ver, are, upon the lowest valuation, not less than three millions of Dollars per annum.

And on this Scheme Sir Charles Wager was fo intent, that in a few days after this first conference, that is, on November 18, Mr. Anson received an order to take under his command the Argyle, Severn, Pearl, Wager, and the Tryal Sloop; and other orders were iffued to him in the same month, and in the December following, relating to the victualling of this fquadron. But Mr. Anson attending the Admiralty the beginning of January, he was informed by Sir Charles Wager, that for reasons with which he, Sir Charles, was not acquainted, the expedition to Manila was laid afide. It may be conceived, that Mr. Anson was extremely chagrined at the losing the command of so infallible, so honourable, and in every respect, so desirable an enterprize, especially too as he had already, at a very great expence, made the necessary provifion for his own accommodation in this voyage, which he had reason to expect would prove a very long one. However, Sir Charles, to render this disappointment in some degree more tolerable, informed him that the expedition to the South-Seas was still intended, and that he, Mr. Anson, and his foundron, as their first deftination was now countermanded, should be employed in that service. And on the roth of Fanuary he received his commission, appointing him Commander in Chief of the forementioned fquadron, which (the zirgyle being in the
