Grand Requiem Mass.

CELEBRATION AT THE BISEOP'S CATHEDRAL FOR THE LATE CARDINALS ANTONELLI AND PATRIZZI.

One of the grandest and most solemn services which has been held for some time took place on saturday morning last in the Bishop's Palace, Mon-Saturday morning the section of the Requiem Mass sung treal, on the souls of Cardinals Antonelli for the repose of this source of Cardinais Antonelli and Patrizzi. Mgr. Fabre officiated in person. The Vicar-General, Rev. H. Moreau, acted as assistant priset. The deacons of honor were Rev. Canon Plamondon, procureur of the Bishop's Palace. and Rev. Canon E. Moreau. The deacons of office were Rev. Canon E. Adin and Charette. Amongst the worship-Messers. Addin and Canton and Bishop of Bertha; Rev. pers were Mgr. Pinsonneault, Bishop of Bertha; Rev. Father Fleck, superior of the Jesuits; Rev. Mr. pelavigne, director of the Montreal College; Rev. Delavigue, unterest of the monitorial contege; hev. Father Sentennes, of St. James Church ; Rev. Father Verreau, Principal of the Normal School; Rev. Mr. ORourke, of St. Ann's, and Rev. Mr. Graton cure of St. Henri. The Oblats, Grand Seminary, Parlsh Church Henri. 110 Conato, Claude Commany, Farish Church and all the Roman Catholic religious institutions were represented, as well as a large number of lay worshippers. The music rendered was grand and mousing in the extreme. The mass chosen for the occasion was selections from the most beautiful portions of eminent compositions, by Marthoeo Asols, Alfieri and Cordans. The Dies Iræ, by Alfieri, Asons, Aller, by Aller, is one of those grand masterpeices, in which ourbursts of fear, love and praise are successively expressed. A number of the singers in the choir were clergymen who have visited St. Peter's, in Rome, and finer music could not be heard out of the great Basilica. The mass sung is one of those frequently rendered at St. Peter's, and was executed to day for the first time in Montreal. The choir was composed of about 40 male voices, amongst others being Rev. Canon Bicks, Dr. Desjardins, Dr. Trudel, Messis: F. Lefeb. HICKS, Dr. Desjaloung, Dr. Frauer, Hoesis, F. Lefel-vre, A. Renaud, O. Girard, F. Flinn, F. Giroux, and it was under the leadership of the Cathedral Master of the Chapel, Mr. J. Sheridan. In the Bishop's Church where the services are strictly Roman, and observed in the minutest detail, they are the same as when His Holiness the Pope officiates. The music enerally is from the works of Palestrino, Vittoria, Duranti, Anerio, Zachariiss, Gallo, Lotti, Giocornelli and others. The choir boasts of voices such as Dr. Desjardins and Dr. Trudel, not often met with. They are well able to do justice to the great tone masters. The service throught was majestic; in fact we have never heard anything so sublimely beautiful in Montreal before. The congregation chiefly belonged to the higher classes and there were few who did not express the profound feeling of devotion and admiration they experienced.

After the ceremony in the church, we had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Trudel, whose magnificent tenor voice we have frequently eulogised, sing in the Palace, a charming composition of his own, after the style of Arditti's celebrated valse. It was a rare treat. From the favours the Roman Catholic Church in Canada constantly received through the good effices of the late Cardinals Antonelli and Patrizzi, their memories are greatly revered by the clergy and people.

A service was held at Notre Dame yesterday for the repose of the souls of the two Cardinals, at which Rev. Messus. Bayle, Maille and Valois officisted .- Evening Star, 20th inst.

Roman Catholic Saint-Worship-Is it Idolatry?

In the Roman Catholic Church, at Napanee, on Friday night last, Father Brettargh, of Trenton, delivered a carefully prepared lecture upon the abovo subject, to a large and influential audience, whose attention was fixed from the beginning to the end. In some respects the lecture was a romarkable one, and being written, all superfluities were discarded, a fact which renders a synopsis of comparatively little value. We have only space for the merest sketch which will convey, intelligibly, an idea of the line of argument pursued. To do the lecture justice, it should be published entire. The choir enlivened the interval of waiting with excellent music, and conducted the musical part of the closing exercises with much acceptance. Father Brettargh commenced by saying that no doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church was more appears to meet with popular favor everywhere. notwithstanding the attacks of the German press, assailed than this one. It was subjected to all kinds of attacks, from the course jest of Calvin "that the saints must have long cars," to the direct charge of idolatry. He proceeded to point out that, if they were in the wrong, it was an excess of religion rather than a lack, if they adored the Saints they did it from too much love for God rather than too little ; theirs was an error, if it was such, of superstition, their opponents was one of infidelity. Saint-worship comprised two things, veneration or adoration of the saints, and a claim upon their prayers. He pointed out the meaning of adoration and that in the Anglican marriage service, the man addressing the woman says, " with my body, I thee worship"---Justices were adressed as "Worship," The meaning of the word was wide and among many other examples of its use he stated that the Psalmist used the same word, translated worship, to indicate the homage due to God, and to the King. In order to sustain a charge of idolatry it must be proven that honor is paid to the saints as if they were Gods, and are expected as such to answer petitions addressed to them. Though the outward act wis the same, the interior was different. ' They prayed to God as such, and to the saints as men chosen of God. He proceeded to enquire what saints were, defining them to be what the bible call "just men." They were all who had gone to heaven. They were asked how they knew who had gone to heaven? They did not know, but if they prayed to any not there God would see the intentions and answer accordingly. Protestants acknowledge God in His works, but they called adoring Him in his saints superstition and idolatry. Catholics preferred adoring through the latter which were greater than the former. The saints were the shadows of God's virtues, and he was impelled to love them. Those who loved God would also love those whom God loved. They were notasked to grant but to obtain, and they were powerful advocates. He gave some instances from Church history of prayer to the saints, and admitted that the Scriptures offered none, but claimed that none were dead when the Gospels and Acts were written, and as the Epistles were written for special purposes, it was not necessary that reference should there be made to saint-worship. The less said about the Revelation, was the better. However, the Catholic Church, having existed before the Scriptures, it was not necessary to look to them for everything. He mentioned that saints could hear. because it was not probable that God would give more liberty to the devil than to his chosen, people. The lecture closed with a full list of authorities for the practice of the Church.-Nopanee Banner.

institution of the priesthood, was one which cannot be forgotten by the favoured hearers.

The Rev. Father Conway, who was the first pas-tor of North Adjals parish, of which Alliston forms a part, also delivered an impressive address complimenting the present worthy pastor, and congratulating the people on the erection, and completion of the beautiful edifice.

The Church is built of white and red brick, is 100 feet in length by 38 feet in width, tinned spire, with gilt cross; height from ground to the top of the cross about 185 feet.

The Church was built under the superintendence of Mr. A. C. Thompson, Architect, Barrie, and in accordance with plans prepared by him, under the direction of Rev. Father Gibney. The design is a modification of the style of ecclesiastical Architecture which largely obtained in the fourteenth century.

The brick and stone work was done by the well known Contractors Kavanagh & Sons, of Schomberg, and was performed in the most creditable mauner. Messre. Maginnis & Aitcheson of this Village had the Contract for the remainder of the work including the Altar. These gentlemen have also fulfilled their contract to the entire satisfaction of all parties.

The Windows, stained glass, were put in by Mr. McCausland, Toronto.

The cost of the building, all told, amounts to about $10,000, and when the amounts already subscribed shall have been paid, the debt will not exceed $1,200 or thereabouts.

The above may be uninteresting to your readers but, I think, when they read the following, they will appreciate the energy of the good priest, and the generosity of the people of Alliston and North Adiala

Six years ago there was only one Catholic family in this Village. Until about 18 months ago the most sanguine amongst us could scarcely entertain the hope that we would have a Church for years. But what are the facts ? Since that time the sites for the Church and a Priest's residence have been purchased, and paid for. On the last Sunday in May last the corner stone of the Church was laid by His Grace the Archbishop, and before the expiration of the year—within the short space of seven months, the Church, which is pronounced the neatest north of Toronto, is completed and solemnly blessed, and the sacrifice prophesied by Malachi offered within its walls. I imagined, Mr. Editor that some person more competent, would have written you touching these to us interesting matters ere this otherwise I would CATHOLIC. have done so sooner. Alliston, Jan. 18th 1877.

A Bishop's Carriage Seized for School Taxes.

In St. John, N. B., on the 30th ult, a constable presented himself at the Palace and called for the Bishop. He was armed with the executions for the taxes assessed for some three years on the Catholic schools, Portland, N. B, amounting to between S200 and S300; and he was accompanied by an assistant. The Bishop, when he learned what the constable wanted, refused to pay these school taxes, and the constable intimated that he must therefore take his person or his property in satisfaction of the execution. The Bishop told him there was property enough for him to take, and directed his man to show him the contents of his stable and coachhouse. After some hesitation the constable took the carriage which was presented to the Bishop some years ago by the Catholics of St. John. It has been often said of late that the New Brunswick School Question has been settled. The seizure of the Bishop's property, under an execution for school rates levied on the school-house which Catholics have built by voluntary subscription, and in which their children are educated, without any aid from the taxes they are compelled to pay, will prove very conclusively that the question is not settled.

The Presidency.

The arrangement proposed by the joint committee of Congress, to ensure the fair and equitable count-Except among the extreme Radicals, no one to have any objection to urge against it; and it looks, at the present time, as if we were going to find in that proposition a way out of the difficulty which threatened to bring the majorities in both branches of Congress into collision. It is, undoubtedly, only an expedient, and no principle will be settled and no precedent will be established by it. But even for such small favors let us be thankful. The collision of parties at the present time is an evil by all means to be avoided and deprecated ; and they are the best friends of the country at large who pursue that policy by which we may find a peaceful solution of our difficulties .- Irish American.

The Pilgrims who will take the direct route for New York from Toronto, Kingston, Hamilton, and London, will make a general Communion before leaving their respective starting-places. TRUE WITNESS.

SECOND EDITION,

" LA COMPAGNIE IRLANDAISE,"

THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS :

A NARRATIVE OF

THE IRISH CONTINGENT DURING THE

FRANCO-GERMAN WAR.

M. W. KIRWAN,

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Captain Kirwan has given, in the work now before us, a simple and interesting narrative of the fortunes of the Irish Company during the disastrous French campaign. None could have qualifications for the task of chronicling the vicissitudes experienced by the gallant little corps than its able and accomplished commandant. The tale is told with earnestness and vigour, yet withal there runs through it a vein of humour which betrays the nationality of the writer. The style is graceful and graphic, and even those who disapprove of the enrolment of the corps for the French service will sympathise with the story of its hardships and difficulties, its trials and daugers, so touchingly narrated by Captain M. W. Kirwan."-Irish Times.

"An admirable epitome of stirring events, which must prove deeply interesting to a numerous circle of readers. We can honestly congratulate the author and the public on the manner in which the volume has been produced."-Freeman's Journal.

"All through this interesting work-the style of which is graceful and graphic, and which we expect will soon be in the hands of thousand of young Irishmen, and will be read amid breathless attention by many a hearthstone in Ireland-the author exhibits a fine soldierly spirit, and a good deal of that capacity for producing effective word pictures of such stirring scenes as he has gone through. The pictures drawn in this volume of the sufferings of Irish soldiers during the terrible winter of 1870-71, are truly heartrending, and should be read by all who desire to have a clear conception of the realities of a soldier's life in time of war. Nowhere are the utter disorganization and incapacity of the French 'Commissariat' more clearly brought out than in those pages. This volume is, on the whole, a record of Irish chivalry, Irish endurance, and Irish bravery, of which this country may well be proud, and for which Irishmen will feel grateful to the patriotic and gallant Cantain of LA CONFAGNIE IRLANDAISE."-Nation.

"The case and dash of the true soldier are apparent in every line of this lively narrative. In the style which is fresh and fluent, we can trace the hand of a man who can command language as well as men, who, unlike Myles Standish, can write as well as fight. Men nover suffered greater hardships or endured greater privations than the Irish Company of the Foreign Regiment during the late War. The frost bit their shoeless feet; they were often almost devoured by hunger, and their bed was generally the snow sludge, and mud, mud, several inches deep. But in the midst of all this, the Irish soldiers never lacked the spirit of their race. Whoever reads Captain Kirwan's ac-count of "LA GOMPAGNIE IRLANDAISE," will feel himself all the better for having made the acquaintance of men, who were, with a few exceptions, high exemplars of honour and celf-sacrifice; and those who still survive to recount the hardships of the campaign will feel that they owe the author a debt of gratitude for having carefully collected and eloquently recorded the Reminiscences of an adventure full of romance."-Irishman.

"An interesting book, full of animation, and portraying with a masterly power many of those characteristics which distinguish our countrymen in situations of difficulty and danger. Captain Kirwan proves himself not less ready with his pen than his sword, and one cannot rise sal of his book without feeling a thrill of pride that Ireland can produce such men as himself and those who followed him through the stirring, but disastrous, events which he so ably describes .---Ulster Examiner. "This book, which we have perused with a careful avidity, is really one of the best of the class we have seen issued from the Press. It has the true dash of the soldier about it, its style being easy and graceful, possessing none of that painful ruggedness which distinguishes the generality of many latterday publications. It also has an especial interest attached to it by its being a truthful, authentic, and detailed account of the hardships and privations, endured with characteristic and hereoic fortitude by the Irish Company, which tollowed and partook of the fortunes of the French Army. The Author's vivid description of the severe outpost duty, his racy account of some few prominent characters, his familiar parrations of the terrible conflicts in which they were prominently engaged, will, from the first, seize the attention of the reader, and lead him on through moving incidents of flood and field."-Tuam Herald. "Captain Kirwan's interesting book proves that the men that followed him were in reality of ' the stuff that a soldier's made.' They underwent without a murmur privations absolutely distressing, even to be read of, in the depth of a rigorous winter; they were badly clothed, and all but famished, and yet they answered the bugle note, which sounded for action, with joyjul alacrity, and from the officers commanding the division they won again and again the warmest praise."-Tipperary Free Press.

Presentation to Ex-Alderman Heney of Ottawa.

At the close of the City Council meeting, a pleas-ing episode occurred. His Worship Mayor Waller requested the members to keep their seats at the adjournment, which they did, and he then left his chair and advanced to Ald. Heney, stating that a pleasant duty devolved upon him. He then read the following address:

To Alderman John Heney.

DEAR SIR -In retiring from the position of Alderman at this Council Board, in which capacity for twenty years consecutively you have carnestly and honestly represented one of the wards of this city your fellow members desire, by a little memento, to mark their appreciation of your many good qualities of head and heart; and, at the same time, to congratulate you, after so long a term of public service, on the useful and honorable record which you leave behind you. They would, therefore, respectfully ask your acceptance of this gold chain and locket, not for the value of the articles, but as a token of goodfellowship and good will-a slight mark of appreciation and respect-and they trust you may be long spared to wear them; and, though out of the Council, still in other spheres of usefulness, to aid in promoting the moral and material welfare of our

Signed on behalf of the members of the Corporation of Ottawa.

W. H. WALLER, Mayor.

Ottawa, January 8, 1877. The recipient of the gift was completely taken by surprise. Mr. Heney said that he never heard the first hint of it. He felt proud at having received such a token of their regard, and would ever cherish it as a memento of old companionship. He did not consider that he deserved such a mark of appreciation, for while at the Board he had simply endeavored to do his duty, working for the interests of the city at large, striving to do justice to all regardless of creed or nationality. While at the Council Board he had ever been treated with courtesy and kindness. He would wear the beautiful gift with the greatest of pleasure during his life.

The chain and locket were of gold, elegant in design and finish. They cost some $50,-Free Press.

THE SUSPECTED MURDER -There is considerable excitement yet over the Hull mystery. Men are engaged drawing water out of the slide pond this afternoon. The prisoners are still in custody. The Hall authorities however, are not taking such active steps, as they should to unravel the mystery.

The London Telegraph's Pera correspondent says the Porte has sent telegrams to its Ambassadors at various Courts, informing them that while rejecting proposals of the Conference, it undertakes faithfully to extend new constitutional liberties to all its subjects. The Turkish Ministers have given their word not to attack Servia before the expiration of the armistice.

CCRLING .- QUEBEC, January 22 .- The match to day between the Quebec and Ottawa Curling Clubs for the Caledonian Medal resulted in a complete victory for the latter. They being ahead both in Quebec and Ottawa on all the rinks. The total score in Quebec is-Ottawa, 56; Quebec 40. Majority for Ottawa, 16. In Ottawa the Quebecers were in a minority of eleven at the close.

A widespread association, under the name of "Federation and Liberty," has been discovered in Moscow, whose aim it is to make Russia a Federal Republic. The Empire is to form five separate States united by a federation. The dynasty is to be set aside, the aristocracy abolished, and communal and Republican institutions to be introduced on the most democratic basis. Numerous arrests have consequently been made in Moscow.

SILVER .- There is also good reason to believe that a vein of silver, four feet in width, has been discovered in the Gatineau district. It was found by a habitant, who thought it was galena. Its value was not known until this winter, and there-can be nothing done with it until spring, as the snow is so deep, and the landmarks showing the location of the lode are covered. The specimens of ore which have been brought from it are exceedingly good.

THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE -TORONTO, 22nd. January .- The Speaker took the chair at 3:10 p.m. After routine. Hon. Mr. Pardee presented the report of the Crown Lands for 1876. Hon. Mr. Mowat referred to the sad death of Mr. Fleming, the member for South Waterloo, a gentleman who had been highly respected in the Honse, and who had filed numerous municipal offices. He moved the adjournment of the House, out of respect to his memory. Mr. Cameron seconded the motion; and the House adjourned at 3:45.

THE QUESTION OF THE DAY-By a vote of twenty-four to fourteen the Dominion Board of Trade on Thursday endorsed a resolution to the effect that the present tariff does not deal fairly with Canadian interests and that any revision should be in the direction of protection. The vote was reached after a protracted discussion, in which the arguments, pro and con., were pretty well exhausted. The conclusion is that which the Star has urged for many years. We are pleased to read that the Premier and the Hou. Messrs. Burpee, Vail and Smith were present during the debate, and trust that what they heard will be talked over at the next Cabinet Council and have its due weight in the composition of the Budget -- Evening Star.

"There is, throughout this lively narrative, the dash of soldierly candour and simplicity, and the book may be read as a faithful sketch of the partaken by our countrymen in the late Franco-German War,"-Mayo Examiner.

"Captain Kirwan's book is a capital work, brilliant, racy, entertaining. We and must do him and his men the justice to say, that under the most trying difficulties, dangers, and hardships, they gallantly upheld the honour of Old Ireland. We feel proud of the brave Captain and his men, and would that the honour of our country was in their keeping under such dreadful trials and terrible disasters. - Werford People.

"Full of dashing and glowing description of the formation and exploits of the Irish Company of the Foreign Regiment in the service of France during the War of 1870-71. The narrative-for such it may be called-is exhaustive in detail, and the inevitable monotony attendant on the life of a soldier, when "off duty," is relieved by the gallant young Captain introducing, here and there, occasional flashes of true Hibernian wit and quick. repartee."- Carlow Post.
