

Colony Club Meeting

The address at the Old Colony Club on Monday afternoon last was given by Miss Loder, with Mrs. Outerbridge in the chair.

The subject of Miss Loder's address was "School Medical Work."

Miss Loder is the pioneer worker in this branch of welfare work in Newfoundland, the Methodist School having inaugurated a clinic under Miss Loder's supervision.

An interesting account of her work was given by Miss Loder, and great benefit is being done to children through these clinics.

It was stressed that parents attach little or no importance to defects such as constricted chests, squinting eyes, adenoid teeth, and other ailments which have a direct bearing on the health of their children and generally on their mental powers.

Parents who send their children to school where there are clinics have the weight of anxiety taken off their minds. They know that their children are not associating with schoolmates who are infected in any way.

Close to her address Miss Loder gave an interesting account of her experience in school clinic work in England.

Mr. Johnson then spoke at some length on the necessity of awakening the public to an appreciation of the value of medical supervision in schools. Lady Allardice also emphasized this need and hoped that the Government would have the active support and development necessary for the development of such clinics.

A hearty vote of thanks had been accorded to Miss Loder for her address, the members adjourned for which was kindly provided by Mr. D. Johnson and Mrs. Cameron.

Cochrane Street Methodist Church

CELEBRATE MISSIONARY ANNIVERSARY.

In connection with the celebration of the centenary of missionary endeavor, special services were held at Cochrane Street Methodist Church yesterday.

At the morning service, a most impressive one, Mr. T. Ashbourne, M. A., was chairman, and the address was delivered by Rev. Charles Lennox, who spoke on the difficulties to be overcome in missionary work.

In the evening service the chair was held by Mr. W. Drover, and addresses were delivered by A. E. Parkins, the subject was the ability of Christ to subvert all nations, and by Rev. Lennox, who spoke on missionary work.

The service was largely attended and was most inspiring. During the services solos were given by Mr. Darby, Mr. Hatcher and Miss Lennox. Next Sunday special services will be held at Gower Street and the services at Cochrane Street are invited to the present.

Layer of Two Girls to Hang

Feb. 14.—Guilty of murdering Canada's Doctor Jekyll—Mr. Hyde, Harry D. Williams, will hang at the gallows at Fredericton, N.B., on April 23, unless government clemency is secured.

Found guilty of killing his two half-nieces, Williams, on the eyes of all Canada were found guilty in ten minutes and sentenced after one of the speediest and most thrilling trials ever conducted in a Canadian court.

It was in November that the bodies of the two little girls were discovered wired together in a lonely spot in the hills. They had been strangled to death. The finger of suspicion suddenly and unexpectedly pointed at Williams.

His arrest quickly followed, but without a storm of protest throughout Canada, because the prisoner had a distinguished record over his life.

He protested his innocence at first, but as the net of circumstances tightened about him he confessed.

It was then that the Doctor Jekyll-Hyde situation entered the case, and all Canada was aroused and Mr. Williams was blamed for the tragedy.

Williams, it developed, was at the time of a most peaceful and loving father, and at other times an enterprising and different personality. Ten years ago his wife divorced him.

One of the sensations of the trial was the calling of George Camp, a member of the jury, as a witness for Williams. Camp was barred from the service when it was shown that he had assisted the sheriff of the county in the hunt for the murderer.

There was created in court a Williams' former wife, Mrs. Thornton, of Hinton, Me., stated that she had been married to Williams ten years ago, but that she was appearing in court to testify against him.

Williams and his former wife were divorced.

Williams was a former member of the Black T. G. Union, and it was in this connection that he was arrested.

It was in the month of August, 1923, that Williams was arrested.
