Nations in Race for South Pole

New York, Jan. 7.—A report sent out from Washington that an Antarctic expedition is to be launched soon under the auspices of the National Geographical Society, is taken here to mean that the end of the year will see three great nations—England, France and the United States—engaged in an exciting race for the South Pole.

France is already represented somewhere within the Antarctic zone by Dr. Jean Charcot, who sailed south from Rio Janeiro on Oct. 22, 1908. Nothing has been heard from him since April 17 last, when his wife received a letter from Deception Island.

England is about to send two expeditions. Yesterday it was announced in London that the British government stood ready to advance $100,000 for the expedition to be commanded by Captain B. C. Scott, a veteran Antarctic traveller. Lieut. Ernest R. Shackleton, who reached the south ern point on January 9 last, is also preparing to head a party to follow that of Captain Scott.

According to the plans, which only await execution until sufficient funds have been raised, the American party will sail south aboard the Roosevelt, the same ship which enabled Commander Peary to reach the North Pole. It also appears probable that at least three of Peary's most efficient men will be leaders in the search for the earth's southern pole. They are Capt. Robert Bartlett, Professor Donald McMillan and George Drup.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that was ever made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one doesn't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by all dealers.

Prevents as well as Cures

"Father Morrissey's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) Goes a Step Further Than Other Cough Medicines.

Left to themselves, most "Common Colds" will run their course and depart. But they leave reminders in the shape of lingering, irritating coughs and weak throats and lungs.

There are many cough medicines on the market that help to stop a cold, but they do it because they contain Opium, Morphine or similar drugs that simply quiet or deaden the irritation, but do not remove the cause. Such medicines do little or no permanent good and often a great deal of harm, particularly to children.

"Father Morrissey's No. 10" is made of Roots, Herbs and Balsams, without a trace of Morphine or any other harmful drug. It goes straight to the root of the trouble and removes the cause of the cough. It restores lungs and throat to a healthy condition, tones them up, and makes them stronger than ever to resist colds and more serious diseases. Trial bottle, 25c. Regular size, 50c. At your dealer's or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B. 12

Thanking one and all for their kind patronage during the past year and trusting for a continuance of same during the ensuing year. We wish you a HAPPY and PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

THE COURTIER.

The influential Briton in Siam flattered himself that he had a very decent knowledge of the language, and was ready to do great things. He had already ordered coffee from his hotel-waiter with success, and asked the boy to bring him up his boots.

Now influential Britons in Siam are not as common as cockroaches, and that afternoon the distinguished visitor was requested by a friend to deliver an address on Britain at the only ladies' seminary in the country. Confidently he accepted.

He began famously. Everyone applauded and smiled. But gradually, as he proceeded, he noticed consternation overspreading the countenances of his listeners.

"What's the trouble?" he whispered in English anxiously to his friend on the platform.

"Trouble?" exclaimed the friend, hotly. "Why, the trouble is what you are saying!"

"But," protested the speaker, "I am saying, 'I am delighted to see so many young ladies rising to intellectual heights, with fine brains and large appreciation.'"

"Oh! no, you're not!" corrected the friend. "You're saying, 'I am pleased to see so many small lioneses growing large and fat, with big noses and huge feet!'"

A COUNTER CLAIM.

He was a mild looking gentleman, with gold-rimmed glasses, but he strode boldly up to the lawyer in his office, and asked:

"If a person falls down an open coal-hole, can he sue the owner of the premises for damages?"

"Certainly, sir," replied the lawyer "certainly! Big damages—and get them, too!"

"Well," went on the client, "as my son was passing your house this morning, he fell through a coal-hole and broke his leg."

"H'm!" said the lawyer meditatively. Then briskly: "Did he use ordinary vigilance to prevent such an accident? Did he stop and examine the condition of the pavement before stepping on it? Answer me that, sir!"

"Why, no—"

"Ah!" triumphantly ejaculated the man of law. "I thought not! The boy is guilty of criminal negligence, for he might have fallen upon one of my family under the coal-hole—might have killed us all, sir! As it is, I shall sue him for trespass! Good-day!"

THE ABSCONDER.

A countryman drew up in a four-wheeler opposite the British Museum, and, having alighted, timidly approached the cabman and tendered him one shilling and six pence as his fare. Cabby, desiring a half-sovereign among the coppers, whipped up his horse and drove frantically away. Hearing cries from the yokel, who ran after the cab, he had an attack of deafness, until, nearing Holburn Viaduct, he was stopped by a policeman.

The yokel, much out of breath, soon came up with the cab, and cabby by mentally bade good-bye to the half-sovereign.

"I ain't got nothin' of his," said the driver, turning appealingly to the policeman.

"Yes, he hev," said the yokel. "He ran away wi' me grandmother."

Sure enough, there was the old lady still in the cab, and staring pale with fright, at the crowd and policeman.

IMPEDIMENTS.

A commuter hired a Swedish carpenter to repair some blinds on the outside of his house. During the day the commuter's wife looked after things and once or twice came out to see if the man was getting on all right.

"Is there anything you need, Mr. Swensen?" she asked on her second trip.

The carpenter gulped once or twice, but made no reply. The lady repeated the question.

Again a gulp and no answer.

"Why don't you answer me sir?" said the lady indignantly.

The Swede turned and looked down at her gravely.

"My mou't is full of screws," he said, "I cannot speak until I swallow some."

BOY COUGHED UP A NEEDLE

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 10.—Surgeons at Kittanning, Pa., had placed Norman Barnett, the little son of George Barnett, on the operating table today to cut out his appendix, but just as the instrument was ready the lad was seized with a fit of coughing which saved him. He coughed up a needle, which is believed to have caused his illness. He is rapidly recovering.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Are Overcome By

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

The kidneys have a very important work to perform in preserving health. All the blood passes through them over and over again and they filter it, removing all the impurities and worn-out muscle and tissue which the blood gathers up, in microscopic particles, in its flow through the body. These impurities are then expelled through the urinary system.

When the kidneys for any reason fail to perform this function, and the impurities are left in the blood, about the most distressing series of ailments which afflict mankind follow. First there is the aching back and a feeling of weariness, and then, as conditions grow worse, comes Rheumatism, Gravel, Diabetes, Gall Stones, Inflammation of the Bladder or the dreaded Bright's Disease.

The man or woman who allows kidney trouble to develop into any of these diseases is doing himself or herself a grave injustice, particularly when a cure can be had so readily. One of the constituents of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills is a Diuretic, which strengthens and stimulates the kidneys, enabling them to do their work thoroughly and with ease. These Pills also increase the action of the bowels and the pores of the skin, which remove some of the impurities, thus lightening the work of the kidneys.

Mr. Geo. Whitney, of Buffalo, N.Y., says they worked wonders for him. He writes:

"Your Doctor Morse's Indian Root Pills have worked wonders in my case. I suffered for six years from liver trouble and kidney ailment. If I tried one medicine I tried a dozen, but without good results. Your pills were recommended and they cured me after using four boxes."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills should be taken at the first sign of back-ache, of rheumatism, or of any difficulty in urinating.

A COUNTRY OF HOMES.

Out of the total land area of 13,483,671 acres, about 37.68 per cent, of Nova Scotia is occupied by farmers. Of the remainder, comprising pasture or wood land, rocky swampy, or marshy land, about 50 per cent, can be cultivated or grazed. The rest is a rocky, rough area, abounding in lakes where prospectors in search of gold and other minerals, and where sportsmen in quest of land or water game, find their paradise. Divided as it is, the Province presents one of the most attractive places for comfortable farm homes to be found anywhere, affording every opportunity for those whose interests lie solely in work and being equally inviting to those of the poetical and artistic spirit who revel in a country where, within easy access of the most busy farming scene, one can lie away and shooting, boating and all other "hasen'the luxuries of camping, fishing, and es of a healthy out-door life.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR INVESTMENT.

If British capitalists knew the chances for investment that exists in Nova Scotia they would inquire diligently into the conditions that obtain here. It is of supreme importance in determining cost of transportation that factories can be erected at tide water and so be in close touch with all foreign markets. Foundations upon which profitable industries can be established have already been broadly laid; the conditions of life are similar to those in Britain—an important consideration in assembling large bodies of operatives—and the incoming capitalist will meet the cordial co-operation of the people. There is no good reason why Nova Scotia should not manufacture all, or nearly all, her own cutlery, crockery ware, nails, hinges, farm implements, fishing gear, pickles, paper, furniture and many other articles of common use.

Whence the Wonderful Bread-Life in Five Roses

DO YOU know, Madam, that billowing from the Lake of the Woods clear to the snow-peaked Rockies are the finest wheatlands that ever threw back golden kisses to a smiling sun? Our selection of a birthplace was indeed most judicious. We cannot too fervently congratulate ourselves over being born Canadians, can we?

All the infinite resources of Provident Nature have concentrated to produce in our own Northwest a perfect food berry. It is the cream of this Manitoba wheat crop, not the skim milk, that maketh FIVE ROSES quality. And Manitoba wheat, owing to climate and soil is the prime cereal of the world.

Just listen to the explanation of Sir James Grant, a real C.M.C.:
 "The intense winter frost penetrates deep into the ground. In the spring when the soil is ploughed, harrowed and planted, the lower depths are not greatly disturbed; but in the warm summer months this cold storage chamber of nature imparts gentle moisture to the roots of the grain, keeping it cool during the intense heat. Therein lies the goodness of the only wheat fit for FIVE ROSES."

If you, Mistress Housewife, with your own white hands, were to pick the very cream of this fine wheat, wouldn't it mean perfect flour?

Yet, you couldn't be more fastidious than our expert buyers. Just as you wouldn't let Mrs. Brown do your shopping, we watch our own wheat buying and selecting. Wherever the fairest crops are harvested are one of the 75 FIVE ROSES elevators, sifting the perfect berries. Years of practical knowledge and experience stand behind each buyer, who is well-paid to know where the rare grains grow. We have the money and the skill to control the very best. Certainly your interests are well looked after.

Believe us, Madam, FIVE ROSES contains only the plump, wholesome, well-filled berries of the spring wheat; the mellow sun-ripened, transparent berries. All this and more is yours if you will but say "FIVE ROSES" to your grocer: FIVE ROSES bread—life, healthfulness, purity, strength, economy. Read the label, Madam, and be flour-happy at last.
