

Toronto Markets.

PRODUCE.

Trade has been rather quiet, but prices have been generally steady since our last...

FLOUR.—But little demand has been heard and prices have been rather easy...

OATMEAL.—Nothing doing in car-lots; small lots are unchanged at $5.25 to $5.75...

WHEAT.—Has been scarce, and in good demand all week...

OATS.—Have been scarce and quick of sale. Car-lots sold last week at 42 1/2 to 43c...

BARLEY.—The enquiry has continued to be active at firm prices all week...

PEAS.—There has been a ready sale for all offering. Prices, however, showed no variation...

RYE.—Sells at 70c. on the street.

CORN.—Car-lots have been sold at 72c. on the track.

PROVISIONS.

BUTTER.—Receipts and stocks are on the increase; buyers less eager to purchase...

CHEESE.—Is unchanged at 14 to 14 1/2c.

EGGS.—All offering sell at 20 to 21c.

PORK.—Is quiet and easier, one lot sold at $21.50, and small lots at $22.

BACON.—Is quiet and unchanged. Hams are in better demand with sales of smoked at 12 1/2 c., and small lots at 13 to 13 1/2c.

LARD.—Is unchanged at 14 1/2 to 15c.

HOUS.—Have been in fair supply; car lots have sold at $8.20 to $8.25c., and small lots of choice at $8.35, but the market closes easier with no buyers over $8.20.

Special Notice.

ELECTRICITY! THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ELECTRIC OIL!—WORTH TEN TIMES ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.—Pain cannot stay where it is used. It is the cheapest medicine ever made...

Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents.

S. N. THOMAS, Phelps, N. Y.

And NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Sole Agents for the Dominion.

NOTE.—Electric—Selected and Electrized.

Publications.

TO SABBATH SCHOOL TEACHERS &C.

NOW READY.—THE INTERNATIONAL SCHEME OF LESSONS FOR 1875.

Adapted for the use of Presbyterian Sabbath-schools. Sent post free to any part of Canada at 50 cents per 100.

THE SABBATH-SCHOOL WORLD, Edited by Dr. HALL, contains Notes on these Lessons. Price 50 cents per annum, post free.

JAMES BAIN & SON, Toronto.

"EVERY SATURDAY"

MERGED INTO

'Littell's Living Age.'

THIS LIVING AGE has been published for more than thirty years, with the warm support of the best men of the country...

THREE AND A QUARTER THOUSAND double column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly, forming four large volumes. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue...

LEADING FOREIGN AUTHORS will be given, together with an amount unapproached by any other periodical in the world, of the best history and scientific matter of the day...

THE ABLEST LIVING WRITERS in all branches of Literature, Science, Art and Polite Literature, are indicated by the following records

OPINIONS.

"Reproduces the best thoughts of the best minds of the civilized world, upon all topics of living interest."—Philadelphia Inquirer

Address—LITTELL & GAY, Boston.

CLUB PRICES

FOR THE Best Home and Foreign Literature.

"Possessed of THE LIVING AGE and one or other of our various American monthlies a subscriber will find himself in command of the whole situation."—Phila. Bulletin

For $10.00 (covering postage on both periodicals) instead of $10.00 with postage not prepaid, as heretofore THE LIVING AGE and either one of the other four dollar monthly magazines (or Harper's Weekly or Bazar, or Appleton's Journal, weekly) will be sent for a year, or for $9.20. THE LIVING AGE and Scribner's St. Nicholas. Address as above.

POSTAGE FREE!

Now is the time to Subscribe to Harper's Periodicals.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. The Magazine has done good, and not evil, all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle

HARPER'S WEEKLY. The ablest and most popular illustrated periodical in this country.—Louisville Courier Journal

HARPER'S BAZAAR. The Organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveller

TERMS FOR 1875.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, One year, $4.00

HARPER'S WEEKLY, One year, $4.00

HARPER'S BAZAAR, One year, $4.00

One copy of either will be sent for one year, Postage Prepaid by the Publishers, to any Subscriber in the United States, on Receipt of Four Dollars.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, HARPER'S WEEKLY, and HARPER'S BAZAAR, for one year, $12.00, or any two for $7.00, postage prepaid by the Publishers.

An extra copy of either the MAGAZINE, WEEKLY, or BAZAAR will be sent gratis for every Club of Five Subscribers, at $4 each, in one remittance, or Six copies for $24 without extra copy, postage prepaid by the Publishers.

JUST RECEIVED!

THE ANNUAL VOLUMES,

Of the following Periodicals for 1874:

THE SUNDAY MAGAZINE, $2.

THE QUIVER, $2.

KIND WORDS, 9c.

LITTLE FOLKS, 9c.

CHAPTERBOX, 9c.

JOHN YOUNG, U. C. Tract Society, 102 Yonge Street

PRESBYTERIAN Year Book & Almanac

(FOR THE YEAR 1875.)

And to be continued Yearly.

Edited by REV. JAMES CAMERON, CHATSWORTH, ONT.

WILL BE OUT EARLY IN DECEMBER.

THE YEAR BOOK is intended to be a handy book of reference on all important matters connected with the Presbyterian Churches of British North America, a means further of spreading information among Presbyterian people, as to the history, work and prospects of Presbyterianism in this land and in other lands, as a beginning also in the work of collecting statistical, ecclesiastical and historical materials that may be useful in after times as a contribution to the history of the Presbyterian Church in this section of North America, and as an offering, lastly, from Canada to her sister Presbyterian Churches throughout the world, for the furtherance of the work of spreading information among Presbyterian people, and of bringing into view the scattered branches to know each other better, and of uniting them in a work as may be common and possible to both.

The YEAR BOOK will, therefore, contain a calendar marked with the names of the officers and members of the four Churches now negotiating regarding Union; the Presbyterian Colleges in the Dominion, with names of Professors and subjects of study, sketches of the origin and progress of some of our leading Presbyterian Congregations; a glimpse of the branches of the Presbyterian family in other parts of the world; obituarious of Presbyterian Ministers in Canada deceased during the past year; together with short articles on Presbyterian literature and practical matters, such as Presbyterian literature in the Dominion, Pastoral Sustentation Fund, Mission Work, and Ecumenical Council of Presbyterian Churches.

Correspondence has been opened up with leading men in various countries for obtaining official documents and personal information, and our replies have been prompt and cordial.

Neatly Bound in Stiff Paper Wrapper, 25 cents. In Limp Cloth, 40 cents.

JAMES CAMPBELL & SON, Toronto.

And all Bookellers and Newsdealers.

REFRINTS

OF THE

British Periodicals.

The political ferment among the European nations, the strife between Church and State, the discussion of Science in its relation to Theology, and the constant publication of new works on the kindred topics, have created a general interest to the leading foreign Reviews during 1875. Nowhere else can the inquiring reader find in a condensed form, the facts and arguments necessary to guide him to a correct conclusion.

Leonard Scott Publishing Co'y.

41 BARCLAY St., New York,

contains the reprint of the four leading Reviews a volume.

EDINBURGH REVIEW, (Whig)

LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, (Conservative)

WESTMINSTER REVIEW, (Liberal)

BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW, (Evangelical)

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

TERMS:—Payable strictly in advance.

For any one Review $1.00 per annum

For any two Reviews, 2.00 "

For any three Reviews, 3.00 "

For all four Reviews, 4.00 "

For Blackwood's Magazine, 7.00 "

For Blackwood and two Reviews, 10.00 "

For Blackwood and three Reviews, 13.00 "

For Blackwood and two Reviews, 15.00 "

The Postage will be prepaid by the publishers without charge to the subscriber, on the express condition that the subscriber will invariably in advance at the commencement of each year.

CLUBS.

A discount of twenty per cent will be allowed to clubs of four or more persons. Thus, four copies of Blackwood of one Review will be sent to one address for $28.00; four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $48, and so on.

To clubs of ten or more, in addition to the above discount, a copy gratis will be allowed to the getter up of the club.

PREMIUMS.

New subscribers (applying early) for the year 1875 may have, without charge, the numbers for the last quarter of 1874 of such periodicals as they may subscribe for.

Or instead, new subscribers to any two, three, or four of the above periodicals, may have one of the "Four Reviews" for 1874; subscribers to all five Blackwood's Magazine for 1874, for one set of the above premiums to subscribers no discount to clubs can be allowed unless the money is remitted direct to the publishers. No premiums given to clubs.

Individuals with further particulars may be had on application.

The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 BARCLAY ST., New York.

A REPRESENTATIVE & CHAMPION OF AMERICAN ART TASTE!

Prospectus for 1875—Eighth Year.

THE ALDINE,

The ART JOURNAL of America.

ISSUED MONTHLY.

"A Magnificent Conception Wonderfully carried out."

The ALDINE is a popular medium for the representation of the artistic and scientific progress of the age, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art, so soon as a proper appreciation of the want and an ability to meet it were shown, the public at once rallied with enthusiasm to its support, and the result was a noble artistic and commercial triumph.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and successful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it ceases to be read.

THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo, besides.

THE ALDINE must be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art, but is equally open to all the various and different pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. The ALDINE is a unique and original conception—unlike any other journal or magazine. The possession of a complete volume can not duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there is the chromo