Budget of Interesting News Glanned In the District on Saturday—Thompson-Barby skiff on Yiew.

The East End was altogether given over to music on Saturday, and Small's Park had plenty of it. Waltzes and marches with dancers to respond to them went on uninterruptedly at Victoria Park; the fine band or the 48th Highlanders was the centre of a promenade concert in Munro Park, and the big annual picnic of St. John's Church, East Toronto, with the deep love for music inborn in Catholic breasts, drank in its strains at Blantyre Park the livelong day.

The Blantyre Industrial School was The Blantyre Industrial School was inspected by a number of visitors on Saturday, among them being some of the Mimico officials. All expressed themselves as much pleased with what they saw. The boys are becoming proficient in the various trades taught, and they made the gay uniforms of the school corps. There is nothing of the prison about the place, and so far not a boy has received a flogging. In not a boy has received a flogging. One kindly old priest, who acts as an instructor, explaining the methods of discipline, told a World reporter that when a boy misbehaved himself he found that a multiplication sum was about the most effective punishment. The plan would appear to be working well for two appear to be working well, for two boys who got away recently returned of their own accord.

St. John's Pienie. With music, dancing, games, drill and tea, in gaily illuminated grounds, INDAPO celebrated its annual pichic at Blantyre Park on Saturday. Rev. Father Hart and the Christian Brothers were in charge of the affair and nearly 500 people were present to enjoy its plea-sures. Colored lights were everywhere sures. Colored lights were everywhere and the visitor could easily imagine from the scene of beauty that he was on enchanted ground. Great fun was caused during the evening by the bicycle competition ticket selling for the West End represented by Miss Kelly and the East End by Miss Curran of East Toronto. After a dangerously close contest the bicycle was won by contest the bicycle was won by

Captured by an East Toronto Detective. Leo Wold and Lizzie Burton, two Americans, who have been operating their light-fingered trade in many places in Canada, have been captured by Detective Cockburn of East Toronto at Berlin, where they were riffing the pocket of a lady standing on the rail-way platform. Both showed a lot of indignation by way of a bluff, but the detective wasn't to be put off in this way. The American authorities had telegraphed about the pair, and four or five detectives were on their

Scarboro Bluffs was a particular favorite among resorts on Saturday. The road leading to it has been widened for carriage entry and makes de-lightful, smooth and easy riding. All the afternoon and evening parties of men and ladies sped in from the hot and dusty Kingston road to cool them-selves at the cliff and indulge in iced refreshments at the pavilion after-
