Canadian Technical Tape Limited is a privately held company which has been manufacturing pressure sensitive adhesive tapes since 1950. With a wide range of adhesive tapes, the company has been exporting for most of its history and currently ships product to 40 countries worldwide. Within the product range manufactured, the key tape lines include Masking, Carton sealing, Cloth and certain specialty items. Included in the last category for the healthcare market are sterilization tapes: an Autoclave Indicator tape as well as an Ethylene Oxide Gas Indicator tape.

In export markets, Canadian Technical Tape Limited generally ships container quantities to major distributors within a geographical market. The firm's distributors would sell to many key end users including General Motors, Ford, hospital associations in France and the United States. Canadian Technical Tape has two manufacturing facilities in Canada, and one in the United States. In each of the plants there are quality assurance labs and for some products, they meet ISO standards. Canadian Technical Tape is interested in developing further distribution and offshore markets in South America, Europe, Africa and the Far East.
