INTERESTING SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL YESTERDAY

Commissioners McLellan and Fisher in Spirited Little Exchange Regarding Employment of Fire Horses to Draw Watering Carts — Other Matters Discussed and Dealt With.

The session of the common council was short yesterday afternoon, but long enough for Commissioner McLellan of the safety department to tell Commissioner Fisher of the public works department that the latter had enough to do looking after public works without edging in on the safety and that he (McLellan) was quite capable of attending to all matters pertaining to the safety department. These remarks came about when Commissioner Fisher recommended that fire department horses be used to draw watering carts.

The comptroller was authorized to allow an overdraft to carry on the ferry service, and a few other matters were brought up.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor Hayes, Commissioners Fisher, McLellan and Russell.

Public Works.

The report from Commissioner Fisher of the department of public works was as follows:

Your commissioner begs leave to report that the public works department has not, up to this date, received this year any assistance from the public safety department in the watering of the streets, and that the discontinuing of the use of the fire horses in the street watering is imposing a considerable financial burden on the public works department and causing a loss to the city without, apparently, any gain in the efficiency of the fire department.

Further the change was ordered by the commissioner of safety without any recommendations from the chief of the department as required by section 15 of the fire law.

Your commissioner recommends that the commissioner of safety be asked to give the chief of the fire department a free hand in this matter and to report to the council the decision with regard to the street watering.

Wants More Money For Watering Streets.

In submitting the report Commissioner Fisher said that he thought that his department had been allowed a larger amount of money for the purpose of watering the streets, and he thought an investigation should be made, and that the commissioner of public safety should allow the chief of the fire department a free hand in this matter.

He had been informed by certain people that when the matter was referred to the notice of the commissioner of public safety the latter had remarked: "Let them wait a while."

Commissioner McLellan said as far as the fire department was concerned that he would look after it, and that the commissioner of public works had enough to do to look after his own department. As far as watering the streets is concerned, he said, the fire department had been very kind this year in supplying plenty of rain to dampen the streets, and there had not been much complaint heard regarding the dust. When the fire department horses had been drawing watering carts they could only go a short distance from their respective stations. The public works department was not in having some of their men there to assist the fire department drivers in filling the carts with water.

As far as an investigation was concerned, Commissioner McLellan said it sounded good to him, and the council could hold all the investigations it wished. As far as the fire department was concerned, the permanent men were not going to jump off the wagon every time a cart was to be filled with water. As for the expense of watering the streets this year, in- stead of an extra amount of money being expended for the same the ex- pense should be cut in two. So far this year it should be an easy job.
