The antagonistic feeling existing between the Canada Company and some of the farmers of this district is reaching a very acute stage and there are well founded rumors in the air, of writs, actions, and law courts.

Many years ago the Imperial government made several grants of land to this company, who, in their turn, have in a great many instances, leased the land to farmers, in every case reserving all mineral rights on such lands, for themselves.

Some of these lands, thus leased, are situated in the township of Tilbury, where at present there is an oil boom of considerable magnitude, and the question of the Canada Company's right to this migral regular districtions and some of the magnitude, and the question of the Canada Company's right to this migral regular districtions and some of the magnitude, and the question of the Canada Company's right to this migral regular districtions and some of the magnitude, and the question of the Canada Company and instances are in the magnitude, and the question of the Canada Company and is collected to the University Board of Governors. If it is true that such information is being given out which in the event of it being authentic would prove valuable "boom stuff," it is only fair to declare, for the banefit of any of the farmers who might under these extraordinary circumstances be carried away with the idea that Mr. Mc. Coig is looking after their interest, that the statement is entirely and absolutely groundless and untrue.

No act of this character was passed during the recent session of the Legislature, and if the Libbral machine finds itself in such straits that it is forced to resort to these debasing tactics in its spasmodic attempts to keep its man within even haling distance, and in the rear, we can see nothing but ruination ahead for Mr. McOoig, the house of the marriage rites, the bride at librally and absolutely groundless and untrue.

The honest and fair-minded Librals of Kent, who, we are pleased to know form the large majority in their party, are averse to such political dodges, and are strongly in favor of resting their case solely upon the true merits of their candidate and the policy of the government he upholds. These are true principles and the safest ones in the change of a political election.

It is declared, moreover, that in the present instance, there is an awk-ward question in law as to the Legislature's right to interfere with a charter granted by the Imperial government and until this point is sented nothing can possibly be done in the matter by Premier Whitney.
