Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighan,
347 Bay St.,
Toronto.

Dear Sir:

The soundest basis of judgment as to what an individual or organization can do is what has been done. The Neighborhood Workers Association in my judgment has a most commendable record of past performance in its social welfare work. It has gone about its task in a strong and sane way, and in the City of Toronto there are thousands of people to whom there have come new opportunities for health and happiness through the work of the Association.

The $60,000 the Neighborhood Workers Association is now asking for will give to it the physical tools by which it can do much more effective work. Toronto is on the way to being a great City with a very large population. The new Headquarters Building will put the Association in a much better position to deal with the larger responsibilities and increased tasks which will come to it in the future. At Bolton Camp it will help to provide 18 new cottages, an extension of the sanitary system, a new medical unit, and quite a number of other improvements which will minister to the safety, happiness and health development of the 4,000 campers who will this summer visit Bolton Camp.

This is the first appeal the Neighborhood Workers Association, Toronto's largest social service organization, has ever made on capital account for their City work.

The $60,000 does not represent a pious hope but a real need, and when the volunteer canvasser comes to see you I know that you will give him a good reception.

Sincerely yours,

H. E. Hatch
Chairman,
Campaign Committee.
