A second dividend amounting to five per cent is now available for shareholders of the defunct Dominion Savings and Investment Society, the Trusts and Guarantees Company, of Toronto, receiver, announces. Shortly after the society closed its doors in 1922, and the firm went into receivership, a dividend of 10 per cent was paid all shareholders, with the exception of the late Thomas Pardon and his family, who controlled a large bloc of the stock. Mr. Pardon was president of the investment company at the time of its collapse.

Reform of Upper Chamber Now Becomes Inevitable, Says Senate Appointee

John Lewis, Toronto Journalist,
Named to Senate Recently,
Pays London a Visit.

DEMOCRACY NEEDED
Chances of King in Election
Appeal Are Regarded as Excellent.

Senate reform will come slowly but it is inevitable, according to John Lewis, Toronto's new senator, who spent a few hours in London today. What form changes in the senate will take, when they will come, how they will be put into force, is not suggested. But Mr. Lewis, along with many colleagues of Premier King, are resolved upon reform.

"Canada needs a democratized senate," says Senator Lewis. "To secure that, the method of appointment must be altered. I am not prepared to say that the system should be elective, but that there should be more senators appointed. Reforms are bound to come. We are sure of that. But they must come slowly. We can't jump in and turn things upside down right away. We must consider with care every proposal offered, and give the whole matter deepest thought before bringing about reforms."

Sympathy For Senate.
Senator Lewis entertained some sympathy for the senate in the past, which has had no hand in the introduction of the Liberal party, it had no say in any problems until they had gone through long stages of discussion and been sanctioned by the house of commons.

Few Canadians have given so much in the service of the public, as Mr. Lewis, who has been in the senate since 1922. For 45 years he has been employed in journalistic work, in the press gallery at Ottawa, in editorial work, in the editorial staff of the Star, and the Globe at Toronto, and in writing political works. He wrote a "Life of George Brown" some years ago.

"I am a Liberal, but I believe that Mackenzie King and the policies of his party today have an appeal that is wider than the Liberal party," said Senator Lewis. "I attended a non-political meeting at the exhibition in Toronto the other day, and Mr. King made a strong impression on everyone, including many prominent Conservatives."

Policies Sound.
"I believe that Premier King is a good leader and that his policies are sound enough for the whole of Canada. I don't believe in following the policies of any party unswervingly, but now is a time when the policies of the Liberal party have a wide appeal."

"He should make a deep impression upon the people of Canada. The prospects are very good everywhere for the return of the government. I cannot speak from recent travel over much of the Dominion, but Mr. King is the type of man to win support and lead the people."

I left the Globe because I firmly believed the Liberal administration was the need of Canada today. I had no idea of reward."

Senator Lewis speaks very little about himself and much about the possibilities and possibilities of the Dominion. He has great faith in the people and welcomes his appointment to the senate as an opportunity to study as broadly as possible the problems of the country.

TURKISH PEOPLE TO BUY

Associated Press Despatch.
Constantinople, Sept. 10.—Under a committee composed of deputies, army officers and of civilian men, Turkey are raising money to purchase aeroplanes for the government. During the five months of existence this committee has raised 3,200,000 Turkish pounds. (The normal value of the Turkish pound is about $4.40.)

It is planned to establish a passenger, commercial and mail service between Constantinople and Angora, and present war planes built in Turkey to the government.

Two separate probes into why Noel was permitted to remain at large after he had been duly committed to Overbrook hospital as an insane patient, which had been planned by the county board of freeholders and by County Supervisor Ernest A. Reed, were joined into one inquiry today.

ANGLO-GERMAN PACT
NOT YET CONSIDERED

Canadian Government Will Not Take Up Question Until After Election.

Associated Press Despatch.
Ottawa, Sept. 10.—The Canadian government has not given full consideration to the Anglo-German commercial treaty and in official circles here it is felt that no action will be taken by Canada until after the forthcoming election at the very earliest.

The treaty in question was entered into between Great Britain and Germany last December and under its terms any of the British dominions could participate. Up to date none of the dominions have signified their intentions of becoming parties to the treaty.

HALDIMAND LIBERALS CONFIDENT

Premier King Given Rousing Reception On Arrival at Cayuga.

ENDS W. ONTARIO TOUR

County Elected King's Grandfather After Return From Exile.

Special to The Advertiser
by a Staff Reporter.

Cayuga, Sept. 10.—Premier Mackenzie King's arrival in Cayuga at 11:30 a.m. this morning from Guelph to deliver the concluding address of his present Western Ontario tour was marked by unbounded enthusiasm.

Despite the fact that Haldimand county has sent a Conservative member to Ottawa for several years past, there is a strong feeling that the time has come for a change and that Thomas Marshall, ex-M.L.A., Dunnville, named as the Liberal candidate will carry the day against Mark Senn, Oneida township, Conservative and sitting member, who has been re-named by his party. The present outlook is for a straight party fight, different from last time when the Haldimand county Liberal candidate, William Lyon Mackenzie, ran as a Progressive and split the vote.

The visit of Premier King, the first time a premier of the Dominion has visited Cayuga in the memory of the majority of the citizens, has added color in view of the fact that Haldimand county elected his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, to parliament immediately after his return from exile on Grand Island as a rebel.

Col. A. T. Thompson, now of Ottawa, but one-time Liberal representative of the riding, was among those at the station to welcome Premier King and his party. Others present were Rev. R. S. Colter, warden of Haldimand, Norman Kohler, Judge Colter, St. Thomas; Jacob Kohler, ex-M.L.A.; Ed. Couzens, Rev. A. Ross and numerous others.

Upon alighting from the train, Premier King graciously shook hands with many of those gathered to meet him, including the Cayuga band. At 2 p.m. there was a parade from the station to Courthouse park, where the gathering of those gathered to meet him, including the Cayuga band, was held.

Mr. Crerar made his announcement yesterday at a meeting of the Marquette Progressive provincial committee at Shoo Lake. Business reasons, he said, made it impossible for him to allow his name to come before the convention. Mr. Crerar is head of the United Grain Growers' the greater part of his time during the last two years to the business.

TEAM-MATES DO WELL
Elgin Judging Team Wins
Silver Cup in County Event.

Secretary W. D. Jackson of the Western Fair board, has as yet received no communication or protest from the Wright Chapter, W. C. T. U., concerning the sale of 44 beer at the booths at this year's fair.

At a recent meeting of this branch of the W. C. T. U. those present went on record as opposed to the sale of beer at the fair where, they stated, it might be sold to minors who would drink the beverage without knowing what it was. It was decided to send a written protest to the fair board.

Up to the present no such protest has been received, and the secretary had no comment to make on the proposed temperance move other than to state that since he has not received the protest he will not have to cross this bridge until he comes to it.

Permission to sell beer on the fair grounds comes as a result of the recent ruling by Premier Mackenzie, who considers the beer non-intoxicating, and has permitted its sale over both counters during fall fairs.

Another Middlesex girl who won honors was Rita Gea of Thorncliffe. She took second place in the nutrition contest.

Other members of the Middlesex team which did exceptionally well were Jennie Brown and Marion Campbell.

R. A. Finn of the department of agriculture, Middlesex, was more than pleased at the showing made by the county team.

Elgin Wins Cup.
Elgin county covered itself with glory, winning the silver cup offered to the twenty-three counties of Ontario competing in the girls' household science judging competition. Represented by teams of three girls each, rural Ontario passed judgment on baking, nutrition, sewing, and good taste in dressing, with an open competition, enlisting the entry of more than 150 country girls.

Engulfing herself in general standing, Margaret Mainland, Newmarket, York county, won highest honors. Among other stars in the county contest, Emma Shantz, Watford, ranked highest in judging baking; Margaret Mainland, York, nutrition; Emily Jarvis, Haldimand, sewing; and Doris Logan, Middlesex, good dressing. York county won second place among county competitors, with Bruce county a close second.

BROKERS ARE UNABLE TO FILL
LOCAL DEMAND FOR NEW BONDS

Orders Up to Noon Today
Oversubscribe Government Loan Issue.

BIG RETAIL BUYING

So great has the local demand for the new Dominion government 15-year bonds that London stock brokers and bond houses have no hope of filling the orders which began to pour in when the new issue was announced.

Placed on the public market yesterday, orders received until noon today will over-subscribe the latest loan by a large figure, according to the prediction of city brokers.

"So strong has been the institutional demand that it is expected that the government will receive only 65 per cent of their requirements," Doug Weldon of Weldon & Co., told The Advertiser. "The private investor demand here has also been unusually insistent."

J. W. P. Jones, manager of Jones, Easton, McCallum & Co., remarked upon the tremendous local demand for the $75,000,000 loan. That the loan would be over-subscribed was apparent as soon as the intention of the government was announced some time ago, he stated.

Of the total $50,000,000 was subscribed by institutions alone, and the Toronto market reports that retail buyers are carrying on for even the most optimistic reports.

FAIR NEAR BUT UNION OBDURATE

Musicians Refuse to Yield to the Demand for Twenty-Piece Band.

BOYCOTT IS MOOTED

Doubtful If Trades Council
Would Back Musicians' Opposition to Fair.

Last night's meeting between the members of the musicians' union and the attractions committee of the Western Fair board was not productive of the amiable settlement which had been forecasted by both sides. The parties interested stated their cases and there the matter stands with the commencement of Western Fair looming in the offing.

The trouble between the fair board and the bandsmen's union is the extraordinary union ruling stating that a band must not play unless it is composed of at least 25 members.

The fair board feel that in hiring two bands they would be doing all that is necessary in paying 20 men per band as this number will be ample.

So far neither side have shown any real inclination to give an inch of the ground they are holding, and last night's meeting broke up without any satisfactory settlement being reached.

Surprise Hinted at.
Both sides claim to have tricks up their sleeves which it is claimed would come as a total surprise on the opening of the fair.

Frank Harley and his associates on the attractions committee take the stand that the fair is going to have music, local musicians or outside non-union talent and if the bandsmen overplay their hand they will find the Western Fair week slip past them.

Chicago Legal Expert Declares
Scott Hearing Was Only Farce.

Associated Press Despatch.
Chicago, Sept. 10.—Revision of the procedure in criminal insanity pleas was recommended yesterday by the 76th annual council of the Illinois State Medical association.

Characterizing the recent hearing which sent Russell Scott, convicted murderer, to the Chester state hospital for the insane as "a farcical proceeding," Dr. J. C. Kraft of Chicago, president of the society, said the case impelled the organization to take its stand.

A committee headed by Dr. Kraft was appointed to co-operate with the Chicago bar association in drawing a bill for the next general assembly which would curb the present vogue of expert alienist testimony.

SEEKING TO IMPROVE
MARKETING CONDITIONS

Special Legislature Committed
Will Confer With Flavell and Connable.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Sept. 10.—In an endeavor to improve marketing conditions in Ontario, the Ontario legislature committee investigating agriculture has arranged further conferences with various interests. Next Tuesday morning the committee will confer with Sir Joseph Flavell and Ralph Connable of Toronto. They will be asked to give suggestions for creating a central control for the foreign marketing of Ontario's farm produce.

The following Tuesday a conference of provincial representatives of departments of agriculture is being arranged.

Dr. Jamieson, chairman of the committee, explained that although the commission of the committee expired with last session of the legislature, the members are carrying on for "love," in the hope that some of their recommendations may be brought to fruition.
