A GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Many Persons Believe That the Governor Should Have an Official Residence-Why They Think so.

ters tor the re-establishing of Government | joyable time. The first of the order to House. The St. John Globe and some reach here came from Eastern Nova Scotia other papers do not look with favor upon Tuesday morning and these were followed the movement and argue that the keeping up of such a residence is a useless and unnecessary expense. It may be said that in on the C. P. C. and were met at the many persons are of the same opinion as depot by the two St John encampments these journals, but as a matter of fact their argument will not stand much criticism.

If it is to be laid down as a principle that all unnecessary and public expenditures should be done away with, there might be something said in support of their contention, but it is ridiculous to allege that such a doctrine could be maintained under our present form of government. If it is maintained that the providing of the governor with a residence is unnecessary, the same argument may be advanced in regard to other matters of government expenditure. It may be said that the paying to the chief Executive a good fat salary is wrong. His office judged from the standpoint of its practical usefulness is very limited. Under the corstitution he may be said generally speaking to be a mere figurehead. The same can be said of other positions held under our form of government and yet there is not a true Canadian living who would support the doing away with these so called useless offices. To do away with them would be taking away the very found ation upon which our national construction

Those who support the theory that a government house is not needed, look at the question from a very small standpoint and not from a bread, national and patrio tic one. There is no better form of government to be found anywhere in the world, than that which exists in Canada today. It is not perfection, but it is as near perfection as has yet been reached. It has been well planned and each plank in its construction is required. The selection of governors for each of our Provinces is necessary, not on the ground of governor's practical utility, but on the ground that their positions are needful in the making up of the one great fabric.

A Governor's qualification for the high office outside of being able to write his name is the qualification of being capable of upholding the dignity of his office to entertain to be present at all great functions and in is a little difficult to see just where the general to be a worthy representative of Telegraph shines to any great extent. the Sovereign. These are the qualifications for which he is paid his handsome salary and it is his chief business to see that he carries out the duties appertaining sary adjuncts with which to fill his office with dignity and reflect credit on the people. One of these most necessary adjuicts, many think, is the maintenance of a government house. It a governor general of the person that will supply such infor or a son of the King should visit us, it should not be the case that we should have to go about seeking for private residences or hotels in which to house them, or require that a governor if he should happen to live at a place like Riverside should move his residence to St John or Fredericton.

Looked at in this light it cannot be said that the keeping up of a government house is a useless unnecessary expenditure. If it is then, the upholding of the dignity of the governor is useless and unnecessary, and if so then the sooner there is no governor the better, and if you are going to take away the governors then you do away with one of the bulwarks of our constitu-tion and taking away one the whole house

Convention. The Knight Templars had a most sucin the manner that it entertained its visitors.

A large, number of ladies accompanied the Hastings, Mrs. M. Powers.

An agitation has arisen in certain quar- | Knights to the city and all had a most enlater in the day by large delegations from the West. These latter came under Dr. Walker and F. A. Jones. The welcome extended was a grand one. As the train rolled into the station cheer after cheer filled the large building and everyone joined in the heartiest greetngs to the distinguished visitors. On Tuesday atternoon Mrs. J V Ellis gave a very pleasant at home to the wives of the Templars and in the evening the Knights were formally received at Masonic Temple. Here Senator Ellis, Dr. Walker, Mr. F A Jones, Mayor Daniel and others delivered appropriate addresses in welcoming the visitors. All spoke of the great pleasure it was to St. John to have such distinguished guests and hoped that all would depart with the most favorable impression of their visit Deputy Grand master Carley who replied spoke in a happy manner and cordially thanked the city tor its hospitality Mr. Carley said many good words about St. John and its people and his speech was well received.

The business sessions of the order were exceptionally well attended and the reports received were of the most encouraging nature. The knights left the city on Thursday and they could not express themselves strongly enough in praise of the hospitality extended to them on all sides. That every one thoroughly enjoyed himself and busiorders are to be congratulated on the successful manner in which all proceedings passed off.

AN INTERESTING ARTICLE.

A St. John Paper and Its Accusation Agains

An article in the St. John Telegraph this week occassioned some little sensation. This article in some very strong language accused Police Magistrate Ritchie of contributing matter to the Freeman, a Catholic weekly paper, and charges that the matter is hostile to the Pvovincial and Dominion Governments. The accusation might or might not be serious, but it

The Foresters Initiate a Number Of Ladies

It is the first court of its kind found by this order here and pertains to be a suc cessful one. The interesting proceedings in connection with its formation took place on Thursday evening at Foresters Hall, Charlotte street when Mr. Chapman, the High chief ranger of the order assisted by other efficers initiated some thirty four ladies into the secrets of Forestry.

The following officers were duly elected and installed by the H. C. R., assisted by the H. Mar: C. D., Mrs. E. R. Chapman; C. Physician, Dr. McLean; C. R., Dr. Clara Olding; P. C. People are still wondering what has of the Manson case. It appears strange that in a civilized country like Canada a young man should be kept in jail for such a length of time without an examination. THE CENSUS RETURNS.

St. John has Seventy-six Fewer People Than Halifax-What The Returns Show.

The Census returns have been published factory one. It cannot be said, however, that the minimum co reprise. People as a rule did no very much, but still they lived in hope that their conjectures might turn out wrongly. The falling off of the population in the maritime provinces is to be much regretted. It is no use of crying over spilt milk, but still one cannot help felling keenly the circumstances brought to light by the census returns. There is no finer country in the world than the country here by the sea. There is no land inhabited by a better class of people than those found in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island and yet if the census reg turns are to be believed, than is the evi dence that something is radically wrong than St. John and so this city has now to fall beneath the Nova Scotia capital. While Halifax and St. John both show an increase, the increase is not what it should be by any means. The country districts do not show anything like their natura gain but their falling off has not beenl to the advantage of the cities. There is little encouragement to be received from the whole statement.

The Maritime Provinces will have to lose a certain number of representatives in the Dominion House. This is lamentable as it is felt that we have now not any too many men on the floors of paliament. opulation is going west and to the young man the signs of the times still point to the Western

There is no doubt that the gold boom of the Klondike has sorely drained the East of some of the best blood, but it is sad to note that even the increase in the we stern parts of Canada has not been anything exceptional. The cities of Upper Canada, have done well and Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other places have shown ten years of prosperity. In a number of instances such as in the Yukon and the unorganized districts that department has made nn estimate as the returns have not yet been received.

The result is disappointing, and the only explanation is that the returns for 1891 were padded. Manitoba ought to increase its representation by three members and the Northwest, including the Yukon and British Columbia, ought to bring the representation up to about what it is now if not more, namely, 213 members in all.

The population of the city of Halifax is 40,787 and of St. John 40,711.

Charlottetown is 12,080. There is a decrease in every constituency in Prince Edward Island, and in every constituency of Nova Scotia outside of Cape Bretor, The maritime provinces will lose four members, one in Prince Edward Island, one in New Brunswick and two in Nova Scotia. Ontarion will likely lose five.

GIVEN A WATCH.

Mayor Daniel Presents Sergt. McLeod With

A very pleasing presentation took place Mayor Daniel presented Sergt. Geo. F. McLeod with a handsome watch. Sergt. McLeod served in South Airica and was with Gat Howard's scouts. The presentation was made during the concert given by the Carleton Cornet band.

The watch is inscribed 'Sergt. Geo. F. McLeod, E Battery and Canadian Scouts. South Africa, 1901-02, and was accompanied by a neat gold chain, both being the gift of the citizens of Carleton, who have treated the west side members of all the contingents in a practically similar manner Sergt. McLeod was present during the nemorable night at Faber's Putts when the artillery position was surprised and almost rushed by a Boer force. He was also with the scouts when Major Gat

Howard was killed. Sergt. McLeod acknowleged the gift a few modest words, after which Ald. Armstrongland Baxter made brief addresses and the band continued its excellant programme The band volunteered their service for the occasion and assisted very greatly in making it a success.

Has Done Well.

This year St. John has been called on quite a number of times to entertain visitors. That it has done its part well is evident from the very nice remarks one bears on all sides

The band concerts are very popular and the public appreciates the excellent music furnished. The bands are all playing exceptionally well this summer and the concerts given of a first class quality. St. John can feel proud of its fine bands.

A G Veits of the CPR, passenger department has resigned and will shortly enter upon his new duties as a governs official at Ottawa. Thursday evening Mr. Veits was presented by the clerks of the CPR office with a handsome gold locket suitably engraved.
