TRIAL OF THE ITALIANS.

Nineteen persons altogether were indicted, and nine were put on trial Feb. 28. The only person who was able to identify any of the actual murders was a Mr. Peeler, who lived opposite Hennessey's house. He dientified three fruit venders, Scaffidi, Bagnetto and Polietz. The last named became greatly excited during the trial, and arose and addressed the judge. A private interview was granted him through the interpreter, and as his counsel refused longer to defend him, it is believed that he made a confession. He was the man who was hanged Saturday on a lamp-post outside the juli. Joe Macheca, one of the accused and one of Saturday's victims, was a wealthy merchant, the founder of the pioneer New Orleans house in the steamship fruit trade with Central America. He was worth some thundreds of thousands, had been a prominent politician, and was believed to be at hundreds of thousands, had been a promi-nent politician, and was believed to be at he head of the conspiracy. He had a ustol and wounded the police sergeant on e day of the lynching. Monasterio, other of the victims, was a shoemaker in other of the victims, was a snoemaker in nose shanty, it is said, the conspirators et, while the younger Marchesi, who was bared, though his father was killed, was a boy of 17, who is said to have warned the assassins by a whistle that Hennessey was

THE CAUSE OF THE LYNCHING.

The verdict of the jury that led to the lynching acquitted Macheca, the two Marchesis, Bagnetto, the two others whom the mob spared, Matranga and Incardona. There was a mistrial in the case of the other three, the jury standing, 9 to 3 favor of the conviction of Scaffidi and 6 to 6 regarding Monasterio and Polietz. The jurymen explained that they did not elieve most of the witnesses for the tate, and that the failure of the prosection to put on the stand the two policeen who were the first persons to arrive at the seen of the murder made a bad impression. The men who were acquitted were not at once discharged, because there was another accusation hanging over them. It will be noticed that five of the men lynched were among the accused who had been tried.

New Orleans tragedy, said President Harrison had recognized the right of Italians in the United States to protection, and the authorities had expressed profound regret at the occurrence and had charged the Government of Louisiana to guard the Italian residents of New Orleans and to bring the indictments impending in section "B" of the Criminal District Court against the Italians implicated in the Hennessey assassination. This releases Charles Matranga, Incardona and the boy Marches. The indictments in section "A." Judge Marr's division, still hold Sunserri, Patenno, John Caruso, Natale and Piettze. to your influence and authority to trige upon the Italians of New York that they should be dignified, calm and strictly legal in their behavior, and show themselves in these circumstances worthy of their civilized country. Relying upon your incontestable authority, as well as on the patriotic feelings of the colony, I am sanguine that this advice will be followed." It is understood similar instructions have been sent by Baron Fava to all the other Italian consuls in the United States.

THE FEELING IN ITALY.

NEW YORK, March 16.—Telegrams expressive of indignation of the Italian The Dublin National Press, McCarthyite organ, says: "Triumph after triumph was sored by the Nationalists yesterday throughout the country. The voice of the nation is being heard, and it is interesting to watch the daily increasing intensity of the Parnellites' assaults upon the bishops."

Timothy Healy, in his speech at Newry, said when Parnell was wanted at the Tenant's Defense League meeting he had always a bad cold. The air of Dublin did not agree with him, but the seaside air of Brighton did. The decree of divorce granted to Capt. O'Shea had afflicted Parnell with political opthalmia, but the most revolting thing in the whole business was that Parnell seemed to think they were all fools. He could not remember the difference between Parnell, the untainted leader, and the Parnell of 1891.

THE WAR IN CHILI.

THE WAR IN CHILI.

Serious Reverse for the Government Troops—Murderous Methods of the Insurgents.

London, March 16.—The Times has a dispatch from Santiago giving an official version of the recent battle in Chili. From this it appears that Col. Robles, who commanded the Government troops on March 6, being short of provisions, rashly abandoned a strong position on Mount Sebastopol, and, with 1,200 infantry, 25 cavalry and a few guns, attacked a force of 2,500 rebels. At a critical movement the enemy, by a decoy truce for a parley, opened a fearful fire at close quarters, killing or wounding two-thirds of the Government troops. A general massacre of wounded officers, including Col. Robles, ensued. The loss of the insurgents is estimated at 300 killed and 400 wounded. This places the Province of Tarapaca entirely in the hands of the insurgents. the insurgents.

The establishment of a bect root sugar industry in Ontario is being pushed again. A deputation waited upon the Attorney-General, Hon. Mr. Dryden and Hon. J. M. Gibson this afternoon to get the assistance of the Government in setting the manufacture going. The deputation representing the capitalists who are interested in the scheme was composed of Messrs. W. H. Howland, W. Skaife and R. A. Lawder. Mr. Skaife has been running a bect root sugar factory in the Province of Quebec, but the results have been discouraging. The conditions of the manufacture down there, he says, are not favorable, while in The conditions of the manufacture down there, he says, are not favorable, while in Ontario it has been, in his opinion, proved that the climate, soil and farmers insure the successful operation and the great extension of the industry. All the members of the deputation addressed the ministers. No matter how sure the profit of the scheme could be made to appear on paper it was an experiment and capital was timid, so that what the deputation wanted was that the Prøvincial Government guarantee bonds for one-half of the cost of putwas that the Previncial Covernment of put-antee bonds for one-half of the cost of put-was that the Previncial Government guarantee bonds for one-half of the cost of putiting the first factory into operation. The idea was to build and equip a 300-ton factory, and it would cost about $250,000. If the Province would promise to aid it in the way desired capitalists would be found to put the factory in operation. Then with everything complete the company would issue bonds for one-half of the cost, and if the thing proved a success the Province would not be called upon to redeem the bonds. In the event of the failure of the industry the shareholders would atand to lose the whole of their $125,000, while the Government for their $125,000 would have the factory and its plant. The Attorney-General promised the usual consideration.

FRUIT-GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.

The 22nd annual report of the Fruit-Growers' Association of Ontario, printed by order of the Legislative Assembly, was laid on the table of the House. The report of the treasurer shows receipts, including $2,012 members' fees and $1,800 Government grant, of $4,385, the expenditure, including expense of the Canadian Horticulturist and salaries, etc., of $4,301, leaving a balance on the right side of $84. The address of the president, Mr. A. M. Smith, of St. Catharines, delivered at the annual meeting at Hamilton on the 16th of December last, is given in full. This address contains an interesting epitome of the society's work as well as a thoughtful survey of the situation and prespects of the great fruit-growing industry. The society has now over 2,000 members

Cornwall's Cloze Call.

Connwall, Ont., March 16.—On Saturday evening Cornwall came within a hair's breadth of being visited by the repetition of the disaster of 1886. The water rose to a terrible height and the lower part of the town was somewhat submerged. The high wind from the west drove down mountains of ice and blocked the river up between the Point and Cornwall Island. The water rose to within about a foot of overflowing the bank. It found its way to the basement of the Canada Cotton Mill, the Cornwall Manufacturing Company dyshouse and the Stormont Cotton Company boiler house. However, not much damage was done, as the goods were heastly removed. The water has subsided, and now all fear is over.

Ottawa, March 16.—Sir John Thompson, in regard to the Behring Sea question, says that there is only one difficulty existing between Lord Salisbury and Secretary Blaine. It practically amounts to only a difference of opinion respecting the form of submission of the case for arbitration, and it is believed that the difference of mere words is not likely to stand in the way of effecting a settlement by arbitration.

Washington, March 16.—Acting Attorney-General Taft said Saturday, in response to an inquiry on the subject, that the United States Government would take no steps so far as he was advised to secure the dismissal of the proceedings instituted by the British Government in the United States Supreme Court involving the jurisdiction of this Government over the Behring Sea fisheries, pending the reported reference of that issue to arbitration.
