompt relief from the terrible itching, Dr. Chase's Ointment puts an end to suffering, and removes the cause of scratching. As the fresh eczema die away the ointment sets up the process of healing, and brings about thorough and lasting cure. As a treatment for the skin troubles of children nothing has ever proven so satisfactory as Dr. Chase's Ointment.
