

The Royal Arms Armistice Ball

The Armistice ball of the Royal Arms chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire is looked forward to as one of the happy events of the year, and this year's Armistice ball added still greater triumphs to the chapter's successes. The Pythian Castle was brightly and attractively decorated for the occasion and a large number of guests thoroughly enjoyed the dance, which was admirably arranged. Large flags were suspended from the gallery, along the front of which flowering plants made a pleasing decoration. Along the walls red flowers, glowing poppies and evergreen ropes added to the brilliancy of the scene. Just as the dawn of Armistice Day arrived, it was heralded with a merry confetti dance. Whistles blew to salute the day and many colored streamers were flung among the dancers. A five-piece orchestra provided an excellent dance programme with seventeen numbers and many extras. One of the most popular dances was the spot-light. Downstairs where the refreshments were served the tables were prettily arranged with yellow candles and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. T. H. Carter, the regent, received the guests, and every member of the chapter took some part in carrying out the affair so successfully. The general convener was Mrs. W. H. Turner, and she was assisted by Mrs. Roy Gregory. The pouring was provided over by Mrs. E. Z. Fowler and Mrs. E. S. Stephenson. The convener for the refreshments were: Mrs. T. H. Carter and Mrs. G. G. Corbet. The ices were served by Mrs. L. M. Curran and Mrs. Norman Gregory. The tickets were in charge of Miss Daisy Stephenson and Miss Muriel Carter. The decorations were under the convenship of Mrs. F. Z. Fowler. Among those who assisted with the serving were: Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Ashford, Mrs. Corey, Mrs. Ashdown, Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Wil-

Bridge tables were provided for a few of the guests who did not care for dancing.
