WENT OVER NIAGARA FALLS, DYING IN U. S. & POOR HOUSE

New York, March 6.—Mrs. Anna Edson Taylor, the first person to go over Niagara Falls and live, is dying in the poor house in Lockport, N. Y. Nearly blind and without friends, the woman who risked her all to provide funds to pay off the mortgage on her home and keep her from want for the rest of her lifetime, now finds herself the subject of charity, and with the Potter's Field staring her in the face.

The famous stone cow of Alan, France, is the centre of a light between the ministry des beaux arts in Paris and the peasants of the village. The ministry has twice sold the cow, which dates back to the fifteenth century, and each time the buyers have attempted to remove it and the peasants have fought with pitchforks and clubs to prevent its removal.
