For announcement, see page four of this issue.

(From Evening News, Butte, Montana)

From all walks of life, high and low, Mrs. Eddy recruited her followers. There was no appeal to any particular class, nor to any particular nationality, and in fact, the universality of America, the sect was in a class by itself. Few will advance the theory that Mrs. Eddy has not left the world better than she found it.

WILL DEMAND A BONUS.

Ontario Civil Servants Want Bonus Fixed That Higher Salaried Officials Get Not as Much.

The Ontario Civil Service Association are going to get after the Drury Government for a bonus again before Christmas. At their meeting in Toronto quite an interesting time developed.

The association want a bonus based on the same system as in the Federal service, namely that the higher salaried officials get a smaller bonus and the lower salaried officials a higher bonus.

It was pointed out that last year when the increase to the civil servants were made larger increases than the smaller salaried officials, and that, instead of paying those married men who are getting around $1,150 to $1,600 a year an increase that was noticeable they got but $50 or $100, while several of the deputy ministers and other officials who got larger salaries got anywhere from $300 to $800 increase.

The executive of the association suggested that the matter should be left in their hands, but apparently the bulk of the members of the association were not satisfied and decided that they would send a deputation to Premier Drury themselves to demand the bonus.

LOCAL OPTION BILL FOR BRITISH HOUSE.

For England and Wales.

London, Dec. 6.—The text of a local prohibition bill applying to England and Wales was made public today. The measure will be introduced in the Commons as a private bill, whose authors state that it has the backing of a small coterie of members.

The object of the bill is "to enable Parliamentary electors in prescribed areas by direct vote to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors and the common sale or supply of such liquors in the licensed premises, clubs or elsewhere."

By Petition.

The principal clause provides that during September 1923, and in the same period in subsequent years, one-tenth of the Parliamentary electors of any parish in a rural district or borough or ward thereof in any urban district, may address a written requisition to the borough urban, or district Council, demanding a poll of the electors on the question of the grant or issue of licenses to premises within the area for the sale, wholesale or retail, of intoxicating liquors.

When the poll is decided for prohibition or against it another poll may not be taken before the lapse of three years.

WAS ON VERGE OF GIVING UP

Lassard Gains Sixteen Pounds and Overcomes Troubles by Taking Tanlac.

"If any man had told me, I would have laughed at him," said John Lassard, who lives at the Richelieu Hotel, Edmonton, Alberta, to a Tanlac representative the other day. Mr. Lassard saw three years' service in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces and was in the thickest of many of the great battles. He is now a popular brakeman on the Canadian National Railway.

"Just ask any of the boys I work with, they'll tell you what Tanlac has done for me and what I think of it," he continued, "why, it has added sixteen pounds to my weight."

"I went through such a nerve strain while I was in France that when I got back over here I just went to pieces all at once. I lost my appetite almost entirely, and it seemed that everything I ate passed on my stomach and caused gas to form so bad that I would be in misery for hours after every meal. My nerves were in such an awful condition that it was next to impossible for me to get more than a few hours sleep at night, and if any kind of an unexpected noise happened, it made me jump like I was shot at. I was in such a run down condition that I couldn't half do my work. At last, I thought I had just about reached my limit and I had decided to give up my work altogether and take a long rest to try and build myself up."

"But before I quit one of the boys who heard I was going to leave, came to me and told me what Tanlac had done for him and kept on insisting so much that I agreed to try it. Well, sir, I would hardly believe it if any one told me that Tanlac had helped me as much as it has helped me, why, I'm not the same man at all. My nerves are so steady that I can stand any kind of a noise. I can sleep like a log and I never felt better in my whole life than I do right now. I eat anything I please without ever having a pain of any kind anywhere in my body, and that gas has quit forming. I have been built up in every way, am never troubled with anything in the least, and as I told you, I have gained sixteen pounds. I would publish this testimonial of mine so that other soldiers who may come back from France in a weak run down condition will know that Tanlac is the very thing they need to build them up and put them in fine shape."

Tanlac is sold in Kitchener by E. O. Ritz & Co. in Galt by R. W. McKelham, in Hespeler by Jno. R. Phil, in New Hamburg by J. H. Boultie, in Milbank by R. B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A. E. Richter & Co., in Preston by H. L. Frick, in Waterloo by A. B. Learn, in Doon by L. C. Bullock.

It was decided that E.H. Jupp will be eligible to play in Toronto, if he desires, under the rule applying to teachers.
