City Council.

The regular meeting of the Council opened at 7.30.

Hon. John Harvey wrote to say that he was called out of town, and could not manage to meet the Council as arranged, but would be glad of the opportunity to do so on his return.

Some comment was made on various items appearing in some bills, presented, and several were held over for enquiry, as it was considered overcharges were being made.

Wm. Grimes wrote to say that the oil store was being looked after by a watchman from the Public Works Department.

Mrs. Dr. Macpherson, Hon. Sec. of the Daughters of the Empire, informed the Council that a Committee of that organization wished to meet the Council to discuss the best way of helping to secure improved sanitation and cleaner streets, and asked for an appointment. The Council will meet the Committee at noon on Monday next.

Rev. Jas. Bell, Honorary Secretary C. E. Orphanage, asked for larger supply of water at that institution. Granted.

T. J. Samson asked for Sanitary man to remove ashes from his dwelling on Winter Avenue. Council could not accede, as it was out of regular route of carts.

Harvey & Co. complained of delay in watering S.S. Benedick, and asked Council for explanation. The Secretary explained that he had arranged the matter to the satisfaction of the Council when they first considered, over the telephone, a few days ago; and that the Benedick had got all the water she required, according to the report of Waterman Flynn.

Butler & McDonald asked for architectural work in connection with remodelling the new City Hall. After some discussion, the Council decided to visit the place on Monday and inspect it themselves first.

Wm. White called attention to the condition of the South Side Road, West of Job's Bridge, and asked that it be repaired. Funds not available at present.

A. W. O'Reilly asked for street line on Water Street West, opposite Leslie Street. Referred to Road Committee.

W. J. Coaker asked for permission to erect scaffold on Driscoll's house, on Field Street.

J. J. Mulcahy pointed out that he only wished to make temporary repairs to Rankin's building for the winter, and asked if the Council could not reconsider its decision. Permission given for this year only. Next year he must comply with the Act.

Councillor Channing pointed out at last meeting that John Rooney, one of the foremen on the sewer cuts, was receiving $2.00 per day, while all the others were receiving only $1.60, and wanted to know why the discrimination was made.

The Engineer stated, in reply to questions by the Mayor and Councillor Mullaly, that Rooney was a better workman and deserved more pay.

There the matter ended for that meeting, although Councillor Channing was not quite satisfied. Since then he discovered mistakes in the pay sheets, which showed that Rooney had been paid for seven days each week, when the other men had only been paid for six. He also watched the progress of work during the past week, and was convinced that Rooney had not done any better work than the other foremen. Under these circumstances he objected to Rooney receiving more pay than the other foremen. A lively discussion followed.

The Mayor stated that he believed Rooney was a superior man, that when he applied for the job he (Rooney) refused to go to work less than $2.00 per day, and that the Engineer had employed him on his (the Mayor's) recommendation.

Councillor Channing did not think he was worth $2.00 per day, and considered that the Council was not obliged to pay him that amount because he wouldn't work for less. There were plenty of men, just as good, who would be glad to take the same as the other foremen were receiving. If he were such a superior man as the Mayor and Engineer would have them believe, he shouldn't have any difficulty in getting a job.

Councillors Mullaly and Myrick were satisfied to take the Engineer's report that Rooney was superior to the other foremen.

Councillor Ryan agreed with Councillor Channing. He thought that no increase in wages should have been given without the matter first being brought before the Council, and generally, was not satisfied with the circumstances surrounding the incident. He also thought that Rooney was not a superior man, and that the Mayor and Councillor Martin expressed himself along similar lines.

The Mayor asked these Councillors if they considered themselves capable of judging these matters.

They replied that they knew enough about the work to judge that Rooney was not doing any better than the other foremen.

Councillor Mullaly would rather take the Engineer's opinion on the matter. Councillor Channing—But you wouldn't rather take the Engineer's opinion on all matters. You have said here that you wouldn't believe any official in the Council.

Councillor Mullaly—I wouldn't believe them if I didn't know about the matter myself.

Councillor Channing—I do know about this matter.

The Mayor thought the discussion was childish. They had proof that Rooney was a superior man, and therefore he was worth more than the others.

Councillor Ryan questioned this statement, and said it had not been shown to be so.

The Mayor—No, it was not shown to you, because you wouldn't see it. He (the Mayor) could see the trend of the whole thing.

Here, the motion to reduce Rooney's salary to $1.60 per day was put. There voted for it, Councillors Channing, Martin and Ryan; against: Councillors Mullaly, Myrick and Coaker.

The Mayor, for the reason he had previously stated, gave his casting vote against the motion, and it was lost.

Councillor Channing then referred to a remark of the Mayor's earlier in the meeting, when the latter insinuated that there was something behind the attitude of the advocates of the motion. He wished to assure the Mayor that he was actuated by no other motive than a desire to treat all the employees fairly, and to conserve, as far as possible, the funds of the Council.

Councillors Martin and Ryan also denied having any personal motive in the matter.

The reports of the different officials were read and adopted. The Engineer's report showed progress of construction work during the week, and represented the conditions complained of on the South Side. It was decided not to spend money on any temporary work there, but to leave the matter until the sewerage is extended to that locality.

The Council was not satisfied with the work being done by the collectors, and it was ordered that they be instructed to produce better results than they have been doing the past week.

After passing of pay rolls, etc., the meeting adjourned at 11.45.—Daily News.

At Northern Bay.

The entertainment at Northern Bay for the benefit of the Church Building Fund, though gotten up in a hurry by the Ladies of the Altar Society, was nevertheless a success both as a pleasing social and as a help to the new building. Several of our friends from nearby places were present. The net receipts were nearly $95.00. Another, but on a larger scale, will be held about Christmas or the New Year. The work on the interior of the church will be continued and go on to a finish in early spring.

A Runaway Horse.

Mr. Frank McNamara's horse with cart attached took fright at his hay house, Queen Street, about 1 p.m. today. The animal was frightened by the falling of a bale of hay. It ran down Queen Street towards Water Street. When opposite Prowse's office the cart collided with a carriage in which Mrs. Eales, of Mount Pearl, was sitting. The shock knocked the two wheels off and Mrs. Eales had a narrow escape. The horse continued its course with the long cart attached, and went on the sidewalk near Jackson's, and then swerved back near St. Byrne's to the middle of the street again. Mrs. Cook, of Mount Pearl, and her daughter were sitting in their express near Monroe's, the horse and cart collided with it and the runaway was thrown down on its back and was captured.

SEALSHIPT

are the ONLY Oysters with a brand name.

The name refers to the particular manner in which they are grown, shipped and sold to you.

Sealshipt Oysters may be Blue Points, Narragansetts, Northports, Oyster Bay, Chesapeake, etc.

The Best Oysters are not necessarily Shell Oysters.

The Shell has no more to do with the taste of an Oyster than feathers have to do with the taste of a chicken.

Sealshipt Oysters have the same flavour as Shell Oysters taken directly from salt water, that Sea Tang looked for by Oyster lovers.
