Sports in full swing

Sports at Dalhousie seem to be off to a fast start this year. All teams will have begun training by this week and apparently at least two teams-hockey and wrestling are still looking for people.

There may be some question as to the fairness of the divisions of money. Three men's teams, basketball, hockey, and football, get the lion's share of the money. But, after talking with the head of women's athletics, Nancy Buzzell, we understand that the reason is that these three have more expensive equipment.

Possibly other sports including women's field hockey should be getting a larger share of the money because of their high national standing.

The Gazette will publish the dates of tournaments and games together with their results in future issues.

The Dalhousie Women's Field Hockey team has done quite well over the years.
