A BANNER LOAD OF LOGS; NEW BRUNSWICKERS INTERESTED

The photograph reproduced here is that of the largest load of logs ever hauled on sleds by horses. It was hauled fifteen miles by six horses at J. A. Irvine & Company's camp for the Thief River Falls Lumber Company, Pine Island, Koochiching County, Minnesota, March 4, 1909.

The load is twelve to fifteen times as great as the usual load in the New Brunswick lumber woods, where 3500 to 4000 feet is a big load. This load contained 50,580 feet. The traction engines on the Upper St. John will haul only about 25,000 feet, or less half the total number of feet in this load.

Phil. Irvine was in command of the crew handling this load, James Crotty, of Stanley, N. B., was the teamster and Charles Harmon and Sam Morgan loaders. E. H. Moore, was scaler. Mr. Irvine is a St. John man. The photo was taken by L. H. Halverson, photographer of Blackduck, Minnesota.

THE LOG RECORD FOR 1909.

GIRL HOLDS CANOE UPSET WITH FOUR

New York, June 2.—Milly James, daughter of Frederick H. James, a long distance swimmer, proved yesterday that there was something in her when a party of four, including her father and herself, were swamped in a canoe in the Hudson River.

Instead of becoming hysterical or in any way frightened Miss James, who is an excellent swimmer, caught hold of the frail craft and held it not only until the others could reach it, and support themselves, but long enough to permit her father to gather up the paddles and everything else that was in the boat.

When they got on shore she said: "Not a sandwich lost."

Mr. James, who lives at No. 615 West 158th street; Miss James, George Elger, of No. 223 East Tenth street, and George Esselborn, a member of the Bathgate Swimming Club, started in the canoe, an eighteen foot craft called the Ruth, for an outing at the foot of the Fallades, opposite Yorkers, carrying with them a basket of lunch. There was a strong breeze blowing, and they intended to work up along the Jersey shore, but half way across the river water began to get into the boat. In spite of this they were making good headway toward quieter waters, when an excursion steamer came along, and the first swell from it broke over the canoe and capsized it.

The girl instantly made for the boat and kept it up while her father and Esselborn went to the aid of Elger, who is not a strong swimmer. Mr. James collected the floating goods. While they were in the water two large launches passed up the river within fifty feet of them, but without offering help. On the contrary, a man on one of them shouted derisively: "We'll be back next week."

The tide was going down and the party drifted to a point opposite 135th street, where Charles P. Holland and Charles B. Caldwell, members of the New Colonial Yacht Club, put out in launches and threw a rope to the group. This was passed around Miss James and she was hauled aboard, the others following, none the worse for the ducking.

FREDERICTON NEWS

Fredricton, June 2.—T. B. Kildner, director of manual training, left this morning for St. Martins, where he will attend a public meeting this evening to discuss manual training.

The contract for asphalt to be used in city work this year was awarded by the city council last evening to the Robert Reford Co., Ltd., of St. John, at $20 per ton f. o. b. at Fredericton.

The contract for tar was awarded to James S. Neil, at $2.50 per barrel. Rev. H. C. Fraser, of Grand Falls, Rev. Thomas McDonald, of Fosterville, York Co., and Rev. Rufus S. Underwood, of Milltown, have been authorized to solemnize marriages.

The Royal Gazette today contains notice of application of Albert E. Wry Henry C. Reed, Aubrey C. Smith, Arelis Anderson, Charles N. Black, W. Clare Wry and C. G. Avard, of Sackville, for incorporation as the A. E. Wry Co., Ltd., to carry on harness and leather business of Mr. Wry of Sackville. The proposed authorized capital is $48,000.

AN EYE REMOVED
Bandmaster F. H. Jones yesterday morning underwent an operation by means of which one of his eyes was removed. An operation for cataract was performed about two months ago, but complications developed and the removal of the organ was found necessary. The operation was quite successful, and Mr. Jones is doing as well as could be expected. Mr. Jones' service medal arrived Tuesday, and it was feared for a time, while the result of the operation was still problematical, that he might not be able to see it, but while the remaining eye is also affected the sight will still be fairly good.

WEDDINGS

Robinson-Sills.
Geneva, New York, June 2.—The wedding of Mr. Harold Beverley Robinson, of St. John, and Miss Mary Neely Sills took place this afternoon in Trinity church. The church, the most beautiful in Western New York, with its wonderful veranda of carved Canadian stone, was decorated with white lilies, peonies and roses, and as the invitations numbered several hundred, was crowded with waiting guests before the hour arrived.

Promptly at 3.30, to the strains of Lohegrin's Wedding Hymn, sung by the choir, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Kenneth Charles Morton Sills. Preceded by the ushers, Mr. Heber Vroom, Mr. Courtland Robinson, Mr. Fred R. Taylor, St. John, Mr. McRobison, Mr. Norneworthy, Montreal; Mr. Thomas C. Carson, Geneva, and Mr. E. Raymond Plumb, New York, and by her bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Wright, Portland, Maine; Miss Mabelle Houghton, Geneva; Miss McMillan, St. John; Misses Wells, Geneva, Misses Rose, Geneva, and Miss Vera Robinson, sister of the groom, maid of honor. The groom, attended by Mr. Gerald Farrell, of Montreal, his best man, was awaiting her. The bride's gown was of white satin, draped bodice and sleeves of duchess lace, court train, tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a magnificent shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley and wore a diamond and pearl pendant, both gifts of the groom. The bridesmaids' dresses were of sheer white batiste over pink silk, yoke and sleeves of fine tulle net, made princely and trimmed with Irish lace and touches of pink satin; large picture hats of pink yeta straw, trimmed with pink peonies, and they carried sheaf bouquets of pink peonies tied with tulle. The maid of honor's gown was of pink silk over lousine silk, trimmed with maltese lace, yoke and sleeves of white tulle net; hat of pink yeta straw, trimmed with roses and chiffon, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom's gift to the ushers were silver card cases, and the bride presented her bridesmaids with each a gold watch chain, and carried a box containing a ring, thimble, etc., lucky emblems for the bridal party. As the bride ascended the stairs she turned and threw her bouquet amongst the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left at 5 o'clock on an automobile trip. The bride's going away costume was of green tulle, trimmed with Oriental embroidery, long coat to match, with hat of Milan straw, black velvet ribbon and roses. One of the picturesque features of the wedding was the pretty garden of the rectory to the church.

Some of the Costumes.
Mrs. Sills, mother of the bride, wore lavender satin with draped bodice, trimmed with lavender embroidery; toque of wistaria, and carried a bouquet of mauve sweet peas. Mrs. John Morris Robinson, mother of the groom, wore a princess gown of black crepe de chine with passementerie and chiffon yoke and sleeves, sequin toque, and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. Miss Mollie Robinson, sister of the groom, wore champagne colored long robe, with gold embroidery, picture hat of champagne straw with pale blue plumes. Miss Nora Robinson, sister of the groom, wore pink flowered mousseline de sole, val lace, with picture hat with pale rose plumes. The ushers during their stay in Geneva were the guests of Mrs. Charles Delamater Vall, at her beautiful country home, Fairfield, where Monday evening her daughter, Miss Mabelle Houghton, entertained the bridal party of eighteen at dinner. On Tuesday Miss Christine Rose gave a luncheon, and after the rehearsal on Tuesday evening Miss Elizabeth Rose held an informal reception for the bride and groom and their party.

The presents were most beautiful, numbering hundreds, testifying in some degree to the popularity of the

GIRL OFFERS HERSELF FOR $250,000

In days of gallantry, and such, it didn't matter very much. (Or so the story books will state the case.) How much a loving swain could prove his offered for a maiden love. For love was all in all, and money base.

The age of chewing gum and rat just had no use for all that. The swain must pay to win the race he runs. In joust or war he may be great—That doesn't help him with his fate. It's how he ranks in Bradstreet's, or in Dun's.

San Francisco, May 31.—Any bachelor with a quarter of a million dollars to invest in a helpmate can purchase one at Menlo Park. The girl who offers herself is Miss Eliza Weeden, 23 years of age, and believes in business propositions entering into the marriage ceremony. Here is the advertisement which she has just inserted in a local paper:

No Fooling.
Wanted.—A man who is willing to buy a handsome wife, the price being one quarter of a million dollars; no triflers. And the address at Menlo Park follows.

Miss Weeden is the sister of W. W. Weeden, a local contractor, and she has framed up a list of specifications which must enter into the makeup of the man whom she ranks as a qualification. These are the necessary qualifications:

Age—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.
Height—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.
Complexion—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.
Character—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.
Social training—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.
Pedigree—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

Commercial Proposition.
It is just 35 miles from Menlo Park from this city, "just a trifle over the Marathon distance," she states, and she wishes it understood that plucked nickels will not purchase the wedding ring. "Apologues, and don't count at all," she declares. "I want a man with the quarter of a million. Let him appear here and show that he has the amount, and I will marry him. This is a commercial matter and I am a business woman. I put the advertisement in because I looked upon it as a good business investment."

Miss Weeden's friends maintain that she has had plenty of proposals, but declined them all on account of the fact that she wanted a man with the quarter of a million, and should he not appear she is certain, they say, to remain single.

Many guests from out of town were present, including Portland, New York, Rochester and Buffalo.

Miller-Bilzard.

The residence of Mr. F. W. Bilzard, 35 Grand street, was the scene of a happy event at 3.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when his daughter, Miss Winifred A., became the wife of Mr. George Norman Miller, of Montreal, now manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Barrie, Ont. The marriage service was conducted by Rev. Dr. Flanders, pastor of Centenary church, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. G. Campbell. The bride wore a beautiful costume of white chiffon satin embroidered in pearls, with veil of Brussels lace and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley made in the old style nosegay effect. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Bilzard, sister of the bride, and the maid of honor, her cousin, Miss Ethel McAvity, wore costumes of light blue and white. The groom wore a tuxedo, and carried a white prayer book. Miss Margaret Chisholm, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore fawn silk trimmed with blue satin and large picture hat to match. The bride was given away by Mr. Edward McDonald, her cousin. The groom was escorted by Mr. T. McCarthy. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother. The young couple left immediately after the breakfast for a honeymoon trip to New York and Boston via Yarmouth. The bride's travelling dress was a London smoke with gray hat with pink trimmings. The groom's gift to the bride was a suburn of pearls and to the bridesmaid a pearl ring. The presents received by the young couple were many and costly, consisting of silver, cut glass, furniture, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott will reside at 127 Broad street.

Green-Wilson.
At the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, 37 St. Peters street, at 6.30 yesterday morning, her daughter, Miss Mary E. Wilson, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry G. Green, Rev. Samuel Howard officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. J. E. Wilson. She wore a white serge dress with satin trimmings and a black picture hat. Her going-away dress was of Alice blue with hat to match. The wedding gifts were many and costly, including cut glass and silverware. The groom's present to the bride was a diamond

I. R. C. MAN KILLED.
Levis, Que., June 2.—Joseph Ancill, aged 23 years and unmarried, a brakeman in the employ of the I. R. C., was killed last evening in the Grand Trunk yard at Point Levis. He was shunted by the suburban train that runs between Chaudiere and this place at the time. It is not known exactly how the accident occurred, but it is thought Ancill tried to board the engine and slipped, falling under the wheels. The body was almost cut in two.
