Popular Recipes.

THE HOTEL CLERK. A diamond pin, as nowy shirt, A boundless wealth of gall, A haughty air makes up the things That we hotel clerks call. THE PREACHER.

A taste for wild sensations, A cynic's power to rail, Make up a modern preacher who Is certain not to fail.

THE STATESMAN. From an ordinary citizen The heartand conscience take. Give him some boodle and a pull And you'll a statesman make.

THE POET.

THE POET. A goodly share of laziness. A vague, esthetic air Combine to make a poet if You throw in lots of hair.

WHEN SHALL HE RAISE HIS HAT

Read This and the Question Will Never Bother You Again.

1. When he bows to a lady or an elderly gentleman. 2. When he is with a lady who bows to any person, even if the other is a total stranger to him. 3. When he salutes a gentleman who is

When he salutes a gentleman who is in the company of ladies.
 When he is in the company of another gentleman who bows to a lady.
 When he is with a lady and meets a gentleman whom he knows.
 When he offers any civility to a lady who is a stranger to him.

6. When he offers any civility to a lady who is a stranger to him. 7. When he parts with a lady, after speaking to her, or after walking or driving with her, etc.—Young Ladies' Fashion Bazar. The argument turns upon section 3. Can

They Like Fat Girls in Tunis.

They Like Fat Girls in Tunis. A Tunisian girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scales at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is 15 years old. The takes aperients and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to 15 she is very handsome, but at 20 what an immense, unwieldly mass of fat she be-comes. She waddles, or undulates, along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. They are clothed in fine silk of resplendent hues of bright yellow or green, and wear a sort of conical-shaped head dress, from which de-pends a loose, white drapery. Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heels of which barely reach the middle of the foot, complete costume. —Pittsburg Dispatch. logical mind, discern a difference between hand and the products of labor, which makes the former a monopoly in the sense in which the latter are not ? Land becomes valuable by reason of scarcity and the increased demand for it. Can any man increase the supply of land, and thus ease the mon-opoly ? No, because land is a fixed quan-tity, the creation of God and not the pro-duct of human labor. Boots, or houses, or jackknives, or sheep may be scarce and therefore their value is increased, but by the act of man the supply can be argmented and the equilibrium between supply and demand restored. This essential difference has been overlooked by the writer who contends that the taking of the unearned increment of land value by the community for public use would justify the taking of the increased value of labor products and thus destroy the motive to active industry. John Stuart Mill dealt with this point as follows: "Land, it is said, is not the only article of property which rises in value from the mere effect of the advance of national wealth, independently of anything done by the proprietor. Pictures by the old masters, ancient sculptures, rare curiosities of all sorts, have the same tendency. If it is not

"Woman's Suffer-age"

"Woman's Suffer-age" Was what a witty woman called that period of life which all middle-aged pass through, and during which so many seem to think they must suffer-that Nature intended it so. The same lady added : "If you don't believe in 'woman's suffer-age, there is one ballot which will effectually defeat it--Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription." This is true, not only at the period of middle life, but at all ages when women suffer from uterine diseases, painful irregularities, in-flammation, ulceration or prolapsus, the "Favorite Prescription" so strengthens the weak or diseased organs and enriches the blood, that years of health and enjoyment are added to life.

An Equivocal Puff.

An Equivocal Puff. Harper'sBazaar : Did you see the notice I gave you?'s said the editor to the grocer. 'Yes; and I don't want another. The man who says I've got plenty of sand, that the milk I sell is of the first water, and that my butter is the strongest in the market, may mean well, but he is not the man I want to flatter me a second time." consideration to a prosperous country. But it is not true, even in principle. "Objects of art, however rare or incom-parable, differ from land and its contents in this essential particular, that they are pro-ducts of labor. Objects of high art are pro-ducts not only of labor but of sacrifice. The prospective rise in price of works of art is

Sir Gordon Not in the Cast.

Puck : Rockaway Beach-We tried to play baccawat at owah club the othah night, play baccawa at own the the other highly, but couldn't manage it. Howell Gibbon—Why not ? Rockaway Beach—All the fellahs wanted to be bankaw. The pwince was bankaw, you know.

An Eye to Business.

An Eye to Business. Epoch: Melancholy Stranger—You are sure this poison will kill a man? Druggist—Yes, sir, I can guarantee it. By the way, if you are going to commit suicide, I wish you'd put one of our circu-lars in your pocket. It'll be a bigadvertise-ment for us when your body is found.

portionate to the value of a commodity is pro-portionate to the labor bestowed upon its production. A man may find a big nugget of gold the day after he reaches the mining district, but on the average there is as much profit in digging potatoes as in digging gold. We quote further from Mill to emphasize property, by ignoring which Mr. Dawson has supplied himself with the foundation for his argument: "When the 'sacredness of property' is talked of, it should always be between land and othe bered that any such sacredne remembered that any such ascreamess does not belong in the same degree to landed property. No man made the land. It is the original inheritance of the whole the original inferitance of the whole species. Its appropriation is wholly a question of general expediency. When private property in land is not expedient it is unjust. It is no hardship to any one to be excluded from what others have pro-duced that were not bound to produce it. be excluded from what others have pro-duced; they were not bound to produce it for his use, and he loses nothing by not sharing in what otherwise would not have existed at all. But it is some hardship to be born into the world and to find all mature's gifts previously engrossed, and no place left for the new-comer. The claim of the landowners to the land is altogether subordinate to the general policy of the state. To me it seems almost an axiom that property in land should be interpreted strictly, and that the balance in all cases of doubt should incline against the proprietor. The reverse is the case with Axiom that property in land should be interpreted strictly, and that the balance in all cases of doubt should incline against the property in movables, and in all things the product of labor provents others on can acquire by his labor prevents others is on can acquiring the like by the same means; but from the very nature of the case, who is son can acquired by the same means; but from the very nature of the case, who is to shut up a part of the Highlands, to prevent disturbance to wild animals, is an abuse; if exceeds the legitimate bounds of the right of landed to property. The land is not of manure, not made to him in particular, but which belonged as much to all others until the took possession of it, is prima facie an injustice to all all the community," presents the historical proof that the land belongs to the people. The logical free trader
According to an emiment German distribution in the trady in winter.

The Christian Guardian, in its leading article this week, reviews the contents of the London Quarterly Review. We quote as fol-

AN OBVIOUS DISTINCTION.

act the editor of the Guardian, with his logical mind, discern a difference between and and the products of labor, which makes ancient sculptures, rare curiosities of all sorts, have the same tendency. If it is not unjust to deprive the landlord of the unearned increase of the value of his land, by the same rule the increase of Raphaels and Titians might be taken from their fortu-nate possessors and appropriated by the state.

"Were this true in principle, it would prospective rise in price of works of art is by no means an uncarned increase; the best productions of genius and skill obtain that honor while the increasing value of land is indiscriminate."

indiscriminate." There is neither force nor keenness in Using from an exception. While state

artives at the same end by tracing the daxes on goods. The editor of the gradual repeal of duties and fusces on goods. The editor of the dax of the earth is the Lord's," and the data of the year of jubile. There is the teach is the teach is the teach is the teach is the earth is the premises, namely, the dash of the grad of the premises, and it is the teach is the premises, namely, the dash of the grad of the teach is the teach is the teach is the teach of the dash of the grad of the teach is the teach of the dash is the teach of London Quarterly Review. We quote as fol-lows: An article on "The Unearned Increment" re-views Mr. William Harbutt Dawson's recent book on that subject, and criticises forcefully and keenly the central assumption of the anti-poverty men, viz, that all increased values of land, which cannot be shown to result directly from the labors of the owner, should belong to the community, and not to the private owner. Among the points made against this theory are the following: (1) That there is the best reason to believe that under this system there would be no such increase in the value of land as is seen under the present method. (2) That the increased value of land, or anything else, is not the result of labor; but arises from the in-habor and be worth little, or it may have cost ittle labor and the worth much. (3) This prin-dige of giving the worth much. (4) This prin-munity applies equally to the increase in the value of everything else. All property is a motopoly as well as land. All increase of watts be given up, and the great motive to active industry would thus be destroyed. (4) The assumption that those who cause an in-reased the increased value to the com-share that increased value is the owner value of colusting state. All increased price preventing the great motive to active industry would thus be destroyed. (4) The assumption that those who cause an in-rease in the value of anything have a right to share that increased value leads to most absurd conclusions. Actions that in themselves indictinately an equal interest in the value of land and other things. (6) The owner was been were value of land. (7) If the in-treased value of land. (7) If the fur-treased value of land. (7) If the fur

The Summer Girl.

The Summer Girl. Now that the reign of the summer girl is at hand, these are a few of the things to count on the beads of her rosary of her remembrance: The girl the boys like best to take rowing doesn't trail her hands in the water, even if they are pretty and her rings handsome, for it gets the boat out of trim. She doesn't .act frisky or kittenish in the boat or playfully spring out of it at the shore, only to fall back very unplayfully into the stream and dip the skiff half full of water. She doesn't pretend to steer if she doesn't know how, just because the bright cords of the rudder are effective against her dress. She doesn't put up her sunshade dress. She doesn't put up her sunshade when the wind is dead against you, even if when the wind is dead against you, even if its lining is becoming to her complexion. She doesn't get a headache and have to go home just when the fish are beginning to bite; and she doesn't squeal if you happen, inadvertently, to land a gamy catch in her lap.—The Eye.

It troubles the sinner and troubles the saint, It's a troublesome, trying and nasty complaint Don't think it incurable ; I tell you it ain t.

1 It's a troublesome, trying and nasty complaint, Don't think it incurable; I tell you it ain't. Excuse the grammer; it's the truth I'm after, whether grammatically or ungram-matically told. The truth is that Catarrh can be cured. The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head. THE SYMPTONS or CATARBH.—Headache, obstruction of the nose, discharges falling into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in the ears, deafness; offensive breath, smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms to be present at once. Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists, everywhere.

Large Coins.

"Were this true in principle, it would lead to no consequences in practice, since the revenue which could be obtained by even a very high tax on these rare and scattered possessions would not be worth consideration to a prosperous country. But it is not true even in minciple.

Large Coins. The largest gold coin now in circulation is said to be the gold ingot, or "loof," of Anam, a French colony in Eastern Asia. It is a flat, round gold piece, and on it is written in Indian Ink its value, which is about $220. The next sized coin to this valuable but extremely awkward one is the "obang" of Japan, which is worth about $55; and the next comes the "benda" of Ashantee, which represents a value of about $49. The California $50 gold piece is worth about $49. The coin in the world also belongs to Anam, where the silver ingot is worth about $15.

Laudable Solicitude.

generalizing from an exception. While some things which have cost much labor are worth little, and other things which have cost little labor are worth much, the general rule is that the value of a commodity is pro-Mrs. Brown—John, I hear you took that norrid typewriter girl of yours to the theatre ast night. Mr. Brown-Well, surely, my dear, it wouldn't be right to let her go alone.-

A Double Cyclone.

SUMMIT, Miss., July 9.—This vicinity was visited by two cyclones Monday. They were about eight miles apart. Many houses were destroyed and a number of

BOARDING-HOUSE BASEBALL.

Why a Pessimist Was Forced to Leave His Good Quarters.

Good Quarters. The trouble all arose over one breakfast. It may be that they knew he hated baseball, or it may be that their talk resulted from the fact that every man, woman and child in the boarding-house, with the exception of the lank pessimist, had been to the game the day before, says the Chicago Tribune. A any rate, when the landlady took the coffee pot in the one hand and the cream pitcher in the other, and began pouring from both at the same time, he was moved to ask, without a suspicion of danger, what she was doing.

icine into your throat. We don't want to. The money she was doing. "Making a double play unassisted," was "Making a double play unassisted," was her prompt response. He looked pained, but said nothing. A moment later, when a codfish-ball was gallantly declined by the dude, who in-sisted on passing it to his fair neighbor, the dry goods clerk on the other side of the table cried out : "Passed ball u" table cried out : "Passed ball !" The pessimist fingered his knife nervously as he glared at the clerk, and had hardly recovered his composure when the waitress kicked the cat through the doorway and the pretty typewriter lisped : "Put out !" And the young lawyer added : "Safe hit !" He hardly had time to shift his reproach-ful glance from the pretty typewriter to the

He narcy had time to shift his reproach-ful glance from the pretty typewriter to the young lawyer when the old maid began tell-ing what a brute the man next door was, and the real estate agent sang out : "Score one !" For sympathy he turned to the landlady"s

"Score one !" For sympathy he turned to the landlady's pretty daughter, who sat next to him and who had thus far said nothing. But as he declined the last muffin on the plate and she took it, she looked him straight in the eye, and with her most captivating smile said :

"A sacrifice !"

Then he got up and stalked out, and there is a room to rent in that boarding-

New York Weekly : CityEditor-The street is all excitement. An electric light wire has blocked traffic, and no one knows whether it is a live wire or not. Editor—Detail two reporters to go to the wire immediatelythe result.

misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering

Both Saint and Sinner.

you.

Vomit

Doubting

Thomas.

She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

Every Meal. down to a meal but as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed.

'August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's Au-gust Flower. Well, we can't make

We can't force conviction into your head or med-

is yours, and the

from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit

she had to vomit it

A TALE OF CRUELTY.

hipwrecked Sailors Shamefully Treated by an Island Governor.

by an Island Governor. A London Cable says: Forty of the crew of the wrecked British ship New York have arrived at Liverpool. They were landed at Plymouth last night in a shocking plight. The New York sailed from Swansea on Feb. 6th last, coal-laden, for San Francisco. She was wrecked at New Year's Island in the Pacific on April 20th, when one of the crew was drowned. The Governor of Itooroon or Staten Island, to whom the shipwrecked men went for assistance, was unmerciful. or Staten Island, to whom the shipwrecked men went for assistance, was unmerciful. He refused to give them clothes and com-pelled them while barefooted to drag lumber over the snow. They escaped after five weeks, during which they fared shamefully, to Oshooa, whence they escaped in five days to Sandy Point. The men are in a miserable condition. The British Consul sent them home.

A Sad Awakening !

"When in the dark, on thy soft hand I hung, And heard the tempting syren of thy tongue-What flames-what darts-what anguish I en-dured, But when the candle entered-I was cured !"

Such complexions as so many of our young ladies possess—dull, pimply, and covered with sores and blackheads, is enough to cool the ardor of the warmest lover. To such young ladies we would say that you can never have a soft, fair, smooth, attractive, kissable complexion, unless your blood is healthy and pure, for the condition of the blood decides the complex-ion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will purify your blood, tone up your system, and drive away those distressing headaches and backache, from which you suffer periodically, and give you a complexion a lily or rose-leaf might envy. Such complexions as so many of our young Shot a Policeman.

CHATTANOGGA, Tenn., July 9.—Officer James Looney, of the police force, was shot and killed here last evening by Zach Munsey, ex-deputy sheriff and ex-constable. Ill-feeling had existed between them for several days.

Preparing for the Seashore.

Jewelers' Circular : Cholly Cholmonderly -Now we're all pwepared for our twip. But I seem to forget something. Valet -Have you ordered the engagement rings ? Cholly C.—Aw, that's it. Go to Tim-pany's and awder a dozen.

A Vital Question

Puck : The bosom friend-They tell me, Nell, that you are engaged. The victim-Dear me ! Is it to anyone I know?

Minnie Palmer will make her reappear-ance in London in September and in the following month will commence a tour of the provinces.

"I see now," said he sadly, after he had lost his money on the ball game, "why they say 'blind as a bat.' The bat didn't seem to see the ball once."

Gladstone is comparatively a poor man, and the occasional literary work he does for magazines and periodicals is not the result of any desire to add to his established fame as a writer.

Brown—Here is some tobacco, my poor man. You must feel the loss of a smoke after dinner. Tramp—No, sir. I feel the loss of my dinner before the smoke. All the women of the Vanberbilt family are notable for their good looks. Mrs. Cor-nelius Vanderbilt has a calm, lovely face which is suggestive of the Madonna. Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt has a fine figure which she carries with much stateliness; her eyes are dark blue and her hair is a ruddy bronze brown. Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, however, is the beauty of the house of Vanderbilt. Her figure is extremely graceful, her complexion lovely and her hair has the glint and glimmer of golden sun-beams in them.

The son of General Isidro Urtecho, Com-The son of General Islaro Ortecho, Com-mander-in-Chief of the Nicaraguan army, is the only foreign cadet at West Point. He is a young man of 20, tall and active, with swarthy skin and flashing black eyes.

The house which Lord Revelstoke was building previous to the Baring failure is now Baron Hirsch's.

Chicago Tribune: Maud-What do you think of Irene? Laura-I detest her. And she hates me like poison. "Then why do you and she always kiss " Heaven only knows."

One of the Mysteries.

Potter Did.

Puck: Miss McFadd—Palmistry is all the rage now. Do you understand it, Mrs. Potter?

Mrs. Potter-No; but I think Jack does Last night I heard him cry in his sleep: "Show your hands, boys!"

Johnny All Right.

Ashland Press: "I'm afraid, Johnny," said the Sunday school teacher severely, "that I will never meet you in heaven." Johnny-Why, what have you been doin

According to an eminent German statistician the world has had 2,550 kings or emperors who have reigned over 74 peoples. Of these 300 were overthrown, 64 were forced to abdicate, 28 committed mining 23 heaven and or imbecile 100 persons injured and one child was killed.

Dr. Konrad Brunner of the University of Zurich has proved by a series of experiments that micro-organisms are discharged through the perspiration as well as through the blood. The bacteria can be seen in the drops of perspiration by means of a microscope.

Baron de Gondoriz, the Brazilian india-rubber merchant who is trying to corner the entire rubber output of the Amazon region, is an energetic man of Portuguese birth, 41 years old. He is of short and very portly figure, with light complexion and red hair.

Leopold II., King of the Belgians, prides himself on being a workman. He rises at 6 and does two hours' work before breakfast.

The most remarkable Waterloo survivor The remains of Dora Shaw, the old time actress, who died at the Forrest home last week, were cremated. According to an eminent German statistician the world has had 2,550 kings or emperors who have reigned over 74 The memorial cross has been prepared at

The memorial cross has been prepared at the expense of the national leprosy fund in England, to be erected over the grave of Fr. Damien at Molokai, is now finished, and will be sent soon to its destination. It is of red grapite polished and uppolished, and cost $1,000.

bove named shall be gi housands of hopoless cases have been permanently at ay remedy FREE to any or your readers who may a and Post Office Address. Respectfully, T. A SLOCH M.C. I

