

Has your Horse an old Strain or Swelling?

Here's the way to cure it.

Rub three teaspoonfuls of Fellows' Leeming's Essence in the sore place, and repeat the rubbing in 24 hours if a sweat or running does not appear.

This running turns to a scurf and forms a firm bandage on the part. So long as it stays over the strain or swelling, the effect of the dressing holds good. In 14 to 16 days, the scurf falls off and the horse is well.

And you can work the horse all the time Fellows' Leeming's Essence is curing it.

Try it on your horse. Get

GOLF.

A gentleman visiting some relatives in Scotland was persuaded to try a game of golf. At his first stroke he aimed a terrible blow at the ball, scattering the turf to right and left, and looked around for the result.

"What have I hit?" he asked.
"Scotland, sir," gruffly answered the caddy, who took no pains to conceal his contempt for such an unaccomplished player.—[Sacred Heart Review.]

ROARS.

Three-year-old colt had distemper last spring. Since his apparent recovery, his wind has been affected. When at rest, he is all right, but on driving or the least excitement he makes a noise and acts as though broken-winded. Would blistering the throat be effective?

A. D.
Ans.—This colt has what is called "roars," which sometimes results as a sequel to distemper. It is usually due to a shortening of the muscles of the larynx (the cartilaginous box at the commencement of the windpipe), and when such is the cause nothing can be done except the performance of an operation which is very expensive and often not successful. In some cases, it is due to a thickening of the mucous membrane of the larynx, and in such cases repeated blisterings may result in an improvement by encouraging absorption. You might try blistering.

GOSSIP.

SHOOTING WITH CAMERA.

There is a strong indication of the coming of the day when skill in shooting animals with the camera will rank as high in sporting circles as prowess with the gun.

Mr. John Miller, Brougham, Ont., writes: "Having sold all the sheep that I want to part with at present, I am now offering some extra nice young Shorthorn bulls for sale. They are from some of our best cows, and prices will be made to suit. Have one choice red calf that will do to show any place. I also have a few good young Clydesdale mares that will be sold worth the money."

Messrs. John Lee & Son, Highgate, Ont., write: "The young Shorthorn bulls, which we offer in our advertisement, of which there are six, are a grand, thick, sappy, good-doing lot, three reds and three roans. Five are sired by our present stock bull, Ridgewood Marquis, by the champion spicy Marquis, and the other is a son of Imp. Favorite, and out of Lovely of Pine Grove, by Marquis of Zenda. Most of these bulls are ready for immediate service, and will be sold at prices which should move them quick. By notifying us a day ahead, we will be pleased to meet visitors."
