DECEMBER.—Every farmer should subscribe for a good Agricultural paper. He should read it attentively, and experiment on the plans proposed for successful cultivation, carefully noting the results. Agricultural Societies should be sustained. It would be advisable for the farmers of a neighborhood to meet together in order to discuss subjects of practical importance, and thereby necessitate rigid thinking, promote intellectual improvement, and benefit the country.

ROOM FOR MORE.

After Santa Claus had put a cabinet organ, a sealskin jacket, a tea-gown, a box of gloves, and a Webster's unabridged dictionary in a Chicago girl's stocking, and saw that it wasn't half full, he was seen to climb out on to the roof, sit down in the snow, and weep bitterly.
