ADVERTISING .- A friend remarked the Seamen's Clothing and Outfits,

Appertising.—A friend remarked the other day to us, that "a business that is not worth advertising is not worth doing."

There is much truth in the remark, but a truth that does not seem to be appreciated by most of our business men. Many men think to cease advertising is economy, and that it reduces expenses; that if they have that it reduces expenses; that if they have the little, it is not worth advertising—if they do a great deal, there is no use of advertising. Is advertising less useful than insuring?—is it less than a sign board?—is it less essential than a good business stand? We think not. A man does not buy his goods to keep them on band. If he did, it might be well to in-Just Received by advertising, advertising is unnscessary.

Three Reasons for not going to Caugett.—A gentleman who had been a month bound in Hymen's silken fetters, after great trouble on his part to procure the fair lady's consent, found he had caught a "tarter." His wife being shocked with the discovery that he had never gone to a place of worship, since their marriage, expostulated with him for his conduct. "My dear," said he, "I have three sufficient reasons for not complying with your wishes.
