LITTLE BOYS AT PLAY FIND FATHERS BODY

Latter Mysteriously Disappeared Early in July and Foul Play Is Suspected.

Townsend, Vermont, Aug. 25.-The accidental discovery of the decomposed body of George Kent, a 60-year-old farmer of this town, and father of Elroy Kent, a convicted murderer, at the bottom of a deep ravine near the Kent home Tuesday, was the cause of an investigation into the man's death by State Attorney Williams, of Bellows Falls, yesterady. On July 9 Kent visited the neighboring farm of Herbert Barker, and since leaving Barker's house to go home, nothing has been heard of him until the discovery made by his two little boys. Two lads Bernard, aged 14 years, and Perry, aged 10, sons of George Kent, while playing on he hillside near their home, clambered to the top of the ravine, and looked to see how deep it was. The quick eye of the elder boy detected something looked to him like the coat his father wore when he disappeared. With an eager cry the lad made his way down the gully, followed by his brother. They discovered the remains of their father beneath some bushes.

Horrified at their discovery they fled hastily from the gloomy depths, and running to the nearest house told of their discovery. Led by the two lads a party of men went to the ravine and confirmed the story of the two boys. Little could be learned from the boys, except that there had been friction between their father and one of his elder sons.
