THE New Encyclopædia Britannica, 11th Edition, is a vast repository of human thought, learning and experience brought down to the summer of 1910. In virtue of its comprehensiveness and unflinching devotion to the exposition of knowledge, it combines three features of the widest usefulness to the present generation.

- 1.—It is a register and detailed summary of the world's life and progress.
- 2.—It is a complete inventory of extant knowledge reduced to an A. B. C. simplicity of arrangement.
- 3.—It is an index to all knowledge, not less than to all common things in which an intelligent person is likely to be interested.
