LATE LOCALS

West India steamer Oceanic, Capt. Buchanan, sails this afternoon for Halifax and West Indies. The ferry steamer Ludlow bumped in the east side landing last evening and damaged some of her woodwork.

P. Giffins, general manager of the D. A. R., left Wednesday for Boston on route to London to attend the annual meeting of the D. A. R. company.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Dixon was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her late residence, 31 Brook street, to Cedar Hill cemetery where interment was made.

The tug Flushing, which has been lying at Indiantown, has been thoroughly repaired and painted and will go on the route immediately. It is reported that she has been engaged to tow barges of coal from here to Parraboro, N. S.

Miss Pitcher, of Netherwood College, will deliver a lecture on the English Lakes, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the art studio, 140 Denison street, for the benefit of the Free Kindergarten.

Repairs to the country market lavatory have not yet been completed. In addition to the broken pipe, which has been patched up, the filling has become displaced and Mr. Maxwell is waiting for favorable weather before he can go on with the work.

The English mails, which arrived at Halifax on the steamer Empress of Ireland, arrived here this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The Maryville and Marathons will come together in the Marathons on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, and if the Maryville players are victorious they will be the amateur champions of the province and the winners of the N. B. Hockey League.

Richard J. Jones, who was lost from the steamer Virginian, on the voyage from Liverpool to Halifax, was born in Halifax, and lived for a number of years at the northeast corner of Gerrish and Mainland streets.

AN EXPERIMENT SAYS ALD. BAXTER

Alderman Baxter was interviewed by a Times reporter this morning relative to the new system of civic elections. He said: 'The new system, if it becomes law, must not be looked upon as ending discussion or thought upon the subject. Personally, I have for years been of opinion that a district system has more advantages than any other, but as the proposed system was the only one on which a majority of the council could agree, I have been in favor of it for years.'

OBITUARY John R. C. Wilson

The death occurred about 3 o'clock this morning of John R. C. Wilson, at his residence on the west side. Mr. Wilson had been confined to his home for about six weeks, and death is attributed to Bright's disease and heart trouble.

Mr. Wilson was about 47 years of age, and was employed with John E. Moore in looking after shipping interests. He was a son of Jarvis Wilson, sr., and leaves besides his father, a wife, five step-children, two brothers and one sister.

CHIVALRY IN INDIANTOWN

James Patterson Preparing to Break a Lance With a Monster Bull Frog.

There is every evidence that the days of knight errantry, long since mourned as dead, are about to be revived in Indiantown and if the stories related in that picturesque burg are correct, a new page in the history of chivalry is about to be written by as bold a knight as ever fought north the red pile of Chandos or the scutcheon of the house of Loring.

Judging from the awesome tales told of this Brobdignagian amphibian it is no mean antagonist, even for the doughty and strenuous gentlemen of the storied past, will be but as the twinkling of a slow fading star, compared with the noonday glare of his prowess materialize he will undoubtedly shed a lustre on his family arms, judged by which the fame of St. George or Sir Galahad or the other illustrious gentlemen of the storied past, will be but as the twinkling of a slow fading star, compared with the noonday glare of his prowess materialize he will undoubtedly shed a lustre on his family arms.

When he finishes his trap and selects his pike-pole he will go to the market and buy a pair of country mittens, as the north end is also shy on knightly gauntlets. Then will he lay forth to the corners of his pond and hunt the mits at the frog as a symbol of his defiance. If Mr. Frog comes out, well and good, but if not, James will go in after him, as Mr. Patterson has no objection to doing battle under water or in the air. It is expected that for a time there will be real fighting between the two.

ATHLETIC CONTESTS

Interesting Tournament in Mission Church Gymnasium.

A series of athletic contests which are being held in the Mission church gymnasium, in Paradise Row, are proving of great interest to the boys competing in the different events. The contests were commenced in November last and a meet has been held monthly since then.

The classes, in which there are about twenty-five boys are under the direction of Arthur Boyne. The senior boys compete in eight events, as follows: 100 yards; standing broad jump; three standing jumps; backward jump; potato race; quarter-mile run; standing hop, step and jump; and standing high jump.

The prizes for the senior boys is a handsome silver cup, standing about ten inches high, lined with gold, and bearing two flags crossed on the front. The junior prize is a very pretty silver tankard.

THE EVERY DAY CLUB

At a meeting of between forty and fifty enrolled members of the Every Day Club last evening it was decided that the rule to exclude boys must be enforced, except in the case of boys accompanied by father or other brother. The entertainment committee was strengthened and an effort will be made to have brief talks by good speakers on topics of interest as a part of the entertainment several evenings each week.

MACAULAY BROS. & CO. EVERY MAN WANTS SATISFACTION IN THE SHIRT HE WEARS.

Satisfaction—that is the word that sums up qualities and characteristics of our Shirts. They satisfy because they're correct in style, latest in pattern—when you desire neat, genteel stripe or figures on White ground.

They satisfy because they're correct in style, latest in pattern—when you desire neat, genteel stripe or figures on White ground. The fabrics from which they are made are the best.
