

fortified by the Last Sacraments. His death was edifying. He had asked me to inscribe his conversion in your Annals."

***

"I come to acquit myself of a promise I had made to publish in the Annals of the Precious Blood a favor which I had asked for a long time, namely, the conversion of my husband from drink. I have obtained from Saint Anthony of Padua that he would go to a place of cure for drunkards. He has left off drinking. For twenty five years I had prayed and asked for prayers; I obtained some little alleviations, but he would always recommence the habit, and would not go to be cured.

All at once the Precious Blood and Saint Anthony decided the affair. My husband went out of the house much intoxicated, without sense or judgment, he went straight to the house of cure for drunkenness. He had no remembrance of his journey; and his sense did not return to him until two days after he had gone there.

"My Reverend Sister, please help me to thank the Precious Blood and Saint Anthony of Padua. My husband is entirely changed. There is the same difference as between day and night. I thank you for all your good prayers to the Precious Blood. V. B. B."

***

"I am happy to come as many others do, bringing my tribute of thanksgiving and gratitude to the Precious Blood for several graces with which I have been favored after the Novena recommended in the April No. One of my sons, recommended several times to the prayers of the members of the confraternity of the Precious Blood, and who has been an incorrigible drunkard, is now almost cured of that fatal passion, and, on account of his better conduct, has obtained a most advantageous position. Another of my children, after the Novena was made, went to the United States and found there an excellent situation, and, since that time, has never been out of employ-