THE COST OF FARM PRODUCTS.
(From the New York Mail.)
Along the entire Atlantic seaboard the farm laborer is hard to find. The scarcity of labor for the fields is acute and is pinching tighter every week. The vegetable harvest is here. No fault can be found with the laborer who demands $35 per month in place of the $25 he got four and five years ago.
But the demand for machinery that will save on manual labor seems to meet with almost no response. The factory mechanics are supposed to have averaged a saving of five hands, that is, in persons, out of six. By machinery probably one workman produces more than six produced twenty years ago. But in planting, weeding, hoeing, creating parasites, the mechanical economy is not over one-half. Taking into account the judgment by the human eye and touch, very little substitution of machinery for the "nurseryman" man himself has thus far seemed possible. Edible plants are as tender as human babies, in fact, more so. He who would raise them is rightly called a "nurseryman." The things we eat are the things of our human care iron seed to fruit. There is almost nothing automatic about the work. Melting heat will set off a fire alarm in a factory. But who will rig up an automatic alarm for potato diggers, squash ties, or apple lights? A watchful human eye and touch are needed to see the parasites. Possibly there will be invented a strawberry picker that is better than a smart country girl. But we doubt it. Possibly a mechanical weeder superior in a vegetable field to human fingers feeling around among tender plants. But not now.
We can tunnel a mountain, almost bridge the ocean by huge and fast ships, and fly the air. But we cannot be sure of a single crop—corn, wheat or vegetables. There are some few rules, but nothing like the engineer's logarithm, nothing like twice two are four. The man must watch, set, squel, kneel in the soil, and mix in that very soil. And more, and more, that costs.

LOCAL PYTHIANS DECORATE GRAVES

Annual Ceremony Yesterday a Most Impressive One

MANY FLOWERS

High Ideals of Pythianism Theme of Inspiring Address by Past Prelate

Moulson—The List of Departed Brethren.

The local lodges of the Knights of Pythians observed yesterday as their annual decoration day, and the service was a splendid one. In the morning, the graves of departed knights in Cedar Hill cemetery were visited and decorated by a committee composed of Knights F. A. Kinneer, J. Patchell, R. H. Irvine and M. Smith, and in the afternoon the members of the lodge, including the Past Prelate, and other Pythians, visiting the Church of England and Methodist burial grounds to perform a like duty on their way home.

Headed by the Artillery Band they started from their hall in Germain street at 2:30 o'clock and marched to St. Andrew's Rink where the flowers were arranged. Leaving the rink they passed by way of Charlottetown and Waterford streets and Westmorland Road. The order of the parade was:

Barouches with flowers
Subordinate lodges
Band
Uniform ranks, Victoria No. 1 and Signal No. 1

The graves of the departed members are as follows:
