

While it is desirable that students should complete their literary studies before entering upon their Theological course, the terms of affiliation allow them to combine these, exemptions in the University curriculum being granted to students of affiliated Theological Colleges. Considerable extension in the matter of options and exemptions has recently been introduced into the regulations of the University. (See McGill College Calendar for 1884-85.)

MATRICULATION AND ADMISSION.

The Senate of the Presbyterian College, having full knowledge of the nature of the training given, and the religious influence exerted on students in the McGill University, confidently recommend parents to send their sons to it, whether they are designed for the Christian Ministry or for any other learned profession; and for the guidance of young men who may desire to enter the course in Arts, the following extract is made from the Calendar of the University:—

1. Candidates for matriculation as Undergraduates are required to present themselves to the Vice-Dean of the Faculty on the 15th of September for examination; they may, however, enter after the commencement of the session, if on examination, found qualified to join the classes.

The subjects of examination for entrance into the First year are Classics, Mathematics, and English.

In Classics—Greek—Xenophon, Anabasis, Book I.; or Homer, Iliad, Book I.; Greek Grammar.

Latin—Cicero, Orations I. and II. against Cataline; or Virgil, Æneid, Book I.; Latin Grammar. Equivalent authors or books may be accepted by the examiners, in either Greek or Latin.

In Mathematics—Arithmetic; Algebra, to Simple Equations, inclusive; Euclid's Elements, Books I., II., III.

In English—Writing from Dictation and Grammar; a paper on English Grammar, including Analysis; a paper on the leading events of English History.
