THE only secret about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is in the selection of the best materials for the cure of coughs and colds, and skilfully combining them by chemical processes.

E. B. PALMER, the sculptor, writes from Albany, N.Y., December, 1879: "At the close of a letter I have just received, the following good words for your great remedy appear, and they are so entirely in unison with my views that I send them to you. Here they are: "During more than thirty years we have been using Pond's Extract, and for all the little ailments, and many of the larger ones that flesh is heir to, we esteem it the most valuable of remedies."
