FOOD SITUATION IN GERMANY SERIOUS

Hamburg, Dec. 8.—Dr. Siegfried Hecker, former Radical member of the Reichstag, and who in 1920, was mentioned as a possibility for the ambassadorship to the United States, writing in the Hamburgischer Correspondenzblatt declares the food shortage in Germany is becoming grave.

Dr. Hecker suggests the possibility of enlisting the aid of the United States. He cites the relief given the Belgians, Chinese and Russians, and pays tribute to the organizing genius of Herbert Hoover and the sympathy and humanity of the American people.

Dr. Hecker declares that millions of Germans nightly go to bed hungry, and that suicide and tuberculosis are increasing.

TO HAVE BY ELECTION IN CALGARY ON JAN. 15

Edmonton, Dec. 8.—The Calgary by-election to fill the seat left vacant by the death of R. C. Edwards, will be held on Jan. 15 with nomination on Jan. 8.

Robert Parsons was struck by an automobile in Prince Edward street yesterday, but escaped with slight injury. Medical aid was given by Dr. J. R. Nugent.

Nearly one-third of France's population owns real estate.

WHITE ELK IS TO SAIL FROM PORTLAND, ME.

Portland, Maine, Dec. 8.—Chief White Elk, Indian treasurer and head of the tribes of British Columbia, has arrived here on his way to England to present to King George the grievances of the redman of the Pacific coast of Canada. He will sail from this port on Saturday.

AN ORIGINAL ONE.

New York, Dec. 8.—An original explanation of how they happened to possess 200 cases of liquor was given revenue officers by three Brooklyn men who had been rescued off Sandy Hook by life guards from a leaky fishing smack. The prisoners are Captain Olaf Johnson of First street, Francis Freeman of Fifth street, and N. Peterson of 254 Third street.

"Three days ago," said Captain Johnson, "we were fishing in my boat the Watauga. We ran into a storm, but were able to begin fishing about thirty miles off Barnegat. Not long after we came upon a water-logged launch loaded with whiskey.

"The men handling her had no hope of getting her ashore unless they jettisoned the whiskey cargo. We agreed to take the 200 cases aboard to save the lives of the men in the launch, who made for shore. That's all we know about it."

They were kept under arrest.

(Kingston Whig.)
Toronto Globe says we do not want any men in this country who hide their faces. Looks like a wallop at farmers and others who grow whiskers.

It was announced at a meeting yesterday of the board of governors of the Home for Incurables that a generous donation had been received from Miss Mabel Barbour. J. S. Gregory was in the chair and the report of the secretary-treasurer, F. M. Mansell, was very gratifying. Great satisfaction was expressed over the work of the superintendent, Mrs. Meyer, for her efficient management and care of the sufferers.
