Breeding Needs Betting
Toronto, Oct. 2.—Several spirited verbal tilts between the various witnesses called by the racing interests and Mr. Ramsey representing the Social Reform Association culminated the morning proceedings of the second day's session of the racing inquiry here today. Secretary W. P. Fraser, of the Ontario Jockey Club, refused to allow Mr. Ramsey to repeat the words of the club and accused the latter of a breach of confidence when allowed to do so on an earlier occasion. Mr. Henderson Bond, manager of Mrs. Livingston's Coburg farm, stated that if the closure on racing was made permanent, breeding operations at this extensive establishment would be discontinued. Francis Nelson, well known sporting writer and racing judge, said during the course of his examination, that racing alone could not succeed without systematic betting and that it was a national industry which required a big supply of funds to enable it to continue. Crowds on race tracks were the most widely in the world and the existence of betting did not attract unruly elements. The pari-mutual system he considered superior to any other form of speculation as it gave better racing and made higher purses possible. Racing at half mile tracks was necessarily inferior to that at a mile track. His patronage was entirely local. The witness did not think that four tracks were too many for Toronto but that there were too many at Windsor for the benefit of racing. He wouldn't admit that the owners of the Fort Erie track were professional racing men from the United States. On the contrary Mr. Madigan, the principal owner, was a British subject. W. P. Fraser said that the discontinuance of racing had affected the enjoyment of many people, and that the O. J. C. meetings were social events of the greatest importance.

Grand Circuit.
Lexington, Ky., October 2.—Transylvania Day brought out the largest attendance of the Kentucky Trotting (Horse Breeders' Association) meeting and the race while it ended after three heats had been trotted under the three heat rule, was exciting. Prince Loree after trailing his field into the stretch came like a shot at the finish and covering the last quarter in 29 seconds, won by a length from Holly Road Kate. The second choice, Royal Mac, went to a wild break on the back stretch and finished last after trotting a half in one minute to save his distance.

CINCINNATI WINS

SECOND GAME IN WORLD'S SERIES

Defeat Chicago White Sox By a Score of 4 to 2—William's Wilderness Responsible For Loss of Game

The Cincinnati Reds again defeated the Chicago White Sox by a score of 4 to 2 in the second game of the world's series, which was played in Cincinnati yesterday afternoon. The defeat was not nearly so decisive as that of the initial contest, but the victory was clean cut and the National League champions are given due credit.

Williams, Gleason's left-hand star, was on the mound for the Sox and the defeat can be directly attributed to his nervousness and subsequent wildness. He was in good form and held the Reds to four hits, but he walked six men and put himself in a bad hole. The White Sox hit Sallee with hard hitting iron safeties, but "Slim" tightened up in the pinches and held them scoreless with the exception of one inning.

The victory for the Cincinnati Reds has made a deep impression and they are again ranked favorites, although they entered the series on the small end of the money. They have played superior ball than their American League opponents, but it is possible that the White Sox will come back strong on their home grounds. Everything will depend on their pitchers, and unless young Kerr, Gleason's sensational port slider, comes across and registers a win, it will be hard for the Chicago team to catch the Reds. Nervousness seemed to be the downfall of both Gleason and Williams and the eyes of fandom will be on Kerr, the youngest twirler of the trio, when he steps on the rubber. While in Cincinnati the Chicago team were naturally playing at a disadvantage, the grounds being strange and the vast majority of fans hostile, but when they reach Comiskey Park they should tighten up and give a better account of themselves. If the team was hitting and scoring runs weak pitching might get by, but otherwise crack twirling alone will be the factor to decide the world's championship.

If Gleason sends Kerr to the mound today he will in all probability secure a cotta back tomorrow. For he seems to have no other choice. Cletzie is asking for another chance and register a win, it will be hard for the Chicago team to catch the Reds. Nervousness seemed to be the downfall of both Gleason and Williams and the eyes of fandom will be on Kerr, the youngest twirler of the trio, when he steps on the rubber. While in Cincinnati the Chicago team were naturally playing at a disadvantage, the grounds being strange and the vast majority of fans hostile, but when they reach Comiskey Park they should tighten up and give a better account of themselves. Ben Muffins.
Roger W. Babson of the department of labor said at a dinner in Washington:—
"Speaking of labor, it has been a tough job to eat some of the health foods that were turned out during the war."
"A young lady said to a young man at a Washington dinner:—
"Are you the same young man who ate so many of my brain muffins at the Red Cross tea last fall?"
"No," he answered, "and what's more, the doctor says I never will be!"
The manager of a big downtown hotel in Cleveland, O., telephoned to the police station recently thus: "I wish you would send a plain clothes man to watch me here. There's a suspicious character loafing in front of the hotel." So they sent two detectives over. And when the detectives arrived on the other side of the street one said to the other: "Now, I'll go over and brace the guy and you just stroll past a few times until I need you." And then the first detective went over and carefully entered into conversation with the stranger. "Pretty hot, ain't it?" asked the minion of the law. "Yep," answered the stranger pleasantly. "It does get hot in Cleveland, don't it?" "Stranger in town?" "Yep. Come from Aurora. Had a little time off—trashin's all done—and thought I'd come up and see the sights." By the time the other detective had strolled past for the third time and the stranger noticed him. "Who's that feller hangin' around here?" he asked. "Why," answered the detective in a kidding vein, "that's Francis X. Bushman, the movie actor. Why?" "Why?" answered the stranger. "I'm kinder green 'an I was fool enough to think he was another one of you detectives!"

HANSEN LED PITCHERS IN CITY LEAGUE

HAD 118 STRIKE OUTS

Beatey Tied in Single Game Record, Lawlor Was Second in Number of Strike Outs and Beatey Third—Seely Was Second in Number of Games Won

According to figures compiled from the box scores of the St. John Baseball League, furnished by the official scorer, John Coughlin, Ray Hansen, pitcher for St. Peter's team, led the league pitchers in the number of games won, and also in the number of strikeouts. He won fourteen games out of sixteen and had a total of 118 strikeouts, an average of seven and three-eighths per game. Beatey of the Carleton nine tied the leader for a record number of strikeouts in one game, each having thirteen to their credit. Lawlor of the Y. M. C. I. came second in strikeouts, having a grand total of forty-two, with Beatey third with forty-one. Seely came second in the number of games won, clinching three out of four.

The list does not include those who worked in less than three games or those who acted as relief pitchers in a few games. Mr. Coughlin is now working on the batting and fielding averages of the Y. M. C. I., Carleton and Fairview teams and will have them ready for publication in a few days. The task is an arduous one as he was unavoidably absent in a couple of games and he has to go over the figures of the substitute scorers carefully. His work during the season was most commendable and the figures recently published gives the fans an idea of the amount of work involved. The following is the list showing the records of the pitchers:—
