the most dangerous rebel operation comparatively close to the capital is that directed by Gen. Juan Francisco

Lucas.

President Huerta has at Torreon 5000 men and 4000 at Monterey. At Tampico the federal garrison is approximately 2000, and always there remains the waterway from Vera Cruz to reinforce Tampico. Huerta has declared that he will continue to send troops to Torreon until the gar-rison there numbers at least 10,000. Military men profess to believe that there is much doubt about the ability of the rebels to take Torreon, even after they obtain armunition, which they were in need of. Not a few are convinced that the rebels are likely to be checked in their movement that the results of the convention of the conven outhward both at Torreon and Tam-

Europe May Aid Huerta. Precident Huerta's calm attitude after the lifting of the embargo on arms seems to have gained him some tres it is believed that he has slightly more favorable prospects of obtaining money, tho perhaps indirectly, from European sources.

But, even without foreign assistance, it is certain that he will be able to extract from local sources many millions. Of this he has made no secret, repeatedly saying that if the worst befell he would take money where he could.

The owners of haciendas adjoining State of Mexico have been notifled that they will be expected to loan the government money on their land, and it would cause no surprise if spe-cial taxes were imposed on all property in the capital and the other cities in which Huerta is still in con-

MEAL AT CHURCH HOUR

Montreal Preacher Says Canadian Cities Are Cultivating a Bad Habit.

The need of the main building of St. Alban's Cathedral, which is now in course of erection, was strikingly shown at the evening service there yesterday. Chairs were placed in the aisles of the church and even with this the case it was found necessary to have a row of chairs between the front pews and the altar. Some of the late arrivals made use of the steps leading to the north exit as seats.

Archdeacon Paterson-Smythe of Montreal spoke of the ostentation and show of the people of today. A generation ago it used to be the custom to make friendly calks, and when guests at-tended a dinner it was for the sake of

A Bad Habit.

Another habit which was becoming all too prevalent in Montreal, and which should not be allowed to grow in Toronto, was that of holding the evening meal during the hour that church service was held.

That it was not the most favored who selze the opportunity offered was who seize the opportunity offered was shown in the case of the Jew, and the Gentile, said the preacher. In Mont-real there were about 50,000 Jews, and in Toronto also a great number, but what are they doing for God? The race which to begin with was so favored by the Lord is not today working for God. Why do not those girls go into housework? They prefer the definite duties in shops and factories, the definite hours of work where they are free the balance of the time. In the factories the girls are called 'mis,' while in the house they are called 'Jane.' It has been suggested that domestics should be called 'house helpers' or 'homemakers' for the sake of keeping Canada a good place for girls. A training place in Toronto was suggested where girls could obtain certificates as homemakers or house helpers so that they would be somewhat like trained nurses.

who are to continue at school, for wirls who have gone to work and for girls in rural districts. It appeared to the commission highly desirable that in towns and cities all girls should attend the continuation class in house-keeping subjects once a week, until at least 18 years of age. Then there should be middle housekeeping schools with courses for young girls at home, housekeepers and house servants.
