PROSPERITY.

The causes which bring about prosperity or adversity to the community at large are entirely mysterious. Recurrent periods of good times and bad times there undoubtedly are, but why the people of any country should be at one time be exceptionally prosperous and at another time quite the reverse, is a problem which has so far completely baffled human intelligence. Because, if it were understood, effort would be directed towards minimizing the alternation, and providing for a steady mean of progress and comfort. People naturally do not understand what brings prosperity about, but the wisest are unable to predict the course of events in one direction or the other with any certainty. Otherwise the vast differences of opinion which are in evidence would not exist. When all is said and done, mankind is governed by a force outside itself, and the influence of the intelligence, whether individual or collective, is a good deal smaller than in our boundless arrogance we are inclined to believe. To venture upon predictions, therefore, as to a period of general prosperity is to venture upon a guess ground. But at the same time everything seems to point to great prosperity during the coming year on the Pacific Coast generally, and in the province of British Columbia in particular. For a while, in the comparatively recent past, everything seemed to go against this province. In our mining industry there was a falling market and continually recurrent labor disputes. In our lumber industry there was a lifeless foreign demand. In our coal industry there was the sudden competition of fuel oil. In our fishing industry there was the competition of American traps, barring us out of the market and destroying the cream of the salmon from our waters. On every side were conditions of difficulty and discouragement. All that has changed and is changing. Our mines have proven their ability to continue production and to make money. A market for zinc has opened up. The depression in the silver-mining industries. While if the government can only be persuaded to give the Canadian lead market to the Canadian lead miner, the future of that industry is assured.
We suppose it is almost too much to hope for from a Liberal government, but they should understand that lead protection would stimulate the various manufactures of that metal in Canada; so that instead of impoverishing our country by exporting our lead in its crude form, we should enrich the country by exporting our surplus production in its highest form of manufacture. However, we hope for the best.
Governments not amenable to reason, are sometimes amenable to pressure.
Even apart from lead, the outlook for gold, copper and zinc mining during the coming year is uncommonly good. The lumbering industry of the province is increasing by leaps and bounds. A renewed demand for lumber has arisen in the treeless but fertile plains of the Northwest, and our mills are pressed to their extreme limit and will be for a long time to come, to meet it. Our fisheries industry can only be made prosperous by the introduction of traps, by means of which we can capture the salmon before they strike American waters, instead of taking the leaveings of American competition. It is to be hoped that this also as a practical proposition will be capable of penetrating the intelligence of the government at Ottawa. With trap fishing permitted, the British Columbia salmon canning industry would make enormous strides and become far more to the country than it ever has been. The conditions of difficulty and discouragement are rapidly disappearing. On every side we have brisk and expanding markets for all the articles we produce, and the present year looks as though it should be one of great commercial improvement. We need only men and capital, and every day we are proving ourselves to be in a better position to attract them. The outlook was never brighter for this province than it is today. We need not allude again to the immense advantage our coal mines have received through the throwing open of the American market. But it is a most potent factor in our prosperity.

If there are any pessimists in British Columbia at the present time, they are such by constitution, and will never be anything else, no matter what circumstances they find themselves in. The outlook is full of hope, and that hope will be realized, if energy and determination are used to grasp the good things in store for us.

SITONIAN METHODS.

It occasionally happens that chickens come home to roost, political chickens as well as other kinds. During the recent campaign in Dawson, Japanese were naturalized by wholesale and rushed to the polls to vote for ex-Governor Ross.
The government campaigners had of course to explain and defend this, and in doing so, they said so many nice things about Japan, the Japanese and their qualifications for citizenship, that the Japanese Canadian citizens have brought out a candidate for the Yukon Council. His name is Mr. Y. Kawakami.
He was brought out by a meeting at which 80 men were present, and which endorsed the platform adopted by the federal election. One reason given for the meeting for nominating Mr.
Kawakami was that it was "in search of an honest man." The idea of 80 Japanese going out to Dawson like Diogenes with his lantern looking for an honest Canadian to represent them in the Council, and not finding one, they lit upon Mr. Kawakami, is deliciously funny, and it says very little for the opinion of the Canadian politicians who introduced them to the responsibilities of Canadian citizenship. We append some extracts from Mr. Kawakami's election address. His views upon the Oriental labor question, namely that stringent measures must be taken against an influx of white labor into the Yukon, and his confidence of heading the "poles" prove that he has not quite grasped the economic questions in Canada, while, like most foreigners, he finds the intricacies of our spelling and pronunciation too much for him:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, I feel it a pleasure to be here today to express my hearty thanks for your kind support selecting me as a candidate for the Yukon Council in the coming election. Not long ago Mr.
Gordon, the King's counsel, spoke in the A. B. hall that the Japanese are a great nation, that they were responsible in the Russo-Japanese war, and China war, saving the lives of the European minister, women and children in Peking. Not only that, but moreover, we made the great Eastern alliance between Great Britain and Japan to protect commercial interest against Russia.

As far as the Oriental labor is concerned, I am against a flood of immigration into the Klondike district. The Japanese labor is better protected in Japan than in this portion of the territory. For instance, a man works seven months at the windlass, hard laborious work and earns one thousand dollars and the merchant has an offset against the claim of one thousand dollars and there is not enough dust taken out of the ground to pay both. The merchant has his money and the miner that produces gets nothing whereas in Japan the miner gets half and the merchant half therefore the equalization in Japan is better for the work man than it is in this part of the territory.

Oriental labor is not hurting this country at present, but stringent measures must be taken to suppress the influx of white labor into the present condition existing in this country do not warrant it, as mining is the only industry in this country which is overdone at present. I believe, fellow citizens, if you support me to my better judgment the riparian rights on the water front which now amounts to $400,000 or $500, 000 which is now controlled by government ought to go to the local fund and I believe all crafts carrying supplies to the Yukon whether they are propelled by hand or steam should be licensed and wharfage charged according to the tonnage they carry, therefore I will render assistance to legislate a movement for the better welfare of the merchants and citizens of Dawson.

The commerce between Japan and Canada increases very rapidly in manufacturing, farming and fishing and we Canadian must find future markets in Japan and other Oriental countries, therefore it is a most important question for Canada to be in close relation with Japan in time of war as well as in time of peace so we can in turn grant Anglo-Japanese alliance and stop the conflict in the Orient, and communal alliance combines happiness and unity and it is for Canadians to be naturalized and hold offices in Japan. I am satisfied to be elected to the Yukon Council and head the poles with a large majority with the support of the liberal minded Canadian's before me. Therefore I will do my duty. Remember only two votes are to be cast for the many candidates now in the field.

Thinking you once more, fellow citizens and brother Canadians.
We observe by the telegraphic returns that Mr. Kawakami has been elected a member of the Yukon Council. The dominant party in Canada has evidently not reciprocated the favors it received at the time of the Ross election.

FREE TRADE IN COAL.

The United States has removed the duty on coal. This step in the direction of free trade has been dictated to the United States by its own necessities, and has not been inspired by any belief in the doctrines of free trade, nor by any desire to stimulate the industry of coal mining in Canada. We believe this to be the beginning of a process by which all the raw materials produced in Canada will eventually be put on the free list. The United States requires fuel and raw material. It does not desire to procure them outside its own territory, but it is becoming obliged to do so. The necessity of the United States is the opportunity of the coal-mining industry in Canada. The opening of this market will enormously stimulate our coal trade and the development of our unlimited coal measures. It may benefit the United States, but obviously it is a confession of weakness on confession that the natural resources in the way of coal in the United States are not sufficient for the demand laid upon them. We believe that a similar confession will have to be made very shortly by that country in the respect to two important commodities, iron ore and wood pulp. When concessions are made, Canada is ready and willing to take advantage of them, and come they must. The introduction of free trade in Great Britain was brought about purely by a consideration of Great Britain's necessities also. It depended upon the argument that Great Britain's commercial supremacy was dependent upon the free trade policy. That was impossible without cheap fuel and low wages. We believe that Great Britain's supremacy is now being maintained more upon the juxtaposition of coal and iron than, than upon cheap fuel and low wages. In proof of this, it may be pointed out that countries in which, by means of improved transportation, fuel and iron ore are brought together, are rapidly overtaking Great Britain in manufacturing efficiency.

However, that is not our concern at present. We wish to emphasize the fact that the abstract doctrine of free trade was adopted as an orthodox opinion as consequence of practical necessity. Great Britain was short of fuel, just as the United States is short of coal, and the same results have followed in both cases. Still it is not an advantage, but a disadvantage, for a country to be short of anything, nor can any country from its own necessities evolve a trade doctrine applicable to all other countries whose necessities are different. Free trade in coal on the part of the United States will be a very great boon to British Columbia. Both at Fernie and on Vancouver Island a great new class of coal class than the state of Washington. There are no coal mines South of the 49th parallel, and the coal fields must either sell their coal cheaper or lose the business of mining it. We expect to see the coal-mining industry upon the American market that it cannot be dislodged, even if the duty is restored, something which is a great to be very unlikely. Things appear to be coming British Columbia's way, and it is impossible to resist a feeling of buoyancy and optimism regarding the ultimate future of the country, no person that we know of was ever depressed.

THE MINING ASSOCIATION.

It carried out upon the lines suggested at Thursday's meeting, the Mining association should be a great benefit to the province. Our mining laws were originally copied from the laws of provisions made by various states in the United States.
The original mining law, which was passed by the United States Congress in 1872, was a sound piece of very excellent legislation. Yet that copied the spec. law of the United States which was introduced there to enable the Comstock lode to be grabbed under a few locations, and as a distinguished expert remarked had never been used for any other purpose than the grabbing of minerals. Unfortunately the template made to improve the mining law and adapt it to the local conditions of the province have mostly been made by legislatures which did not take the trouble to correlate the different provisions they were passing with those of the United States. It finally dawned upon the members of the legislature that if they tinkered with law much more it would not merely be clumsy and infected and inconsistent, but would become absolutely unworkable. For some years the mining committee have refused to enter upon any amendments, whatever, a safe course, but not one which can be maintained. Mining legislation is a rule not contentions, and as our legislature is nothing if not contentious, this very important branch of its duties is somewhat neglected. A mining association could be of great assistance to the Government and legislature in this respect. We imagine that the association would be more successful if organized in sections with a central administrative nucleus than if local associations were made the basis of representation. The example of the British Association will occur as an illustration of what we mean. We fail to see any difference in a miner's interests whether he lives in Roseland or at Mount Sicker, but we do see a considerable difference whether he is engaged in hydraulic mining or silver lead mining. There might be a section for prospecting, another for hydraulic mining, another for copper mining, another for economic conditions, including the relations between labor and capital, another for government inspection, and so forth and so on. The work of the association would then be the work of adopting, approving, or modifying the suggestions of the different sections, and the work of the central executive that of carrying into effect the approved policy of the association. This, however, is merely a suggestion as to detail, not a criticism of the idea of such an association which is a thoroughly good one. We believe that this association carried out in the spirit in which it has been begun, to be capable of improving conditions, stimulating development, and of harmonizing the relations between different classes of the community. We have never seen a great deal of labor trouble in connection with the mining industry in this country, but we have not yet seen any in which two-thirds of the trouble was not due to mutual suspicion and distrust, and to the fact that the government and the mining industry are not able to open discussion of the economic conditions affecting an industry is of such magnitude of doing a great deal to remove those recurrent dangers of loss and privation through labor disputes.

BETTER TERMS.

Colonel Prior and the Attorney-General leave today for Ottawa on a mission which is bound to have important results for the province and the country. Whatever our disputes may be among ourselves we are all unanimous upon the subject that the relations between the province and the Dominion require adjustment. We are pouring annually into Dominion coffers an enormous sum and receiving a mere pittance in return. Our case is so clear and the grievances under which we suffer so unmistakable, that a measure of justice can surely not be delayed much longer.
For certain reasons the present is a favorable moment at which to influence the Dominion Government. The other provinces are making an organized effort to obtain better terms for themselves.
We do not know their circumstances, and cannot say with what measure of justice. But we do know that the case of British Columbia is so much more grievous than theirs could possibly be, that it would be hard for any government to recognize their wants and deny our just demands. The recognition has
