

BROAD

Have you seen the new T-O-O-K-E Shirts, with the
T-O-O-K-E
PATENT
NEK-GARD
This is the latest improvement—and "the greatest thing that ever happened to a shirt."

Children's Go-Carts

The cut illustrates one of the famous "TOURIST" line of Collapsible Go-Carts, which are the strongest, and at the same time the simplest carts on the market.
The one illustrated, or any one of the dozen styles and models, can be folded in directly opposite the hubs of the wheels in the greatest strain, resulting in a look over our stock will convince you.

91 Charlotte St.

Steadily gaining ground in the New Brunswick market.

This whisky possesses certain qualities not found in any other.

You can buy it today from any dealer.

Mackay's

the foremost place for brands of whiskies on

Sold by all
St. John
Dealers

NACE CO'Y

Mechanical Consulting Engineers Specializing in the design and construction of all types of boilers, engines, pumps, and other mechanical appliances.

Our small heating plant of pale blue bluish is posed a perfect and a pleasant view of black point. Black velvet ribbon with pink rose posed on the side.

Our operation and efficiency of descriptions, Gas Engines, Loco-Pumps a specialty.

MARTIME PRINCE HAPPENINGS DAY BY DAY

MOUNT ALLISON CLOSING EXERCISES UNDER WAY

Opened on Friday and Continued Saturday—College Sermons Yesterday—Bad Weather Prevented Open Air Features of Programme on Saturday.

Special to The Standard.

Sackville, N. B., May 24.—The commencement exercises at Mount Allison were inaugurated yesterday afternoon in Charles Fawcett Memorial Hall, when the Junior recital was held. The work was advanced for Junior students and much appreciation was shown on the part of the audience. A violin solo by Miss Ray Ferguson was especially good, while the piano solo by Miss Sadie Smith, of Red Deer, Alta., showed excellent work in shading and technique. Miss Myrtle Stanley represented the oratory department and her rendition of "The Mustard Plaster" was good.

The following programme was successfully carried out:

Part I.
Song, A May Morning, Denza—Miss Vessie Taylor, Little Shmooque, N. B.
Oratory, Sombre, Anon—Miss M.
Murray, Albert, Albert Co., N. B.
Violin Solo, (a) Blumberg Song, Hauser; (b) Moto Perpetuo, Bohn—Miss Ray Ferguson, Souris, P. E. I.
Piano Solo, An den Fruhlings, Alber—Miss Sadie Smith, Red Deer, Alberta.
Song, An Open Secret, H. Woodman
—Miss Hazel Mowat, Campbellton, N. B.
Oratory, "The Mustard Plaster," Anon—Miss Myrtle Stanley, Glace
Bay, N. S.

Part II.

Quartette for Strings, "Serenade," F. Violin, Misses Ferguson and Armstrong; II Violin, Misses Burns and McKinnon; III Violin, Miss Moss, IV
Violin, Miss Whitman.
Song, "Rose in the Bud," D. Foster—
Miss Carolyn Gillmour, St. George, N. B.
Piano Solo, "Invitation to the Waltz," Weber—Miss Ila Marsten, Meductic, N. B.
Air, Elia's Dream, Wagner—Miss
Dorothy Sutherland, Charlottetown, P. E. I.
Oratory, Scene from Hamlet, Shakespeare—Junior Class.
Piano Duet (for two pianos) Theme and Variations, Saint-Saens—Misses McCarthy, Moncton, and Trappell, St.
John's, Nfld.

Friday evening a good crowd attended the first performance of the Boston Sixtette, the well-known musical organization of Boston. The concert was a high class one and frequent and hearty applause testified to the appreciation of the audience. The Sixtette was headed by Misses Fryette and Smith, assisted by the vocal instrument of Mount Allison Conservatory of Music, rendering a number of solos and duets in a most artistic and pleasing manner.

Among the visitors who have so far arrived are the following:—Judge Johan, Sussex; W. H. Outerbridge, Moncton; J. B. Hayes, Halifax, K. S.; Schoomb, Middleton, N. S.; Frank
Lawrence, Hantsport, N. S.; W. H.
Irving, Moncton; C. G. McDougall, Moncton; Mrs. Clark, St. George, N. S.; Miss Pickup, Granville Ferry; Miss Bond, Halifax; Miss Tuttle, Dartmouth; Miss Charnock, St. John's;
Mr. S. Blenkins, Canning, N. S.; Miss Bartlett, Ronald Macdonald, St.
John; Miss Annie Fuller, Yarmouth; Miss Marsters, Windsor, N. S.; Miss Gertrude Borden Wolcott; Charles Robb Alberta College, Edmonton; Miss Thomas, Annapolis; Miss Lillian Fleisher, Chatham; Mrs. McCormick, Mrs.
DeBello, Annapolis; Mrs. Hensley, Summerside; Mrs. Webster, Sheldice; Miss Kate Cowie, Liverpool, N. S.; Mrs. George, Kentville; Miss Christie, Windsor; Miss Dora Thomas, South Milford, N. S.; Miss Myrtle McLeod, Moncton; Mrs. Fred Magee, Port Elgin; Miss Tait, Shediac; Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Chatham; Mrs. E. Williams, Miss Elsie Williams, St. John's; Mrs. W. H. Rafuse, Bridgeport, N. S.; A. T. Carter, and wife Glace Bay; Mrs. C. B. Lockhart, Mrs. F. E. Williams, Miss Elsie Williams, St. John's; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Clarke, Bear River,
N. S.; J. L. Clarke, St. George, W. H.
Carson, Moncton; Charles A. Rots, Wallace, N. S.; Mrs. O. M. Tuttle, Mr. G. Thompson, Oxford N. S.; Mrs.
A. P. Provse, Murray Harbor, P. E. I.

Special to The Standard.
Sackville, May 24.—Rain interfered with various events announced to take place here today. The physical cul-

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food refused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disappear, but I began to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butterbur. Sold by all druggists and grocers. 25c. per box or five for $1.00. Sent postpaid by The Cataractine Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

More Praise for Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-
starvation and brought me to the
verge of nervous collapse. Tonic
were useless to restore an active de-
sire for food. The doctors told me
my liver and kidneys were both at
fault, but the medicines they gave me
were too severe and reduced my
strength so that I had to abandon them.
At the suggestion of a friend who
had been cured of blood and skin
trouble, I began the use of Dr. Ham-
ilton's Pills. The difference I first
noticed was that while they cleaned
the system, instead of feeling weaker,
I felt better after taking them. In-
deed their activity was so mild it was
easy to forget I had taken them at
all; they seemed to go right to the
liver, and in a very brief time not
only did all source of nausea disap-
pear, but I began to crave food and I
digested it reasonably well. Then I
began to put on weight until within
three months I was brought to a con-
dition of good health. I urge Dr.
Hamilton's Pills for all who are in
poor health."

The Daily Hint from Paris.

For a period last summer the
thought of food excited feelings of
horror, writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of
Bloombury. "The heat had made me
listless and the distaste for food re-
fused me to a condition of semi-starvation and brought