MISSIONARY REPORT.

In presenting the Annual Report of the Association for Missionary and Benevolent purposes, it is the pleasing duty of the Session to congratulate the Congregation on its continued prosperity generally. A prosperity, it is to be hoped, not only to be marked by numbers or gifts, but by a growing piety and continuous peace.

A report like this is supposed to give a faithful account of what has been done during the year for the special purposes indicated—and, granted it is so, can it be truly said that all has been done by us, as a Christian Society, that ought to have been done. We fear not. The numbers and ability of the Congregation should produce a better result in Missionary efforts; and while some give liberally—a few, it may be, more than they ought—many forget that the Lord not only "loveth a cheerful giver," but, "where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

The Treasurer has received during the year $431 78, (including a special donation of $25 for Knox's College,) as against $414 82 in 1867, showing an increase of $16 96. In addition, the Congregation
