ing discussed in official circles. Influence is being brought to bear on the government to abandon the old practice of selecting men merely because they have big handles to their names. It is argued that Canada and the other sister nations of the Greater Britain have outgrown the stage of tutelage, and governors should be chosen from the inner circle of young men, who, though in the position of under secretaries, really rule the destinies of the empire. Thus, instead of the Duke of Abercorn, or Lords Hertford, Kintore, or Hopetown, these reformers urge that the best Canadian governor would be a man like Hon. George N. Curzon, Hon. W. St. John Broderick, Hon. James W. Lowther, or Sir Edward Grey. These enjoy the highest social position, now bear a large share of the real burdens of the Imperial Government, and will, beyond doubt, take the very first rank among British statesmen in the near future. BUYING BATTLESHIPS.

London, March 5 .- Spain has purchased two cruisers which the Armstrongs have been building for Brazil, the Amazonius and a sister ship, unnamed, of 4,000 tons each, 23 knots and 10 guns. Spain is also negotiating for and will probably secure two cruisers of a similar type which have been building in France for Brazil. The Amazonius is ready for launching, and her sister ship will be ready shortly. The Spanish Government is endeavoring to secure guns and large supplies of ammunition in Engiand and on the continent for immediate use. Government of Spain seems to have funds, for it is understood to be paying a large part of the purchase money in cash, giving good security for the balance, these being the only terms upon which the Armstrongs would deal. A letter from Madrid says it is definitely reported there that a fresh Spanish squadron destined for Cuba is being organized at Cadiz. It consists of four ironclads-the Carlos V., Pelayo, Alfonso XIII., and another, geveral gunboats, and a transatlantic steamer. Active work is also proceeding on the torpedo boat Prosperina, Audaz and Osada, and upon the torpedo boats Habana, Retamoso and Barcelo, which form the second torpedo boat flotilla which Spain is sending to Cuba.

SENSATIONAL REVELATION

Alliance. London, March 5 .- The Paris correspondent of the Daily News finds a sensational revelation regarding the Franco-Russian treaty in a speech made at a banquet by M. The book of destiny lies open to our eyes, but to act our part well we must begin our preparations at once. But how will we do so if France is absorbed and distracted by miserable quarrels? The springs of her policy should, to be successful, tend to intervention when those natural vicissitudes have ripened the Austrian question. That intervention should be her great present aim; but, again, how shall we prepare? If internal dissensions go on, with the instability and weakness that must be the consequence of such dissensions, they will leave statesmen without the power to develop the new Franco-Russian policy, which is held in germ in the treaty of alliance or to draw from that agreement all the consequences that the two great nations expect for their own grandeur and the general good of civi-

Rome En Fete-King Humbert's Congratulatory Address.

Rome, March 5.—The jubilee anniversary of the Italian constitution was celebrated yesterday with general rejoicings. The city was filled with visitors, who thronged the handsomely decorated streets. At 8 o'clock the great bell in the capitol signaled the opening of the feres, and an hour later king Humbert, on horseback, accompanied by the Count of Turin and the foreign military attaches and the minister of war, attended by a brilliant suite, rode to the San Marco Esplanade, where he reviewed 8,000 troops of the garrison. The queen viewed the march past of the troops, and their majesties met with an enthusiastic re-ception from the crowds present. Novel Expedition to the Klondike Region.

The Victorian Order of Nurses to Go There to Take Care of Sick Miners.

Government House, Ottawa,

March 4, 1898. To the Editor of The Advertiser: Every newspaper we take up tells us of fresh travelers to the Klondike. Allow me to tell your readers of the Victorian Order of Nurses' Klondike expedition.

Those who have read letters from pioneers who have gone into the country, and especially any who have noted letters from the missionaries who were sent forward, will remember the emphasis laid upon the sufferings of those who have been overtaken by accident or illness or frostbite. Under these circumstances the hardships which press heavily enough on travelers in perfect health must become terrible indeed; and heavy must be the hearts of those whose friends and relatives are amongst the adventurers who are seeking their fortunes in these inhospitable regions. And, let alone the ordinary chances of sickness, we need reflect but little before we realize how great must be the danger from epidemics and fevers during the brief, intense summer, in a district where no sanitary arrangements exist, where swamps abound and where crowds are pressing in day The work of the Victorian Order is but in its infancy and it needs all its resources at the present time for the work of its training homes now being started at Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Halifax and elsewhere. But the provisional committee felt that it could not remain deaf to a call such as this for help, and decided that the order must prove at once its national character and its worthiness of the name it bears by sending a contingent of Victorian nurs es to the Yukon to work under the direction of the medical men there. Four fully trained efficient Canadian nurses of experience will therefore be ready to start for their arduous post by the end of March or sooner, if we receive sufficient special contributions to equip them. The government are affording us all possible facilities and assistance and the nurses will be under the special protection of the Northwest Mounted Police. But it is estimated that the outfit, the year's provisions and the I salute those generous men who com- medical appliances for each nurse will spot, the Victorian Order will not lack for means for prosecuting and developing its work. Those devoted women fear not to face the perils and privations which their mission must necessarily impose on them. On the contrary, they rejoice at such an opportunity being afforded so soon to the Victorian Order to show what nurses may do for suffering humanity under the most adverse circumstances.

And as they are prepared to go forth in this spirit we fear not to send them, and we are confident that we shall not appeal in vain to their countrymen and countrywomen to supply the Victorian Order with adequate means to equip them fully.

Mothers and The Kindergarten.

[Special Correspondence of the Advertiser.1

With the kindergarten so generally accepted as desirable for children from 4 to 7 years of age, it surprises one to find how many men and women have Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Aiways Kill hour, in a kindergarten, to observe its actual working. Every citizen has a citizen's interest in the schools and kindergartens, but every parent has besides a direct and personal interest, and should know them at first hand. That the parents are not personally familiar with them accounts for the fact that with kindergartens in every ward, many children are still sent dithe great difficulties which he alleges rectly to the public schools at 5 or 6 years of age. A half-day spent in a kindergarten would convince the father of any 5-year-old that life would mean more, and come more easily to his child, after two years spent in the kindergarten, than ever otherwise could. If a father's occupation prevent his visiting schools, the mother should not have to confess that she does not know her children's teacher by sight, and that she has never seen the room in which outside of the family. His kindergar-

Froebel's book of "Mother Play" was mothers themselves, as for their children. Most mothers have had no special training for motherhood, and have made no special study of child-nature, or of children's needs. When they find their children about in there is not often time to spare to rn what can be learned from books, even if they know the books they need. Many such mothers have been helped by a few hours spent in the kindergarten, where they see the children busy and happy, learning many things in the way natural to children-through play. The occupations of the kindergarten are those used by mothers in all these occupations or a few of the simple little songs and games will help a mother through many dull or fretful days in directing the childish energy paragraph in M. Deschanel's speech to which the correspondent refers runs thus: "The first years of the twentieth century must witness by the effect of natural vicisaitudes in Austria to the description of the twentieth century must witness by the effect of natural vicisaitudes in Austria to the idea of the interdependence of all seat and Mr. Morin meandered on.

Seekers after gold are often disappointed. Seekers a ter health take the work of the kindergarten, which she will find there symbolized in song and story, in gift and game. The first is the idea of the interdependence of all london, Ont.

The kindergarten child sees this principle illustrated, first, in his fingerfamily, where mother, father, brother, sister and baby, help one another, but it recurs again and again in story, song and play. It is brought out in talks of the trade, where he sees that the miner works for the blacksmith, the blacksmith for the farmer, and the farmer for all the other workers; and in the nature talks, through which the child comes to realize how sun and rain, wind and frost, co-operate to produce beautiful flowers and fruitful fields. Closely related to this is the idea and of the catterpillar into the butterfly. Tracing effects to their causes, step by step, the child comes himself to see that "however long the chain of second causes may be, the first link is always in God's hand." Chi'd-life will be happier, and numanity nearer to its ideal when every mother is familiar with Froebel's principles, and practices them in her life with her
