

MATTER AGAIN
DISCUSSED IN BRITISH HOUSE

Protest Lodged Against Conditions of Shipping

HULL STIRRED

Little Hope of Live Animals
Landing At That Port,
Says Paper

LONDON, March 22.—Interest in shipments of Canadian store cattle has been revived considerably in England during the last few days following a discussion which took place in the House of Commons and certain letters of protest as to the conditions under which cattle are shipped.

The agitation has taken a new angle in Hull, which was formerly a port at which cattle were shipped and which is admirably suited for the delivery of stock so far as the surrounding grazing land is concerned, which is admitted by some as the finest in northern England.

LACK OF FACILITIES.
The Hull Daily Mail in an article this morning declared that "there seems to be little hope of a revival of the shipment of live cattle from Canada to Hull." The reason for this, according to the Mail is that the docks there are owned by a railway company, which declines to provide necessary land facilities.

REPORTS HEARD RE
AMUSEMENT TAX

Rumors Come in From Fredericton Relative to Increase in Figure

Rumblings from Fredericton indicate some amendments to legislation governing the amusement tax. Theatre managers and managers all affected by the amendment must hear various reports, the chief of which is that a minimum tax of three cents will be imposed on all entertainment tickets up to 25 cents, followed by a pro rata increase as the admission figures grow larger. However, this report has not been affirmed nor denied by the government officials.

These owners say the tax, while it affects their business, is one upon the public and patrons will have to bear any increase. At the present time the tax is one cent on tickets up to 25 cents, two cents on tickets higher than 25 cents and up to 50 cents; five cents for 50 cents up to $1, and a straight basis of 10 per cent after that. When a travelling show or concert party comes to Saint John there is a cent on a 150 ticket, and 50 cents on a $3 ticket.

Special Meetings In
Main Street Church

Good congregations were present at both services yesterday in the Main street Baptist church. At the morning service the subject of the sermon was "What Main street needs more than an evangelical campaign." Rev. A. K. Herman stressed the need for each member of the church living the true Christian life if the most effective work was to be done by any church. At the evening service his subject was "The Biggest Fool in Saint John." He based his remarks on the parable of the rich farmer and from this drew the inference that the man who was simply a materialist and egoist was a man whom God classed as a fool. The special meetings will be continued this week and next.

FILMS AND FIRE
IN DISCUSSION

Common Council is Asked
About Alterations To Building

Matter of Building Law in Case
Goes to Committee of Council

At a committee meeting of the Common Council this morning consideration was given to an application of John Flood & Sons for a permit to make certain alterations to the second floor of the building at the corner of Union and Hazen streets for use as a film distribution office. The matter was referred to a sub-committee of the Council.

Commissioner Harding read a letter from Messrs. Flood asking for permission to make the proposed alterations. They submitted a plan and specifications. These provided for a projection room at the rear of the building and the installation of three Taylor film safes to hold the films. The cost of the work would be about $1,200.

LETTER FROM INSPECTOR

He also read a letter from the building inspector, which that official pointed out that film display rooms were supposed to be located in fire-proof buildings and that the building to be used was not in that class. The fire underwriters opposed the proposition, the building inspector said and he thought it was a matter for the fire chief and fire marshal and City Council to deal with.

SEEKS NO OBJECTION

Commissioner Wigmore said if the quarters were used at present without any safeguards, he could not see any objection to allowing the alterations to remove some of the fire risk. Commissioner Bullock wanted to hear from the fire chief and fire marshal. Commissioner Harding moved the matter be referred to a sub-committee. This carried, and Commissioner Harding, Wigmore and Bullock were appointed.

FINE HORSES ARE HERE FROM ENGLAND

Shipment of 27 on S. S. Parthenia, Some of Them
Noted Winners

Comfortably stalled in modern cars for their long journey to Calgary 27 blooded English horses—some real aristocrats—were loaded off the liner Parthenia at Long Wharf today. They are a splendid looking lot of animals and attracted many horse-lovers to the dock. Capt. W. R. Lidington is the owner and for several years has been trading extensively in racing stock though never before has he brought more than four or five. If he does not sell all the animals he will take the remaining ones to his ranch in Alberta, which is about 20 miles from that of the Prince of Wales.

FAMOUS HORSE HERE

Chief among the horses in the shipment leaving here this afternoon is "By George," a sire credited with $17,000 in "purses" during his career and father of 104 winning sons and daughters in notable English flat events. "By George" was beaten only twice and on both occasions came in second. Another fine racer was "Marcus," formerly owned by Lord Roseberry. In fact the 27 horses all have some worthwhile blood. Besides his cash winnings "By George" captured the Hesperus Plate and the Imperial Produce Cup.

OAK HALL TAKES ANOTHER BIG FORWARD STEP

With characteristic unbounded faith in the present and future of Saint John, Oak Hall management announces another big forward step in the form of an exclusive department for women's shoes, which will be opened in the immediate future. The past ten years have been marked by a constant broadening of the Oak Hall business. Only a few years ago they erected their striking new building on King street. At that time the Oak Hall business was confined wholly to men's wearing apparel. Soon, however, they branched out into a women's ready-to-wear department, which today occupies a complete floor. They followed the bargain basement, which took Saint John people by storm. The men's shoe department was the next step and like every other branch of the establishment met with very marked success. The ladies' barber shop and ladies' hairdressing parlor are more recent evidences of the unwavering faith of Oak Hall management in the hometown prosperity.

Now comes the announcement of the near-at-hand opening of Oak Hall women's shoe department. Built upon recent records, the success and popularity of Oak Hall women's shoe shop are already assured. Every enlargement and expansion of Oak Hall has met with the hearty approval and ever-increasing patronage of the people of Saint John, owing to the great care exercised in making, in every case, the right start, in having what people wanted at the prices they wanted to pay. The opening of Oak Hall women's shoe shop will be awaited with keenest interest.

This So-called
"Buying Power"
The advertising writer of another Furniture firm met the writer of this space in friendly chat the other day. "I grant everything else you write in your ads," said he, "but don't you think you claim a lot by telling the public that J. Marcus Ltd. pay less than other firms for equal quality? Any furniture firm can get Marcus prices from the manufacturers."
"Sure they can in theory," was the rejoinder. "But do they? If your firm buys 200 of a certain article at a time—and they have the cash on hand to take the cash discount—they'll get a smaller price than if they bought two or three suits—possibly every bit as low a price as the Marcus buyers."
"But you know you don't buy in Marcus quantities—and if you did you would have to have a volume of business like J. Marcus Ltd. to get it all sold before the interest on the investment eats up the reduction obtained by such heavy cash buying."
The point was then admitted that only J. Marcus Ltd. can sensibly buy in Marcus quantities—Marcus pay less to the makers and so are better able to quote lower prices to the public.
