

TO KELLY

St. Martins Honors One Who Has Been Prominent Resident for Years—Flattering Address Accompanies Gift.

Saint Martins, N. B., Sept. 10.—This evening a number of friends of Mr. Michael Kelly met at his home and presented him with a beautiful leather suitcase and address.

There were about 20 prominent citizens present. Dr. Gillmor was appointed chairman and the following address was read by W. H. Moran, Esq.—

Dear Sir:—A few of your life-long friends, hearing with regret of your intended departure from your old home, wish to express appreciation of your work and to thank you for the many ways in which you have ever stood for the good of the community. You have always taken an active part in educational, political, temperance, agricultural and other work.

You remember with thankfulness your early efforts in educational work—the boys and girls arithmetic and spelling classes that you held for years, and your only remuneration being the consciousness of knowing you improved the intellectual standing of the children to whom you devoted your time exclusively to the betterment of the public schools here and elsewhere.

Your fame in mental arithmetic is more than local. It is known in many of the visiting political speakers were ever careful and guarded in their statements, and it was known that Mr. Kelly was in the audience.

You were early in temperance work—your efforts for this cause have been crowned with success. Your efforts here culminating in prohibition for your native town, as a compromise to the prohibition work of the temperance party have made you your chief executive, sending you to all parts of the province, and your work was so well accomplished in your native town.

In agricultural work your untiring efforts to do good again shows itself giving your time and energy to the promotion of the society established here.

In religious work you have been an active and consistent member of the Baptist church here. In fact, you taught us how to abstain from alcohol, showed us why we should be good and finally fed us straight on the subject of universal knowledge—acquired in spite of your affliction which afflicted in many other men has rendered them a tax on their friends or community. It is a matter of no matter how complicated the question asked we were always sure of a correct and cheerful answer.

We ask you to accept this suit-case as a slight token of our appreciation of your work. Its intrinsic value is of small account, but the good wishes that stand back of the gift are of great value.

On behalf of those present, H. E. GILLMORE, M. D., Chairman.

St. Martins, N. B., Sept. 10th, 1910. Dear Mr. Kelly:—The address was read by Mr. Kelly replied in his bright and usual eloquent manner, thanking the friends for the address and in recalling some old time reminiscences.

Speeches were made by the chairman A. F. Bentley, Esq., M. P. P. E., James Rourke, Esq., M. P. P. E., Jacob Titus, Councilor Black, George McDonough, John Howard, Wm. Smith, M. McDade and many others.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and after enjoying a good clear and cool evening, the party before bidding farewell and Goodnight to Mr. Kelly and family.

FOREIGN NEWS

Rome, Sept. 12.—A semi-official communication issued by an Italian news agency says that the Italian government has decided to send a delegation to the approaching marriage of the Duke of Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins are absolutely baseless.

Paris, Sept. 12.—A telegraphic message from Rome today describes the cholera situation at Naples as growing more serious. There were twelve new cases and eight deaths from the disease in that city yesterday.

Danzig, Prussia, Sept. 12.—It transpires that during the recent imperial manoeuvres, E. G. Claassen, a German American, was arrested on suspicion of being a spy. Claassen satisfied the authorities of his innocence and was released. The man came here from the United States to visit his old home and improved the opportunity to witness the operations. His many questions regarding the movements of the contestants excited the suspicion of the military authorities and though the visitor exhibited a letter of credit and gave first class references in eliciting the matter he said, he telephoned to that city for information but detained Claassen and summoned military police officials from Danzig. The latter examined the prisoner and soon reached the conclusion that he was a harmless observer.

Harbin, Manchuria, Sept. 12.—A band of brigands disguised as passengers held up a Russian steamer 20 miles out of this port today and after a desperate fight, overcame the crew and robbed the passengers. In attempting to defend their vessel the owners, two Russians, were killed and many of the Chinese crew were wounded, as were such of the eight Chinese passengers who offered resistance. When the pirates were in control of the situation they bound the passengers, the crew, a Russian sailor and two Russian women and took the valuables of their captives at their leisure. A boat load of hunters who happened to be in the vicinity gave the alarm and a Russian gunboat was sent in pursuit of the outlaws.

HAMMONDVILLE

Hammondville, Sept. 7.—Our school opened again last week with Miss Mahoney in charge. Harvesting is progressing slowly on account of the wet weather. Miss Anna Mills, who is studying nursing in Boston, is spending her vacation at her home. Her old friends and relatives are glad to see her once again.

Mrs. John J. Sherwood, who is teaching at Harbor Brook, observed Monday, Labor Day, by a delightful picnic and tea for her scholars at her home here. Mrs. Tabor, Miss McBride and Messrs. Tabor and Baxter of Harbor Brook were also present. Mrs. J. J. Faulkner, Mrs. W. P. Fowler and Miss Grace Sherwood of Hammond. All enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

THE DEMOCRATIC

Frederick W. Plaisted Only Democrat Governor of State With Exception of Father Elected On Fusion Ticket.

Insurgency ran rampant today, on national as well as state issues the Democrats giving the Republicans their first beating in 30 years and scoring a victory, the magnitude of which surpassed the most sanguine party followers. The advancement of Col. Frederick W. Plaisted, four times mayor of Augusta, to the governorship, was expected by few politicians, a change in the complexion of the congressional delegation was thought possible, but putting the legislature, which chose a new U. S. senator, in doubt, found the Democrats dazed with success and without a candidate to succeed Eugene Hale.

Insurgency ran rampant today, on national as well as state issues the Democrats giving the Republicans their first beating in 30 years and scoring a victory, the magnitude of which surpassed the most sanguine party followers. The advancement of Col. Frederick W. Plaisted, four times mayor of Augusta, to the governorship, was expected by few politicians, a change in the complexion of the congressional delegation was thought possible, but putting the legislature, which chose a new U. S. senator, in doubt, found the Democrats dazed with success and without a candidate to succeed Eugene Hale.

Col. Plaisted, the governor elect, is the son of Harry M. Plaisted, the Fusion governor of 1881 and '82, but where the father won in the election of 1880 by scotch 150 votes, the son today goes up to the capital with a plurality larger than that given two years ago by his defeated Republican opponent, Governor Bert Fernald of Poland. The victorious Democrat leader is a young man in point of age, but an old hand in the political game. Col. Plaisted was born in Bangor in 1864, but did not marry until two years ago. He has always been a Democrat and received his title while serving on the staff of his father. He ran for mayor of Augusta five times, and won four elections. While holding that office he was chosen sheriff of Kennebec Co., and occupied both positions with credit for two years. He is identified with a number of state organizations and is a past grand commander of the Knight Templars. His business is that of a publisher of a weekly paper.

Republicans Astounded. The Republican leaders as a rule were at a loss tonight to account for the victory of the Democrat. They thought it was perfect and they could offer no excuse on that line. The issues were well understood and most of the speakers had confined themselves to a general and scarcely mentioning national affairs.

Governor Fernald's administration was stoutly defended against Democratic criticism of extravagance and more dependence was placed upon the policy of seeing and hearing the candidate, while a few out of the state speakers including Congressman McKinley of California, came here to help. Some political observers, however, have been particularly deep. The so-called "Old Guard" had to stand a lot of party criticism, and even the leaders were out of harmony with a new element, which had begun to be heard, particularly in the western part of the state. It was hoped among the backers of the administration of Governor Fernald, that this unrest would subside and much dependence was placed upon the old time loyalty of the farming vote in the back counties. But insurgency was in the air. The rural voter had been absorbing ideas from the state as well as in it, and this was particularly manifest in the third district where Congressman Burleigh, with an 18 years record at Washington, found himself defeated by his old time opponent, Samuel W. Gow, of Skowhegan.

That the senior member of the Maine's congressional delegation should have been in danger of his political life after winning election after election, is a remarkable margin, and perhaps one of the most startling of the day's results. "I've been chasing Burleigh for thirty years," said Mr. Gow tonight, "and by George, it looks as if I had caught him."

FRINGES POPULAR

Fringes, cords and tassels are much in evidence of late and the variety of their forms and uses is infinite. On gowns, hats, neckwear and, in fact, on almost every article of feminine attire they are continually turning up. One hat of this kind, and are in the most surprising ways. Bead fringes for gowns may be among either the simplest or the most sumptuous of garnitures. Some are only about an inch in depth, and are made of beads of one size, shape and color, while others boast of hues much more numerous than those of the rainbow, beads of every imaginable form and material and a depth that is limited only by the wearer's ability to bear the weight.

Two novel uses of fringes have been noted in the fall millinery models. One is a writer in the New York Herald says that gray silk had the brim overlaid with three rows of heavy gray metallic fringe and a little to the royal blue had a fine narrow silver fringe inlaid and edged with a gold rosette of the same at one side.

All sorts of decorative motives have pendant fringes or tassels, as also have cash and scarf ends. Tassels and ornaments makes them fall into scarves and sashes for the woman who is a little stout, as they make it necessary to draw in the ends of these accessories and the weight of the ornaments makes them fall into the long straight lines that always help to produce an effect of slenderness. It never seems to occur to the designers in these days that a woman may object to having her garments weighted to almost any extent with beads. Not content with putting fringes of two distinct styles on beaded cord garnitures, they sometimes think it necessary to add a large and long bead tassels.

The cord girdle finished with little tassels, is interesting as an example of the extremes to which the modes run.

WOMEN AND PEACE

Copenhagen, Sept. 12.—Frau Clara Zetkin of Germany opened the second international socialist women's congress, which is being held here. Among the numerous items on the program was a number of proposals in connection with the night work done by women; the discussion was, however, postponed to another date. Frau Zetkin was elected president and Mme. Elizabeth Mac of Denmark vice-president of the congress. The congress was opened by a discussion of the socialist women's propaganda on behalf of the maintenance of peace, followed later by a consideration of the best methods to be employed for the purpose of attaining the general franchise for women.

Reunited After 25 Years. Mrs. M. F. Laughlan, of Wilminton, Conn., and Mrs. J. W. Snow, of Chelsea, Mass., are visiting their brother Wm. H. White, 10 Haymarket Square, and Edward White of Britain street. It has been twenty-five years since Mrs. Laughlan and her brother William have met and the reunion of the brothers and sisters is a happy one. The visitors will remain in the city on their visit for a few weeks longer before returning to their homes.

They have made several attractive additions to their act since they were in Halifax and as a result it is even more pleasing than on that occasion. One feature about the Dragons which entitles them to social recognition at the hands of St. John folk is that they are members of the regular Canadian army and if this country should be involved in trouble the same men who were seen yesterday in fancy movements illustrating what it is possible to do when men and horses are well trained would be among the first in the Dominion to go on active service.

As a straight attraction, however, the Dragons are well worth all the attention which can be given to them for it is certain that nothing like their performance of social recognition has been seen here before. There does not seem to be any necessity for a word of commendation. The most complicated evolutions are carried out without any apparent effort and the whole performance is so effective that the time they make their entrance on the field until they wave a farewell to the audience from the tips of their lances is a high class affair. They will give two performances every day in the afternoon and evening until Wednesday evening when they leave on their return to St. John's.

Fine Musical Program. The music yesterday was a feature which was enjoyed by all who attended the fair. The Boston Ladies' orchestra has won warm praise for its splendid work and their programmes yesterday were especially good. On the grounds the 62nd band and the Caledonia Pipers rendered programmes of music which were much appreciated.

With fine weather there should be a record attendance today. All the attractions will be carried out as usual and the Royal Canadian Dragons will give two of their feature performances.

The ladies orchestra will give two concerts and the programmes for them are as follows:— Afternoon Concert. Part I. Championship. . . . . Morse Waltz—Wedding and Winds. . . . . Hall Descriptive—Swanee River. . . . . Myddleton Selection—Carmen. . . . . Blisset American Patrol. . . . . Meacham

Part II. . . . . Flotow Characteristic—Down in Yucatan. . . . . Song of the Lark. . . . . Selected Selection—The Fortune Teller. . . . . Herbert Finale—American Patrol. . . . . Meacham

Tomorrow is Citizens' and Children's Day—the closing day of the Exhibition. It is the biggest and best fair yet, and is deserving of a real record-smashing crowd. The weather unfortunately has not been consistently propitious, but tomorrow's day will be observed as a half holiday by a large proportion of the citizens. Why not make it an object to take a survey of the best show ever held in Eastern Canada? President Skinner, his associates, and Manager Good anticipate with confidence that every man and woman, and lad and lass, from the greatest to the tiniest, will do his duty on this occasion and manifest his or her patriotism and pride by turning out.

Noted Horses at the Exhibition. Many horsemen who are visiting to the exhibition are perhaps unaware of the presence there of some thoroughbred stallions that have a continental reputation. In addition to Waterville, the splendid large thoroughbred imported by the government of New Brunswick from Kentucky and owned by Geo. W. Fowler, Esq., M. P. Sussex, N. B. and who is proving a noteworthy sire, there are three stallions owned by the Canadian bureau of breeding, Montreal, and placed for service in New Brunswick, that are worthy of note.

The most noted of the three is Old Logan—old only in years—he was foaled in 1858, yet he stands today as smooth and free from blemish or unsoundness as in his two year old form when he first went to the post. Between 1892 and 1897 Logan was the winner of over 100 races and during those years was the best known horse on the American turf and by his heroic deeds was one of the most popular horses that ever wore silk, and not to know Logan is not to know any of the best of racing in America from 1892 until 1897. During these years this good old horse raced for the late Alex Shields, who was made famous by Logan's prowess and since Mr. Shields' death his widow presented Logan to the Canadian national bureau as a contribution towards the improvement of the light horses of Canada. Logan was sent to New Brunswick by the bureau at the request of the N. B. dept. of agriculture, and has been stationed near St. Stephen. He can be seen at stall No. 90 at the exhibition and should be visited by all horse lovers. Although 22 years old and of small size, he took 2nd place only to Waterlight. B. and who is proving a noteworthy sire, there are three stallions owned by the Canadian bureau of breeding, Montreal, and placed for service in New Brunswick, that are worthy of note.

The most noted of the three is Old Logan—old only in years—he was foaled in 1858, yet he stands today as smooth and free from blemish or unsoundness as in his two year old form when he first went to the post. Between 1892 and 1897 Logan was the winner of over 100 races and during those years was the best known horse on the American turf and by his heroic deeds was one of the most popular horses that ever wore silk, and not to know Logan is not to know any of the best of racing in America from 1892 until 1897. During these years this good old horse raced for the late Alex Shields, who was made famous by Logan's prowess and since Mr. Shields' death his widow presented Logan to the Canadian national bureau as a contribution towards the improvement of the light horses of Canada. Logan was sent to New Brunswick by the bureau at the request of the N. B. dept. of agriculture, and has been stationed near St. Stephen. He can be seen at stall No. 90 at the exhibition and should be visited by all horse lovers. Although 22 years old and of small size, he took 2nd place only to Waterlight. Logan did not come by his ability and endurance by any chance for he is a son of the noted Voltiger, who was by Vandal, the

They have made several attractive additions to their act since they were in Halifax and as a result it is even more pleasing than on that occasion. One feature about the Dragons which entitles them to social recognition at the hands of St. John folk is that they are members of the regular Canadian army and if this country should be involved in trouble the same men who were seen yesterday in fancy movements illustrating what it is possible to do when men and horses are well trained would be among the first in the Dominion to go on active service.

As a straight attraction, however, the Dragons are well worth all the attention which can be given to them for it is certain that nothing like their performance of social recognition has been seen here before. There does not seem to be any necessity for a word of commendation. The most complicated evolutions are carried out without any apparent effort and the whole performance is so effective that the time they make their entrance on the field until they wave a farewell to the audience from the tips of their lances is a high class affair. They will give two performances every day in the afternoon and evening until Wednesday evening when they leave on their return to St. John's.

Fine Musical Program. The music yesterday was a feature which was enjoyed by all who attended the fair. The Boston Ladies' orchestra has won warm praise for its splendid work and their programmes yesterday were especially good. On the grounds the 62nd band and the Caledonia Pipers rendered programmes of music which were much appreciated.

With fine weather there should be a record attendance today. All the attractions will be carried out as usual and
